

University of Essex

APPOINTMENT OF
COUNCIL MEMBERS 2019

WELCOME

The University of Essex was named University of the Year at the Times Higher Education Awards in November 2018.

We're ranked in the top 30 of The Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide 2019 in which we're also ranked 25th for research quality. We were awarded the top gold rating in the Government's Teaching Excellence Framework in 2017.

The 2018 National Student Survey results placed Essex top 15 for the sixth year consecutively for overall student satisfaction (English mainstream universities*).

Confirming our global reputation, the Times Higher Education World University Rankings 2019 placed Essex in the top 300 in the world and 14th for international outlook, while the QS World University Rankings ranked us 25th for the most international student community. We're ranked in the top 50 for social sciences in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings by Subject and ranked in the top 50 for politics and sociology in the QS World University Rankings by Subject.

Essex is one of only 11 universities ranked in the top 25% for both research quality (Research Excellence Framework 2014) and the quality of our education (Teaching Excellence Framework) and we are proud to be a University equally committed to excellence in research and education.

Essex is also the highest ranked university for social inclusion out of the top 30 universities in The Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide.

The University has an annual turnover of £222 million and 16,000 students at our campuses in Colchester

* Non-specialist higher education institutions with a survey population of at least 500.

THE UNIVERSITY - PURPOSE AND VISION

The purpose of our University is to contribute to society through excellence in education and research. Achieving excellence in both education and research and ensuring that all of our activities support these two equal priorities, lies at the heart of all that we do.

Our commitment is to offer our students a transformational educational experience, encompassing both academic and the extra-curricular activities, which provides them with the opportunity to fulfil their potential as individuals. We believe that our students are members of our living and learning community, with a licence to shape what goes on around them at the University and a responsibility for their own development as learners and globally engaged citizens. Our staff are committed to achieving excellence in education by providing intellectually stimulating programmes of study, that are research-led and which are based on creative approaches to learning and teaching that reflect our commitment to innovation in curriculum design and delivery.

Our commitment to research that has global impact also informs all that we do. Our broadly based research across our three faculties (Humanities, Social Sciences and Science and Health) encompasses both deep subject expertise as well as peaks of interdisciplinary excellence. For example, research in political science and international relations at the University of Essex has consistently been rated the best in the UK in every Government sponsored assessment of research quality, while researchers from across the University contribute to our ground-breaking work in human rights, quantitative social science, and data analytics.

We are proud of our track record of business engagement. Our commitment to this area has been consolidated by a £50m investment in our science and research park, the Knowledge Gateway, 43 acres of parkland which is an integral part of our Colchester Campus. Building on our world leading expertise in data science, we are making significant investments in business focused data analytics, having created an Institute of Analytics and Data Science which is based on the Knowledge Gateway. We opened our £23 million Essex Business School on the Knowledge Gateway in the summer of 2015, with a remit to engage with small and medium sized businesses that can benefit from close links with our academic community, our research facilities and business development activities.

The latest phase of the Parkside Office Village has opened and is already fully let. We are delighted with the way that many tenants are working with the University's academic staff on research projects and also recruiting our students and graduates, providing employment and internships.

Our £12 million Innovation Centre will open in 2019 at the heart of the Knowledge Gateway. This will support 50 innovative businesses including student start-ups to establish themselves and will include a world class media and digital lab. Confident about demand, further phases of development are being planned. The Knowledge Gateway is routinely highlighted as a model for university-business interaction in the UK.

The Colchester Campus, Essex's largest and original site, is set in 200 acres of parkland. It incorporates teaching buildings, shops, banks, a gallery and theatre, bars and cafes, and sufficient student accommodation to house all first year students studying at Colchester. The East 15 Acting School – founded by Joan Littlewood and one of the top acting conservatoires in the UK – is in Loughton on London Underground's Central Line. The University's newest campus in Southend's bustling high street opened in 2007 and houses parts of Essex Business School, the School of Health and Social Care, East 15 Acting School and the Department of Psychosocial and Psychoanalytic Studies.

We continue to grow our academic offer, with four new departments established in the past year – the School of Sport, Rehabilitation and Exercise Sciences, the School of Health and Social Care, the Department of Psychosocial and Psychoanalytic Studies and the Edge Hotel School.

In addition we have more than 1,600 students registered on University of Essex Online degrees and have a wide range of courses offered in partnership with Kaplan in Singapore. We also have a strategic education and research partnerships with Northwest University, Xi'an, China.

These are exciting times for the University of Essex and we are keen to identify new members of our University Council who share our ambitions and values and can make a significant contribution to ensuring our continued success.

Professor Anthony Forster
Vice-Chancellor

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR OF COUNCIL

Thank you for your interest in becoming a member of the University of Essex. We are seeking to enhance the expertise and diversity of our University Council through the recruitment of new Council Members.

This is an exciting time to join the University as we grow our student numbers; enhance the transformational impact of our educational and research activities on the lives of students and on society at large; improve our financial resilience and headroom for continued investment; and build our reputation and the standing of our University.

We are seeking outstanding individuals with the requisite intellectual capacity, commercial acumen and strategic insight to support us in shaping our transformational agenda. You will be committed to working constructively, in a non-Executive capacity, with the University's Vice-Chancellor and senior team in shaping the next stage of development of the University of Essex.

Our campuses have benefitted from substantial investment in recent years, enabling our academic staff base and student population to grow. In September 2018, new student accommodation opened on our Colchester campus to respond to growing demand; our Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) Centre opened to staff and students and our £12m Innovation Centre will launch in 2019 to drive forward our support for start-ups. Our ambition remains undiminished and by 2025 we aim to be a community of over 1000 researchers and 20,000 students all looking to make the world a better place.

Thank you for your interest in joining our University.

Judith Judd
Chair of Council

UNIVERSITY GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT STRUCTURE

COUNCIL

The University Council is the University's governing body, responsible for setting the University's overall strategic direction and providing oversight of delivery against the objectives set out in the University's Strategic Plan and the University's statutory and other obligations.

The Council is entrusted with the proper conduct of University business in line with its Statement of Primary Responsibilities and the requirements of the Charter and Statutes.

There are 25 members of Council, the majority of whom are neither staff nor students of the University.

Council delegates some of its powers to other bodies and individuals as appropriate and in accordance with the Formal Delegation of Powers. Much of the work of the Council is carried out through formally constituted committees and sub-committees, including the following:

- Audit and Risk Management Committee
- Nominations Committee
- Investment Sub-Committee
- Resources Committee
- Remuneration Committee
- People Supporting Strategy Committee
- Honorary Degrees and Honorary Fellowships Committee
- University Steering Group

SENATE

The Senate is the supreme academic authority of the University and is accountable to Council.

The role of Senate is to promote the academic work of the University both in teaching and research and regulate and supervise education and student discipline. It has 57 members drawn from the academic and professional staff of the University, and is chaired by the Vice-Chancellor.

The membership, functions and operations of the Senate are governed by the Ordinances.

UNIVERSITY STEERING GROUP

The University Steering Group (USG) is chaired by the Vice-Chancellor and is the University's executive leadership team. USG meets fortnightly during term time and advises the Vice-Chancellor on matters relating to the management of the University.

USG supports the Vice-Chancellor in preparing and recommending to Council the University's Strategic Plan with its associated Strategies and Supporting Strategies and the annual budget, staffing and other resource plans. USG provides leadership in the implementation of the University's Strategic plan and the policies agreed by Council.

As part of the University's commitment to equality and diversity within and beyond its community, individual members of USG also act as diversity champions in relation to each of the nine protected characteristics.

Academic members of USG also spend 20 per cent of their time undertaking research at the highest level and maintaining and developing their research careers.

ACADEMIC ORGANISATION

The University has 21 departments organised into three faculties of Humanities, Social Sciences and Science and Health. Each faculty is headed by an Executive Dean who is responsible for the strategic leadership and management of the Faculty including devolved responsibility for financial management.

EXTERNAL MEMBER OF COUNCIL

ROLE DESCRIPTION FOR MEMBERS OF COUNCIL

Term of Office:	Three years, or such lesser period as the Council may in individual cases determine. Members shall be eligible for further appointment, normally for a further period of three years and a maximum total of nine years.
Time commitment:	Approximately 12 days a year.
Remuneration:	Travel and subsistence expenses only.
Appointment:	By Council on the recommendation of the Nominations Committee.

NATURE AND SCOPE OF THE ROLE

1 The Council is the principal governing body of the University of Essex and exercises oversight and control over the University and its affairs. In addition to being members of the University's governing body, Council members also carry the responsibilities of Trustees of the University as an exempt charity. Whether external or internal, all members of Council have equal standing, with a majority of the Council's members being from outside the University. The external members - contribute a wide range of experience from the public and private sectors. Internal members help relate Council's oversight and control over the University and its affairs to the experience of working in the University. The specific powers of Council are set out in a Statement of Primary Responsibilities (attached as Appendix 1).

2 The role of all members of the Council is similar to that of the non-executive directors of companies. Council members do not hold executive authority for the University's operations. They bring to the Council's deliberations a wide range of knowledge and expertise to complement the executive management responsibilities of the Vice-Chancellor and the University's senior office holders.

3 Membership of Council requires acceptance of collective responsibility for the decisions reached by Council. Members exercise their responsibilities in the interests of the University as a whole, and no member of Council should act in a way that represents any particular internal or external constituency.

4 All members are invited to join Council for a three-year term and during this period may be asked to serve on one or more of the Council Committees. Council members are expected to play a full part in the business of all Committees to which they are appointed. External members of Council may be eligible for further periods of appointment up to a maximum of 9 years.

5 Council recognises the benefit to the University of the membership of Council encompassing a diverse range of perspectives and enabling access to the skills and expertise necessary to discharge the responsibilities of the Council

6 More specifically, Council members have responsibility for:

- (a) Ensuring that Council exercises control over the strategic direction of the University, through agreement of a Strategic Plan, establishment of an effective planning process, and that the performance of the University is adequately assessed against the objectives which Council has approved.
- (b) Establishing constructive but challenging working relationships with the University senior officers, at the same time recognising the proper separation between governance and executive management, and avoiding involvement in the day-to-day executive management of the University.
- (c) Ensuring that Council conducts itself in accordance with accepted standards of behaviour in public life, embracing selflessness, integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness, honesty and leadership.
- (d) Ensuring that members make a full and timely disclosure of personal interests to the Secretary in accordance with the procedures approved by Council. They must as soon as practicable disclose any interest which they have in any matter under discussion and accept the ruling of the Chair of Council in relation to the management of that situation, in order that the integrity of the business of Council and its Committees may be and may be seen to be maintained.

EXTERNAL MEMBER OF COUNCIL

- (e) Ensuring that Council exercises efficient and effective use of the resources of the University for the furtherance of its charitable purposes, maintains its long-term financial viability, and safeguards its assets, and that proper mechanisms exist to ensure financial control and for the prevention of fraud.
- (f) Representing the University externally, drawing on their personal influence and networking skills on behalf of the University, and where appropriate playing a role in liaising between key stakeholders and the University.

PERSONAL QUALITIES SOUGHT IN POTENTIAL MEMBERS OF COUNCIL

- (a) a strong personal commitment to the values, aims and objectives of the University.
- (b) the ability to at all times act fairly and impartially in the interests of the University as a whole, using independent judgement and maintaining confidentiality as appropriate to Council business.
- (c) a commitment to attend all meetings of Council, including away days and meetings of Committees of which they are a member.
- (d) a commitment to participate in induction activities arranged by the University and in appropriate training events.
- (e) capacity to contribute approximately 12 days a year to Council business including meetings, away days, induction and training, and where appropriate involvement in University business outside of the formal Council schedule.
- (f) the skills to analyse complex issues and the ability to make an effective contribution at a strategic level.
- (g) a willingness to use their skills and expertise to support the work of Council.
- (h) integrity, tact, discretion, independence and objectivity.
- (i) the ability to engage in constructive debate, rigorous challenge and effective decision-making.
- (j) strong interpersonal, communication and listening skills.
- (k) an understanding of the distinction between governance and executive management.
- (l) a willingness to support the University's commitment to sustaining an inclusive and diverse community that is open to all who have the potential to benefit from membership of it, which ensures equality of opportunity for all its members, and that treats all its members with equal respect and dignity at all times.

PRACTICAL ASPECTS OF THE ROLE

- (a) All members are expected to attend Council meetings, normally four times per year, one whole and two half day annual Council away days, and meetings of any Council Committees to which they are appointed. In addition, on a voluntary basis, Council members are invited to attend one or more of the Graduation Ceremonies and the annual meeting of Court.
- (b) Senior officers of the University aim to make good use of individual members of Council in areas where members have particular expertise, and a willingness to support the senior office holders in this way is valued.
- (c) The likely time commitment needed is up to the equivalent of 12 days a year.
- (d) Members of Council should be contactable by email, which is the principal means of contact by the Secretariat.
- (e) All meeting papers and resources will be made available to members electronically. Members are expected to review these in advance of each meeting.
- (f) Members must participate in procedures established by Council for the regular appraisal/ review of the performance of individual members.
- (g) Members should attend induction events arranged by the University and subsequently should participate in training events to allow members to discharge their duties.
- (h) The University supports all External Council or committee members who may wish to take a period of leave for family or caring responsibilities.
