

ESRC studentships

for 2012-13 entry

The University is offering 16 ESRC fully-funded studentships worth up to £18,000 for talented postgraduates within our Doctoral Training Centre.

Collaborative co-funded studentships are also available.

We particularly encourage applications in:

- economic and social research
- economics and econometrics
- finance
- politics and international relations
- research using advanced quantitative methods
- research involving collaboration with public, private or third sector organisations

We also encourage applications in:

- criminology and socio-legal research
- environmental governance
- health and organisational research
- human rights
- language and linguistics
- management and accounting
- psychoanalytic studies
- sociology and social change

All studentships are open to Home and EU students.
