

RECRUITMENT PACK

This document includes the following information:

- Job Description
- Person Specification
- Additional information

Making an application:

Please complete the short on-line application form and attach the following 5 documents:

- a) A covering letter setting out how you meet the requirements of the role as set out in the person specification.
- b) A full curriculum vitae (CV) including any publications. You should provide information on the range and content of your teaching and supervision experience, as well as on curriculum development. You should also specify your 4 most significant papers published within the past 5 years (or an equivalent number appropriate to being an early career researcher). Applicants from within the UK should indicate which publications have been submitted to the REF 2014 and any assessment of the rating for each piece of work; For more information about the REF visit www.ref.ac.uk
- c) An education statement of no more than two sides of A4 setting out your track record in terms of contribution to pedagogical developments and, where appropriate, the development of professional practice. You should also include a reflective statement on your approach to research-led education and how it draws on pedagogical research. Also indicate how you ensure your continuing professional development as an excellent teacher in higher education.
- d) A research statement of no more than two sides of A4 providing details of your research plans for the next three years. This should include details of books, chapters or papers in progress together with planned publication dates. For journal articles please provide details of target journals and planned submission dates. If you have papers that are currently under review please detail the stage these have reached and the timescale you expect those papers to be accepted for publication. If you have papers that have been accepted for publication but not yet published please provide the date the paper was accepted for publication.
- e) A document of no more than two sides of A4 setting out your three year plan for generating external funding to support your research.

Shortlisting is undertaken by a panel after the closing date on the basis of information provided and failure to upload the requested documents will result in an application being rejected.

We recommend that you take a copy of this recruitment pack to help with your preparation.

A commitment to sustaining an inclusive and diverse community is one of the University's Core Values and we are keen to address any imbalances in our workforce.

The University of Essex is proud to be part of the Disability Confident scheme and is committed to supporting diversity and equality, representative of our inclusive community. As part of our commitment to this scheme any candidate who has a disability and meets all the essential criteria for the role will be offered an interview. We also work in partnership with national disability organisation AccessAble who provide detailed online access guides to many of our campus buildings and facilities which you may find useful.

Please note: We are only accepting on-line applications for this post. However, if you have a disability that makes it difficult for you to provide us with information in this way, please contact the Resourcing Team (01206 876559) for help.

Closing Date: 30 August 2019

Interviews are planned for: 30th September 2019

| Hours: | A notional minimum of 36 hours per week |
| Salary: | £40,793 - £48,676 per annum |
| Department/Section: | School of Computer Science and Electronic Engineering (CSEE) |
| Responsible to: | Head of Department (HoD) |
| Purpose of role: | The School of CSEE is seeking two Lecturers, one in the area of Machine Learning for Communications and the other in Machine Learning for Network Security. You will deliver excellent research and education, generate research income, and contribute to the administration and management of the school and its local, regional and international profile. |

CONTEXT

The School of Computer Science and Electronic Engineering (CSEE) is a large and dynamic department in the Faculty of Science and Health. The School is internationally known for its research in a range of areas and offers an excellent education to its students. The Communications and Networks group is the largest research group in CSEE. The group is currently expanding and now wishes to appoint two Lecturers to further enhance its expertise and open up new research.

We are seeking Lecturers in two key areas: Machine Learning for Communications, and Machine Learning for Network Security. We are particularly looking for applicants who have expertise in machine learning and network security/privacy. The successful candidates will have a proven record/strong background in machine learning for solving communication problems including network security/privacy.

The successful candidates will be expected to carry out a programme of independent research in the areas of communications and networking leading to the publication of research articles or other research outputs, which can be returned under the Research Excellence Framework. The post also includes teaching undergraduate and postgraduate modules in electronic engineering and computer science.

Further information on our Communications and Networks research group can be found at: <https://www.essex.ac.uk/departments/computer-science-and-electronic-engineering/research/communications-and-networks>

We particularly welcome applications from those who identify as female or non-binary as they are under-represented in the School.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE POST

- To contribute to excellence in education by designing and delivering substantive and effective teaching and learning support, at undergraduate and postgraduate levels (e.g. curriculum development and review, assessment and feedback, research supervision, etc.) as agreed with the HoD.

- To engage in individual and/or collaborative research activity (resulting in internationally excellent publications) that is in keeping with REF criteria.
- To generate external research funding, including in collaboration with colleagues, appropriate in scale to career stage and subject area norms.
- To undertake leadership duties related to research and education appropriate to career stage and as allocated by the HoD.
- To enhance the scholarly reputation of the Department and the University by contact with the wider academic community and the dissemination of knowledge via public communication and other activities.
- To contribute expertise and knowledge to departmental and/or institutional initiatives as directed by their Head of Department.

MAIN DUTIES OF THE POST

Education

- To engage effectively in substantive teaching and learning support roles in the Department, and develop a broad understanding of how such activities contribute to high-quality student learning.
- To design, plan and deliver learning (modules, programmes of study, etc.) in creative and innovative ways appropriate to the subject area and level, taking into account department planning and priorities.
- To assess and feed back to learners (UG, PG, work-based, etc.) in evidence-informed ways appropriate to the subject and level.
- To supervise student projects, fieldwork and placements.
- To supervise postgraduate taught students appropriate for the discipline.
- To complete, within their probationary period (usually three years), a recognised higher education qualification or recognition process aligned with Descriptor 2 of the UKPSF (e.g. Fellowship of the Higher Education Academy).
- To contribute to faculty and departmental quality assurance procedures and quality enhancement initiatives to ensure that teaching and learning support meets the standards expected within a research-led university.

Research

- To develop a research agenda which pursues individual and/or collaborative research objectives and proposals of high quality that will as a minimum meet the University's expectations for future Research Exercise Framework (REF) exercises.
- In collaboration with colleagues as appropriate, identify sources of funding and contribute to the process of securing external research income appropriate to discipline norms.
- To produce research outputs for publication at acceptable levels of volume and academic excellence and disseminate the result of research and scholarship through appropriate Knowledge Exchange activities (such as at relevant national and international conferences and scholarly publications not intended for the REF).

- To contribute to generating societal impact beyond the academic sphere and to contribute to impact case studies in keeping with REF criteria.
- To supervise and mentor postgraduate research students into relevant communities of research at Essex as appropriate to the departmental context to generate meaningful connections between research and education at Essex.

Leadership and Citizenship

- To undertake leadership of specific areas of organisational activity within the department (e.g. recruitment, admissions, acting as undergraduate or postgraduate director) as may be reasonably required by the HoD.
- To play an active and constructive role in the Department and engage in activities beyond your own research and education duties, (e.g. admissions or undergraduate recruitment, etc.), as may be reasonably required by the HoD.
- To undertake peer mentoring of colleagues on the request of the HoD.
- To participate in, build and develop internal and external networks and establish links with relevant academic and professional bodies, contacts and employers.
- To engage in continuing professional development in relevant subjects/disciplines and their pedagogy, incorporating the outcomes from research, scholarship and the evaluation of professional practice.
- To produce papers, articles, reports or other publications on aspects of professional practice as appropriate to career stage and discipline norms.
- To ensure knowledge and skills relevant to the profession are up-to-date and applied in education, research and leadership/citizenship.

These duties are a guide to the work that the post holder will initially be required to undertake. They may be changed from time to time to meet changing circumstances.

General information

The University is clear in its commitment to individual contribution and to ensuring people are able to work in a way that suits them best within the limits laid down by the University and by their role. If you are interested in this role but would need to work in an approach that is not full-time, you are encouraged to apply for this post and will have the opportunity to discuss your preferred working pattern if you are selected for interview.

Informal enquiries may be made to Professor Anthony Vickers, Head of School (telephone: 01206 872 876 e-mail: vicka@essex.ac.uk). However, all applications must be made online.

At the University of Essex we use consistent language and terminology that articulates more clearly the responsibilities for education, research and leadership/citizenship associated with each academic role. This will help new colleagues to understand the University values from the moment they engage either as an applicant or new colleague, and help them to understand the future career pathways available to them as they become more established in their role.

We advertise our salaries on a range to indicate the trajectory of progression that can be made. Appointments are usually made at the start of the salary range. The university salary structure includes automatic pay progression within the published grades, subject to service and performance. In addition to this, there are performance related annual pay review schemes in place.
