

Draft Outline for a new BA in Human Rights

Proposed structure and composition – for discussion

First year

HU100-4-FY	Foundations in Human Rights
HU101-4-AU	Human Rights Institutions: international and regional organisations (new module)
HU102-4-SP	Historical Development of Human Rights (new module, but Cf. History module – HR291-5-AU Human Rights in Historical Perspective)
GV100-4-FY	Introduction to Politics

Plus one full year outside option

Second year

HU200-5-FY	Issues and Methods in Human Rights
LW215-5-FY	Public International Law
PY401-5-FY	Philosophy and Rights

Plus a total of 30 further credits from a range of appropriate modules from L&M, Humanities and Social Sciences

Third year

HU300-6-FY	Human Rights Colloquium
HU301-6-SP	Right Skills for Rights (Vocational module)
HU302-6-AU	Human Rights Dissertation (new module)

Plus a total of 60 further credits from range of appropriate modules from L&M, Humanities and Social Sciences; for example:

HU321-6-AU	Contemporary Issues and Debates in Human Rights & Cultural Diversity (UG version of existing PG module)
HU322-6-SP	Human Rights in the Asia-Pacific Region (UG version of approved PG module)

HU323-6-AU The International Protection of Indigenous Peoples
(UG version of approved PG module)

LW301-6-FY Jurisprudence

PY413-6-FY Contemporary Political Philosophy

GV536-6-FY Human Rights and Political Theory

GV544-6-FY Problems of Global Justice

GV545-6-SP Democracy, Citizenship and Constitutions

GV591-6-FY Environmental Politics

HR288-5-SP In Slavery: The African American Experience

HR260-5-AU Dictators and Politics in Latin America: from Bolivar to Chavez

LG474-6-SP Language Rights

SC386-6-FY Anthropology of Latin America: Race, Gender and Identity

SC387-6-FY War and Trauma in the Modern Age

Andrew Fagan
May 2011