Welcome to the School of Philosophical, Historical, and Interdisciplinary Studies!

A very warm welcome to the academic community of the School of Philosophical, Historical, and Interdisciplinary Studies (PHAIS), which includes Philosophy, History, Art History, and Interdisciplinary Studies (Global Studies, American Studies, Liberal Arts, European Studies, Latin American Studies, and Social Change).

In PHAIS, we pride ourselves on being a close-knit community, one where lecturers know the names of their students and there are lots of opportunities for you as students to take an active role in shaping your university experience. We have a friendly Professional Services Team who are always willing to help you, whether to offer guidance on your degree programme and module options, provide general support and information about the University or advise you on where to go to get the best advice. You can find them on level 6, close to Thomas' Room (our Common Room).

Please bookmark this handbook as it contains lots of useful information about all aspects of your studies here at Essex; and of course, if you still have any questions then please do not hesitate to get in touch with us.

Very best wishes for your time at Essex!

Introduction

Your Student Handbook will tell you everything you need to know about your department, the University, its academic policies and procedures, and all of the resources that are available to you.

At Essex we put the success of our students at the heart of everything we do, and want to support you to achieve outstanding outcomes. We are absolutely determined to provide you with the best Essex education and student experience we can, while safeguarding your health and wellbeing.

We celebrate diversity and challenge inequality. We are a truly diverse community where differences are celebrated, and individuality is valued. Your contribution is welcomed and encouraged based on your own thoughts and experiences. As part of our community you will have the freedom to explore, experiment, challenge your discipline and have your ideas shaped by peer and professional knowledge from all over the world. Essex is about more than just getting a degree: we have so much to offer our students.

Things might have to change and adapt over the year, so make sure that you're checking online and keeping in touch with your department for the latest updates. The Student Directory contains a wealth of other helpful sources of information which you may also find useful.

Practicalities and Getting Started

Registration (New Students)

As a new student, you must complete the registration process in order to begin your studies with us. Registration is not only a formal procedure of enrolling you into the University, but also, connects you to a number of vital systems which allow you to access your online Welcome and Induction information and start your studies. Because of this, you'll be asked to complete compulsory steps, such as activating your Essex IT account, provide key information about you as part of Online Registration (including payment of fees where required), complete online Right to Study checks and attend an in-person Right to Study Check on campus where you will collect your Student Registration Card. Once you've completed these steps, you'll be able to begin attending teaching and engage with your course.

You should ensure you have completed the registration process, including payment of your fees \(where required\) by the published Latest Registration Deadline for your course. If you do not do this, you may not be allowed to register and begin your course with us.

Registration (Returning Students)

As a returning student, you will need to ensure you complete Online Registration and pay your fees (if required to do so) at the start of each academic year to be able to continue your studies with us. It is essential that you complete all required steps, by the published Latest Registration Deadline, otherwise you may not be allowed to continue your studies with us.

If you are a student undertaking studies with us with a form of immigration permission, in some instances you may be required to undertake an additional Right to Study Check, before being permitted to re-register. This may be the case if one or more of your documents have expired, or your immigration status has changed. You will be contacted by our International Services Team, if you need to complete an additional check.

Right to Study

The University must ensure all students have the right to study at the University of Essex for the whole duration of their course. If you aren't a UK or Irish national, your immigration permission to study in the UK will be checked via the online Right to Study system, when you first arrive on campus, and as necessary thereafter. Students have a duty to maintain valid UK immigration permission that allows study for the duration of their course, failure to do so may lead to withdrawal from the University under the University's General Regulations.

Students with sponsored immigration permission

The University is a Student Sponsor with a track record of compliance and must ensure we remain compliant to retain our sponsor status. Students with a Student visa have additional responsibilities to the University and the Home Office. There will be conditions attached to your visa that restrict what you can do in the UK, breaking any of the conditions may mean you can't remain in the UK and complete your course. You are expected to attend your in-person teaching events and this will be monitored throughout your course. If your attendance and engagement fall below expected levels or you are absent without permission for a period of time this is likely to impact on the University's ability to continue to sponsor your Student immigration permission. The International Services Team can provide immigration information and advice throughout your studies.

Choosing your modules

You may have module options to select as part of your course structure. If you do, you must select the modules you wish to enrol on before the academic year begins. You can view and choose your specific options through the eNROL system. New students can do so from the end of August and returning students can from the April preceding the next academic year. Early module enrolment ensures that timetables can be scheduled effectively. We'll talk more about how you might decide which modules to take in the Learning and Teaching section of this Handbook.

Explore your Campus

There is a broad range of facilities across each of our campuses to support your experience at Essex, whether in person or virtually. For the latest information, see the updates on services on campus.

Get connected

Your IT account

You will need to activate your Essex IT account. Once you're set up, you can access your Essex email, log in to Moodle, access lab computers and Library services, print for free (subject to our fair use policy) on campus, connect to campus wifi, and much more. When you activate your account, you will need to register an external email address and passphrase so that if you forget your password, you can also reset it using these details. If you have forgotten those, you should contact the IT Helpdesk. Make sure you keep your password safe and do not share it with others.

For a quick rundown of what you need when you first start, head to the Getting Started with IT guide on the Student Directory.

Campus wifi

If you are studying on any of our campuses, connect to our wifi by finding the eduroam network on your device. Use your Essex email and password to join.

Essex Apps

The University has a variety of online systems and platforms designed to enhance your learning and help make processes, such as submitting coursework, easier. We have rounded up the top platforms, portals and apps that you need to know about!

MyEssex

MyEssex is your online account and can only be accessed via an internet browser. This is different to your applicant portal – you can use MyEssex to view your timetable, update your personal details, request replacement student cards or supporting documents, monitor your course progress, let us know if you'll miss a lecture or class, contact the Student Services Hub, and much more.

PocketEssex

Pocket Essex is the University's official app for students that can be downloaded on your phone or tablet for free. It acts as a portal through to a variety of areas and resources that will be useful for you throughout your studies. PocketEssex links to many areas that MyEssex does, but also takes you through to other key resources, such as the Students' Union, FindYourWay and the Library.

Find Your Way

When on campus, we know that finding your way can be challenging to start with. Our Colchester campus in particular can be difficult to navigate with a historically complex room numbering system! FindYourWay is our interactive campus map app designed to get you from A to B on either the Colchester or Southend campuses with quick and easy directions. You can download this app on your phone or tablet for free!

Working while studying

Many students choose to work part-time to supplement their income. Working during your course can also give you excellent skills and experience to boost your CV. Our Student Services Hub can help you find part-time work. There are also many opportunities to work in paid jobs on campus.

You can access recommendations on working hours, as well as guidance on rates of pay and National Insurance contributions on the Careers Services webpages.

If you have a Student visa, please read our information on working in the UK for international students before you start looking for a job. The country you are from and your visa type will determine whether or not you can work in the UK. If you can work, the type of work you are allowed to undertake and the number of hours you can work will be restricted.

Your personal belongings

The University does not cover costs for personal damage or loss of possessions; only in instances where the University has been negligent would a claim be viable for compensation for personal belongings. Therefore, you are strongly advised to take out personal insurance cover for your possessions. This is especially important for valuable items, such as laptops, phones and tablets.

The Essex Experience

We are proud of our inclusive and international community. Our campuses are places where every single person can feel they belong and where you can find the world in one place. We have created a Student Charter as a pledge that every student signs up to when they join us. By signing up, you promise to uphold our values and to behave in ways that strengthen and support our community. We promise to support you at every stage of your journey with us.

Embracing our values

We are different at Essex. We are brave, we are bold, and we embrace challenges and drive change. Our values are underpinned by this very culture. While we encourage you to challenge the status quo and explore the unknown, we expect that all of our students do so respectfully, intelligently and act as true ambassadors for the University. Our Code of Student Conduct outlines the rules and regulations that help us maintain our high standards of behaviour.

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

The University recognises the value of diversity and is committed to providing equal opportunities for both students and staff. Our students and staff are treated with dignity and respect, and solely on the basis of their merits, abilities and potential, while still having the relevant impact and implications associated with race, ethnic or national origin, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, age, socio-economic background, family circumstances, religious or political beliefs and affiliations, or any other identity-forming characteristics, taken into consideration as necessary to ensure equal opportunity.

The University is committed to a programme of action to ensure that this policy is fully effective.

The Department is committed to furthering equality, diversity and inclusion, but we know that we can always do more. There is an Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Committee that meets regularly to review Departmental policy and discusses any matters students raise on issues related to equality, diversity and inclusion. We have made important strides recently, working towards decolonising the curriculum, and consulting students on the best way to do this. To find out more about the Department's latest work on equality, diversity, and inclusion, see our dedicated equality, diversity and inclusion webpage

As we move forward, it is important to ensure that we consult with students on more matters, and more often. If you have any concerns about any issues related to equality and diversity, big or small, or if you would like to volunteer as a student EDI representative, please contact the Chair of the Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Committee Professor Tracey Loughran. Tracey will always be happy to meet with you and to discuss your ideas. Working together is the best way to make this a Department where all voices and perspectives are represented.

PHAIS Women's Officer and local SWIP branch

Whether you are an Art History, Philosophy or ISC student, if you want to speak confidentially to a female member of staff, we have a dedicated Women's Officer for this very purpose. In 2023-24 this will be Professor Tracey Loughran, who can also tell you more about the local branch of the Society for Women in Philosophy (SWIP).

PHAIS Policy on Equality

The School of Philosophy and Art History aims to treat all staff and students who are part of the School, and also visitors to the School, equally in all relevant respects. We acknowledge that historically women and minorities have been disadvantaged in many aspects of university and academic life, through both conscious and unconscious assumptions, biases, and prejudices, and through unfavourable practical arrangements. We are committed to changing this situation. We believe that the School in general will benefit academically, intellectually, and socially from an energetic commitment to promoting equality.

1. This commitment entails that all students and staff of the School should strive to be conscious of ways in which their behaviour may be disrespectful, detrimental or damaging to the activities and equal status of women and other underrepresented groups.

2. It is part of the responsibility of everyone in the School to maintain an atmosphere for work and study in which equality is the norm. On occasions, this may require us to bring contrary behaviour to the attention of the person concerned, as well as to accept appropriate criticism of our own behaviour.

3. Within the School our commitment to equality involves consideration of the following (non-exhaustive) list of issues:

a) Ensuring a female presence on committees and decision-making bodies within the School.

b) Ensuring female participation in selection processes (e.g. regarding applications for PGT and PGT studentships, regarding posts – academic and administrative – within the School).

c) Giving consideration to the representation of female and minority thinkers, writers, and artists on the syllabi for modules within the School.

d) Taking measures to allow female and underrepresented voices to be adequately heard during seminars, discussions, question and answer sessions, etc.

4. In terms of broader professional activities, our commitment to equality involves consideration of the following (non-exhaustive) list of issues:

a) Invitation of female and minority speakers when setting up conferences.

b) Inclusion of female and minority authors when editing collections of articles.

c) Inclusion of female and minority representation on editorial/advisory boards.

d) Awareness of possible implicit bias when refereeing/assessing non-anonymised work.

What is Implicit Bias?

Controlled research studies demonstrate that people typically hold unconscious assumptions about groups of people that influence their judgments about members of those groups in negative ways. This is particularly true for traditionally discriminated-against groups like women, minorities, and disabled people. All people display these biases, including those who belong to the discriminated-against groups. Counteracting these biases requires us to become aware of the ways they might be affecting our assessments of our colleagues, teachers, and students.

Examples of Implicit Bias:

- Recommendation letters for women tend to be shorter, provide 'minimal assurances' rather than solid recommendation, raise more doubts, portray women as students rather than professionals, and mention their personal lives more (Trix and Psenka 2003).
- Job applicants with "white-sounding" names are more likely to be interviewed for open positions than equally qualified applicants with "African-American-sounding" names (Bertrand & Sendhil 2004)
- When the same CV is randomly assigned a female or a male name, both male and female assessors rate male applicants better in terms of teaching, research, and service experience, and are more likely to hire them (Steinpreis et al 1999).
- Female post-doc applicants to the Medical Research Council of Sweden needed substantially more publications to achieve the same rating as male applicants (Wenneras & Wold 1997).

Counteracting Implicit Bias:

Remember that you are not immune. For example, a recent meta-analysis of 122 research reports (involving a total of 14,900 subjects) revealed that implicit bias scores better predict stereotyping and prejudice than explicit self-reports (Greenwald et al 2009).

Promote Diversity

Research shows that assumptions are more likely to negatively affect evaluation of women and minorities when they represent a small proportion (less than 25%) of the relevant group. Exposure to "positive" exemplars (e.g. Martin Luther King in history class) decreased implicit bias against Blacks (Dasgupta & Greenwald 2001).

Work on your own prejudice:

Awareness of statistical discrepancies between the ideal of impartiality and actual performance – coupled with a commitment to that ideal – helps counteract implicit bias.

E.g. in one study, a mental imagery exercise of imagining a professional business woman decreased implicit stereotypes of women (Blair et al 2001).

E.g. contact with female professors and deans decreased implicit bias against women for college-aged women (Dasgupta & Asgari 2004).

Student communities

We pride ourselves on being a welcoming and inclusive community. We recognise the value of diversity and are committed to equality of opportunity within the University.

We offer a wide range of support to individuals and groups of student members – our student communities – who may have specific requirements, interests or responsibilities to help fulfil your potential. Whether you are an international student, a mature student, a BAME student or have any other requirements or needs, we want to welcome you with open arms. The University is committed to a programme of action to ensure that this policy is fully effective.

Environmental Sustainability

We have made commitments as a University to reduce our impacts on the environment, including reaching net zero carbon emissions by 2035. In December 2020 we declared a climate and ecological emergency and developed a sustainability strategy that sets out our ambitions up to 2026. Our Sustainability team works on a range of projects from energy efficiency to extracurricular activities to help everyone at Essex live, study and work in environmentally-friendly ways. Everyone is encouraged to do their bit, and there are simple steps you can take as a student: remember to bring a reusable cup for takeaway drinks, and a bottle that you can refill at one of our many water fountains. If you live on campus, switch off electrical items that aren't in use, and be sure to keep windows closed in colder months when the heating is on. For more information, contact the Sustainability team – sustainability@essex.ac.uk.

Teaching staff and support

All teaching staff hold regular weekly academic support hours during term time. This is a time when you can meet with them about anything to do with your modules, from difficulties you might be having with your seminar readings, to discussions about feedback on your coursework. Academic Support Hours will be posted on the PHAIS Moodle page.

Please note that academic staff do not hold regular academic support hours during the vacations, and may, on occasions, be away from the University on research trips and visits. Therefore, if you need to get in touch with them during the vacation periods, you should email them in the first instance.

We have also listed some other key staff roles and how these individuals will be able to support you.

Module Tutors

There are dedicated Module Tutors to support students for each module. The module tutor for each module can be found on Moodle

Your Personal Tutor

All undergraduate students have a Personal Tutor who will meet you soon after you arrive, and regularly throughout your course. Your Personal Tutor will be a member of academic staff and is someone you talk to about your course or any difficulties that may encounter. They can recommend and direct you to other support services that might be able to further help and support you. You can find out who your Personal Tutor is through MyEssex.

If you have a disability, long term medical condition and/or Specific Learning Difference and have not registered with Student Wellbeing & Inclusivity Service, to discuss your support needs, please email include@essex.ac.uk.

Your Peer Mentor

All first-year students are assigned a Peer Mentor. Peer Mentors are either a second or final-year student. They will contact you to introduce themselves and organise how you'll stay in contact.

Become a Mentor

If you are in your second or final-year and are interested in becoming a Peer Mentor, a call for mentor applications is usually circulated in the Spring term. If you have any questions in the meantime, you can contact your Peer Mentor Coordinator for further details.

Staff research interests

History

We are internationally recognised for the quality of its research across a broad range of areas from 1450 to the present, ranging from social and cultural history to politics, international relations and global history. Themes of particular interest in research include protest and citizenship, gender, race, class formation, nationalism, cultural history, violence, wars and revolutions. Details of staff research interests and their publications can be found on our staff webpages.

Philosophy and Art History

We foster a distinctive research ethos: collaborative, transdisciplinary, cutting edge.

Philosophers and Art Historians at Essex have long been internationally renowned for first-rate research that challenges traditional academic boundaries and canons. Throughout our work, we emphasise issues of autonomy, agency, dissent, and the contestation of the public realm.

Our transdisciplinary approach facilitates critical engagement beyond the traditional canons of philosophy and art history, enabling us to deliver research which is both impactful and relevant.

You can find out all about the research interests of our PHAIS staff on their profile pages here.

Research Seminars

The Department arranges and hosts research seminars by both Essex and other university academics, on a wide variety of historical themes. These usually consist of a fairly informal paper about work-in-progress, followed by extensive discussion. The seminars are an excellent way to meet staff as well as students, both undergraduate and postgraduate. Members of the public are also welcome to attend. For more details of the research seminars and other public history events, please see the School's website.

Departmental resources and facilities

A wide range of facilities and resources are available for all students to access and use as part of their study at Essex. Each department and school also has a selection for the exclusive use of their students. Below is a summary of the facilities and resources that are likely to be most useful to you.

PHAIS Common Room

The School of Philosophical, Historical and Interdisciplinary Studies Common Room (6.134) (also known as Thomas' Room in memory of Professor Thomas Puttfarcken, a former member of staff) is located on the 6th Floor in the School of Philosophy and Art History corridor and is for the use of all students (both undergraduate/postgraduate) and staff. It was fully refurbished in 2019 and provides a fantastic space for socialising, doing a bit of reading or simply taking some time out to relax!

Printing, photocopying and scanning

All students can print, copy and scan for free at Essex subject to our fair use policy. You can even print from your mobile by sending your file to mobileprinting@essex.ac.uk using your Essex email.

Once you've located a device, simply log in using your Essex login and password, or tap with your student card to print. Whilst printing is free for all students, please think of your carbon footprint, only print if necessary and check your available quota.

Please note that there are strict laws about infringement of copyright; more information can be found on the Library website which explains what and how much you are permitted to copy. Usage is monitored and subject to a fair use policy.

Noticeboards

Every department and school have their own noticeboard providing information on staff, courses and classes, updates, careers, events and opportunities. All PHAIS noticeboards are located outside our General Office (6.130). We will also important information on the Moodle announcement areas.

The main method of communication for Philosophical, Historical, and Interdisciplinary Studies tends to be via Moodle announcements and social media. However, we do have various noticeboards located along the corridor near our General Office on the 6th Floor (6.130).

Departmental prizes

Each year we are pleased to award prizes signifying excellence. The following prizes are available for award to undergraduate students:

are available for award to undergraduate students:

Interdisciplinary Studies prizes

Various prizes are awarded to final year ISC students at the end of the year. The categories of prizes include:

- Best Overall Academic Achievement in each degree area (American Studies, Latin American Studies, Global Studies, Liberal Arts and European Studies (known as 'Jean Monnet Prize').
- Best Final Year Dissertation.

These Prizes are normally presented at the Graduation Reception in July.

There is also a first-year prize: Modern Revolutions Prize CS101 (previously Enlightenment): In 1750, Rousseau won a competition set by the Academy of Dijon on the subject 'have the arts and sciences benefited mankind?' with his Discourse on the Arts and Sciences. A prize will be awarded for the 'Best Essay' to have been written this year on the Modern Revolutions module. This prize is financed by proceeds from The Enlightenment and its Shadows (London, 1990), a collection of essays based on the lectures for this module edited by two former Directors, Peter Hulme and Ludmilla Jordanova.

Art History prizes

The Bishop-McKinlay Travel Prize: Art History

The Bishop-McKinlay prize was established in memory of James Bishop and Seamus McKinlay, and is awarded to a second-year student taking art history either as a single-honours course or as a significant part of a joint-degree course, and is intended to support travel and research abroad related to art history.

The prize can cover air fares, internal travel, living costs and health insurance for around four to six weeks, and is tenable in the summer vacation between the second and final years of study. An application of 1000 words maximum should include an itinerary with visits to specific art works, galleries, architecture, sites or archives that either form the subject of your proposed final-year dissertation, or are otherwise related to art history study.

The recipient is decided by a departmental committee and successful applicants are expected to give a presentation on their travels to the Bishop and McKinlay families, usually early in the summer term. Applications should be submitted to our Deputy School Manager, (spahdsm@essex.ac.uk) and should include the name of a staff member willing to act as referee. A committee made up of our Head of School and two members of art history staff consider applications and may divide the prize money to make more than one award. Deadline date: Friday 12 May 2023

Tim Laughton travel fund

The Tim Laughton travel fund was established in memory of Dr Tim Laughton, a lecturer in our School of Philosophy and Art History specialising in Mesoamerican art and architecture, who died in February 2009. Generous donations, especially from Dr Laughton's family and the artist Michael Aakhus, enable us to offer a bursary of approximately £500 annually to the undergraduate or postgraduate art history student who submits the best proposal for travel to Latin America for research related to their BA, MA or PhD dissertation.

A committee made up of our Head of School and two members of art history staff consider applications. The prize is normally tenable during the summer vacation, and the winner is required to submit a brief report on their travel and research to our Head of School.

An application of 1000 words maximum should outline the proposed research including a summary of travel plans and anticipated costs, as well as the name of a referee with whom you have discussed your proposal. Applications should be submitted to our Deputy School Manager (spahdsm@essex.ac.uk).

Deadline date: Friday 12 May 2023

Roy Beston Prize

The Roy Beston memorial prize was established in 1995 by Maria Beston, a former student in our School of Philosophy and Art History, in memory of her husband. The prize is awarded to a second-year mature student taking art history either as a single-honours subject or as a significant part of a joint-degree course. The prize, of approximately £400, aims to enrich the studies of a talented mature student by contributing to the cost of books, travel or other degree related activities.

The winner is chosen by the Board of Examiners at the end of the summer term.

The Art History Prize

Awarded by the Board of Examiners to the final-year student with the best overall academic performance and is presented at the Graduation Reception.

The Art History Dissertation Prize

Students in the philosophy single honours course, or in one of the philosophy joint courses, are eligible for consideration.

External Examiner's Prize: Philosophy

It is also open to the External Examiner to recommend the award of a further prize, known as the External Examiner's Prize, if he/she considers that there is another student who has achieved a First-Class degree and whose achievements are worthy of the prize. The prize is presented at the Graduation Reception.

The use of personal devices

You can use laptops and tablet PCs during teaching classes for purposes related to the class you are attending. You should refrain from using your mobile phone during all teaching events, except in cases where a lecturer uses a programme which requires these devices to be switched on for participation. Please check with the Module Supervisors what their policy is regarding this.

Learning and Teaching

The University is committed to providing equal opportunities for all our students regardless of where or how you study. Our diverse student population is considered when developing the resources, services and facilities on and off campus, when we create our courses, write publications and course materials, and set our policies and regulations.

The academic year

The academic year uses a week numbering system that covers the 52 weeks of a calendar year but corresponds to typical term dates. So, the start of the academic year is week 1, which is Welcome week, with teaching commencing in week 2.

| Term   | Week numbers |
|--------|--------------|
| Autumn | 2-11         |
| Spring | 16-25        |
| Summer | 30-39        |

You can view the University's week numbers with the equivalent dates in the week by week calendar. The University's key dates language include an overview of the start and end of each term and exam periods.

Some courses have slightly different term dates. However, you will find that all activities and events make reference to the standard academic year terms and schedule noted above.

You are expected to be available during term time to attend teaching events, unless otherwise advised by your Department.

My Course

Each course at the University has its own syllabus, full details of which, including the aims and learning outcomes of your course, can be found in the University's Programme Specifications Catalogue.

Your own course structure, including your specific programme specification, can be found in the MyStudy section of your MyEssex homepage.

Credits

Your course will be made up of a certain number of credits. Generally, undergraduate degrees contain 360 credits worth of modules in total during your course at Essex. This is divided into 120 credits per each year of study, with credits allocated to each module that you take.

Learning outcomes

Each course has learning outcomes which need to be met in order to progress. Course learning outcomes are categorised into knowledge, intellectual, practical and key skills, and are also defined more specifically at a modular level. Having this information means that you can measure your progress against the outcomes, for example when reviewing coursework feedback.

Grade boundaries

Marks for undergraduate modules fall into one of the classifications set out in the table below. Bachelor degrees are usually awarded under these classifications too. The method for calculating your final award classification will take into account module marks and any other requirements - full details are set out in the Rules of Assessment.

| Degree mark     | Class     |
|-----------------|-----------|
| 69.5% and over  | Class 1   |
| 59.5 - 69.4%    | Class 2.1 |
| 49.5 - 59.4%    | Class 2.2 |
| 39.5 – 49.4%    | Class 3   |
| 39.4% and under | Fail      |

Module enrolment

Most modules taught reflect the individual research interests of members of our academic staff. New modules are regularly explored, researched and developed to expand our transformative educational offering at Essex.

The University provide further guidance on choosing modules, and meetings for first and second-year students will be held by your department where students can discuss their choices with their Personal Tutor. Your preferred choices must be submitted prior to the start of term through the eNROL system.

A full list of modules available can be found on this webpage.

IS course variances

Liberal Arts

If you are taking a Liberal Arts course, please note that for all Liberal Arts courses, you must choose modules following these guidelines:

Year 1: Choose options from at least three different disciplines (90 credits) from the Humanities (prefixes AR, GV, HR, HU, LA, LT, PA, PY, SC, TH) and/or the Social Sciences (prefixes BE, EC, LG, LW, MA, PS). * CS modules do not count as discipline options.

Year 2: Carry forward at least TWO of the disciplines studied in the first year into the second year (ideally with at least 30 credits in each discipline). You should bear this in mind when choosing your first-year modules and please note: some modules from other disciplines e.g. BE, EC, LW, MA, PS and LW prefixes cannot be taken in the second year because they require Department-specific pre-requisites. For more information you should contact the Course Director or the ISC Administrator. All modules' choices in the second year are subject to the Course Director's approval. No more than 60 credits may be from any one discipline.

Majors: We currently offer majors in: Art History, History, Politics, Literature, Media Studies, Sociology, and Philosophy. To be awarded a major in a particular discipline, you need to have studied a total of 120 credits in that discipline across the second and final year in that subject (ideally 60 credits in the second year and 60 credits in the final year). Please ask the Course Director for further advice and information.

Dissertation advice: If you are a student entering your second year of study in 2022-23 and are aiming to take CS831-6-FY in your final year, you will be required to take CS241-5-SP this coming year as it is a pre-requisite of CS831-6-FY.

Year 3: Carry forward at least TWO of the disciplines studied in your second year to your third year (ideally with at least 30 credits in each discipline). No more than 60 credits may be from any one discipline.

If you have any queries about these guidelines, please contact our administration department at istudies@essex.ac.uk. Any variation from this rule requires the Course Director's approval.

Student Research and Final Year Capstone Projects

IS Capstones

In IS we offer four different capstone options:

- CS301-6-FY: Dangerous Ideas: Essays and Manifestos as Social Criticism
- CS315-6-AU: Global Challenges in Interdisciplinary Perspective: Water Conflicts, Water Cultures
- CS831-6-SP/FY: Final Year BA Dissertation
- CS316-6-FY Democracy in Action

However, there are different requirements depending on your scheme in 2022-23:

- Liberal Arts students are required to take either CS301 or CS831
- Global Studies students are required to take CS315
- Latin American Studies students can choose CS315 (and another option), or CS831 or CS301
- Students on all other ISC schemes can choose between CS301 or CS831 or take more than one of these Capstone options, including CS315.

CS316 can be taken instead of the required capstone (except for Global Studies courses). CS316 has an application process; if accepted, you can enrol onto CS316. If CS316 is not available on the course structure, it can be requested via special syllabus.

Please note that the BA Dissertation (CS831) is a substantial piece of work so it is useful to have a look at one of the past dissertations available for request from the General Office so that you can get an idea of what is expected.

If you are interested in doing a final year dissertation, you will need to take CS241-5-SP 'Doing Interdisciplinary Research for a BA Dissertation' in your second year. This module will help you to turn your preliminary ideas into a feasible research project. For further information about doing a final year dissertation, please contact Jane Hindley (janeh@essex.ac.uk).

Art History Capstones

There are a number of capstones in Art History and depending on which course you are taking you will see AR347, AR354, or AR383 in your course structure. If you have any questions about your capstone options, please speak to the Director of Undergraduate Studies for Art History.

AR382 is a longer dissertation and full year module and requires approval by the end of your second year and a special syllabus. Please speak to the Director of Undergraduate Studies for Art History if you are thinking about taking this module.

Philosophy Capstones

All final year Philosophy students take the summer module PY455.

PY426 is the Philosophy Dissertation and is optional. It is a very demanding module, with substantial amounts of independent work required both in the Autumn and Spring term. Students should think very carefully about whether they have a research question they find sufficiently motivating before embarking on this module. Please speak to the Director of Undergraduate Studies for Philosophy if you require further information.

Changing Modules

In instances where you need to make a change to your module choice, you may do so up until the second week of the Autumn Term. If you wish to change an optional module after the deadline, you should seek advice from the Department or School Office that runs the particular module that you may wish to change to.

Late changes may be permitted but will be subject to the approval of the department that runs the module and the relevant Dean. Late changes of modules that run for one term or less will not usually be permitted. Students may not change modules that are core or compulsory for the course for which they are registered.

If there is a module that you would like to study that isn't available as an option on your course, then you can ask for a change to your syllabus to be made by submitting a special syllabus request. Special syllabus requests are not automatically available and require approval. It is a good idea to talk to your Department or School responsible for your course, as well as the Department that teach the module if it is an outside option.

Requests to study a lot of outside options, to change a core or compulsory module of your course, or to study a module at a different level of study, are unlikely to be approved.

Module Directors

Module Directors are responsible for individual modules. They design, teach and examine them. They monitor student progress and can also talk to students about any related academic issues.

Fitness to practise

Fitness to practise is only applicable to students on certain professional courses (such as Nursing or Social Work) and is designed to ensure and regulate that a student is suitable for engagement in the relevant profession.

Employability Modules

It is University policy for all students to receive skills and employability training as part of their degree course. The aim is to help you enhance your skills and gain relevant experience, so that you are fully prepared to enter the job market or go on to postgraduate study when you have finished your BA.

The History employability module, HR510, runs across all three years of your degree and is designed to help you reflect upon, and develop, your plans and skills for your career in the long term. You will take part in a series of workshops and tutorials, working with your personal tutor in the History Department and experts from the University's Careers Service, to explore options open to you and to prepare yourself for your next steps after graduation. Sessions will cover skills assessments, engaging with the jobs market, CV preparation, and guidance on postgraduate study. You will also be able to meet former Essex History students to talk about the many and varied professions they have gone into with their history degrees. You are expected to attend all the timetabled events and to complete all the assigned pieces of written work which will build up to form your careers portfolio. The module is compulsory for all History undergraduate students and is assessed on a merit/pass/incomplete basis; this mark will appear on your final results transcript. tutorials and there is all sorts of job and employment related information on the CareerHub webpage.

ISC students follow a two-part scheme. In 2023-24 this comprises:

1. First year students:

Philosophy and IS students will take CS711: Skills for University Studies (a zero credit co-curricular module, which runs alongside your other modules)
Art History students take AR122 'Writing and Research Art History' which focuses on developing writing skills.

2. Second year students:

- IS and Philosophy students: can choose either CS712 Beyond the BA: Skills for the Next Step (0 credits, co-curricular module) OR CS200 Social Entrepreneurs, Sustainability and Community Action (15 credits) (except Global Studies students who must take CS200)
- Art History students: take CS712 Beyond the BA: Skills for the Next Step (0 credits, co-curricular module)

To complement these modules, you are also strongly advised to speak to someone in the Student Development, Careers Services team or visit their webpages to find out about the events and activities that they organise. They offer one-to-one careers advice, workshops on CVs, applications and interviews, careers fairs, speed networking events with alumni, as well as training about start-ups, and pathways into postgraduate study or particular careers. They also provide a range of online

You may also find it useful to discuss any plans for post-graduate studies or careers with your personal tutor and/ or our Employability Development Director

Study Abroad

Essex Abroad provides you with the opportunity to have an international experience during your time at Essex to enhance employability, gain valuable transferable skills and develop as individuals. You can study, volunteer, intern or complete research abroad as part of our programmes. Many courses can be taken as a four-year variant to include a year studying abroad at one of our partner universities across the world, and some courses have the option to study for a term abroad as part of a three-year degree. You can find out more about applying and what you'll need to consider if you're interested in a term or year studying abroad. For information regarding your funding during a study abroad, you should liaise with the Funding Team – funding@essex.ac.uk. Students with disabilities should also liaise with the Student Wellbeing and Inclusivity Service – include@essex.ac.uk.

As well as studying abroad, we have a wide range of summer programmes available including volunteering programmes, international internships and research abroad opportunities which are open to all Essex students. These programmes vary in duration, location and cost and can be a great addition (or alternative!) to studying abroad.

The University of Essex is a founding member of the YUFE Alliance. YUFE (Young Universities for the Future of Europe) is a collaboration of 10 different European institutions, providing you with the opportunity to study across multiple partners virtually or physically; as part of your degree or in addition to it. YUFE aims to be the leading model of a young, student-centred, non-elitist, open and inclusive European University.

As a University of Essex student, you can obtain an international experience through YUFE, taking anything from academic to language courses, or even entrepreneurship courses; allowing you to go the extra mile and stand out from the crowd. Find out more about YUFE and how to apply on our dedicated section on the Essex Abroad YUFE webpage and through the YUFE Virtual Campus.

Work Placements

There are a variety of opportunities to undertake work-based learning and placements either during or as part of your studies. Many courses may also be taken as a four-year variant to include a placement year. If undertaking a placement year, it is your responsibility to find a work placement, however, the Industry Engagement and Placements Team can help prepare and support you and will advertise relevant placements. If you are interested in undertaking a placement year, or other work-based opportunities that may be available to you and your course, contact the Industry

Engagement and Placements team. If you have a Student visa, please be aware that the Immigration Rules restrict the length of placements and the type of work you can do.

Upon successfully securing a placement you need to inform the Industry Engagement and Placements team by completing a secured placement form. This is required in order to begin the placement approval process. Please note without approval from the Industry Engagement and Placement team you will be unauthorised to commence a placement.

For extracurricular opportunities, Careers Services are here to help. Use Chart My Path to find your personalised recommendations at Essex, and check out CareerHub for part-time jobs, internships and career development support.

All History courses may also be taken as four-year courses, to include a Placement Year. It is your responsibility to find a work placement year, however, the Industry and Placements Team can help prepare and support you in finding placements and will advertise relevant placements available to Essex students. If you are interested in undertaking a Placement Year, or other work-based opportunities that may be available to you and your course, you can find more information, including who to contact on the work placements webpage.

DBS Checks for Placements

Some placements may require a DBS check where you are engaging in regulated activity with vulnerable groups. This may include placements that are core, compulsory or optional, depending on the relevant module. Some activities may be carried out on an ad hoc basis for research purposes only, which are not required to meet the learning outcomes of the module or course, but will help inform your learning. More information about the DBS check process can be found on the University's DBS webpages.

Module Materials

Online reading lists for your modules can be found via the module Moodle page alongside other information and module materials.

Teaching timetable

Every student has a personal timetable published at the start of term which shows when and where your teaching is taking place and Zoom links, if teaching online. You can access your timetable on most mobile devices, including smart phones and tablets. You will need to have registered and activated your University of Essex log-in and selected all of your modules (if applicable), before you will be able to access your teaching timetable.

If you wish to report a timetable clash or request a class change, you should do so via the online timetable.

During Welcome Week (week 1) you may find that your timetable is blank as teaching normally commences week 2. Please be aware that there may be changes to the location of teaching during the year, so regularly check your personal online timetable and Essex email for up to date teaching information.

Information about teaching timetables, including requesting a class change, reporting a timetable issue and accessing your individual timetable can be found on the University's website.

Reading weeks

For the majority of Philosophy, Art History and Interdisciplinary Studies modules, no lectures or classes will take place during the weeks listed below, but please check your module description for more information, as there may be some variations.

Autumn Term: week 8 (week commencing 20 November 2023)

Spring Term: week 21 (week commencing 19 February 2024)

The purpose of Reading Week is just that, an opportunity for students to catch up on reading and also writing coursework. Not all departments have reading weeks so please check with them if you are uncertain.

If a member of staff has to miss a lecture or class due to illness, or for some other reason, Reading Week may be used to catch up on the missed session.

Information about teaching timetables, including requesting a class change, reporting a timetable issue and accessing your individual timetable can be found on the timetabling webpages.

Recording your attendance

We monitor your attendance at teaching sessions on campus using your student card and an electronic system of card readers. You must tap-in at a reader within 15 minutes of the teaching session start time for your attendance to be recorded accurately. Your attendance at online teaching sessions is monitored by reviewing your logins to sessions on Zoom. Once again you must log in within 15 minutes of the event start time for your attendance to be recorded. You are expected to attend all of your mandatory sessions on your individual timetable and report an absence if you are unable to do so. If you have a Student visa, you must attend all your timetabled teaching events in-person where this is available. Attendance at a teaching event via Zoom where the session was also delivered in-person will count as failure to attend. If you fall below the Home Office expectations we must take action, and this can include withdrawing our sponsorship.

It is your responsibility to remember your student registration card and to tap-in correctly. Lost or faulty cards can be replaced at the Student Services Hub.

Please contact your Personal Tutor, department staff or the Student Services Hub for advice and support, particularly if you are going to be absent for several weeks.

Making changes to your study

Changing your course

If you are thinking about changing course, you will need to do so by a certain date and should first speak to your department and personal tutor. They will be able to provide advice about the things you should consider before changing your course. If you are thinking of undertaking a placement year or year abroad, you should check the requirements and any potential visa implications for these programmes by contacting the Industry and Placements Team or Essex Abroad Team. Students with a Student visa may not be able to change their course without first obtaining a new visa, from overseas, if eligible.

Thinking of leaving or taking a break?

You may experience doubts at some point during your studies, if you're thinking about leaving Essex, we're here to support you and give you the advice you need to help you make an informed choice. You can contact your department, Personal Tutor or Student Services Hub to speak in confidence about your concerns, and also the different options available to you and the impact they may have.

You should also be aware of how your funding may be impacted if you choose to take a break. You can do this by contacting the Funding Team – funding@essex.ac.uk.

Library & Cultural Services

Library Services

The Library aims to provide all the resources you will need to succeed in your course, via online reading lists and access to extensive collections of books, journals and a variety of other resources, both on our shelves and online. The Library team can help you learn how to search effectively so you can find appropriate resources for your assignments. They can also provide advice on referencing, academic integrity, evaluating sources and more. Our Skills at Library guide provides a range of online support in these areas, and our subject guides for each department provide subject-specific guidance and resource recommendations. In addition, the Library offers a programme of 'Workshops at Library' sessions which cover key information and research skills, including searching for information, checking and evaluating sources and referencing. If you have any questions about Library services, there are a range of ways you can get in touch with the team.

At our Colchester Campus, the Albert Sloman Library on Square 5 has a variety of study spaces, including individual and group work areas. The Library offers a wide range of learning resources, online and in print, with a dedicated Helpdesk, live chat and the opportunity to book appointments with experienced Library staff to help you through your studies and into whatever you choose to do after graduation.

See the Library website for the latest information on all our libraries and the services available, including opening hours.

We want everyone to get involved and enjoy great art.

Lakeside Theatre

The Lakeside Theatre provides a warm, welcoming social hub of creativity at the heart of the University to foster the living learning community.

We produce a programme of diverse, dynamic and accessible live performances of theatre, music, comedy, dance, workshops, artist development and live art for audiences on and off campus. It is a learning and social experience for students that will deliver key life skills to enable them to respond to a rapidly changing world with creativity and personal and cultural confidence. publishing journey today. If you have any questions, get in touch with the Journal Team via journal@essex.ac.uk

Academic Skills Support

Skills for Success are here to support you with everything that you need to do well in your studies that is not directly related to your course content – in other words, the skills that you need to be successful.

We are committed to ensuring that every student is able to get the most out of their academic study and achieve their potential on their course, and provide a range of embedded teaching, workshops and 1:1s on:

- Academic writing
- Maths and stats
- Digital Skills
- Research and referencing
- English language
- Exam revision

For more information, please contact skills@essex.ac.uk.

Departmental Support

You can contact your module directors, seminar teachers or Personal Tutors to organise a meeting if you have any queries.

Proofreading services

Before considering the use of proofreading services, all students should first discuss their work with their personal tutors. Many students seek ‘proofreading’ services at some point during their studies, but different types of editing can occur under this name which may not be appropriate in an academic context where work is assessed and could potentially qualify as an academic offence. The University is keen to ensure as far as possible that students understand what proofreading work should entail and the acceptable boundaries to which any proofreading or editing must adhere to.

All students should ensure that any agreement entered into with a proof-reader conforms to the University’s policy and guidance on proofreading.

Language classes

Academic English Support classes

Skills for Success runs a range of Academic English support classes throughout the year, which all new students who have English as an additional language are invited to enrol on. These classes are free, voluntary and designed to help students improve their language proficiency and maximise their existing language skills in an academic context.

Options include 8 week or 4 week modules and one-off, bookable sessions. You will be emailed on registration, or can contact us at any time at skills@essex.ac.uk.

General English classes for beginner/intermediate/advanced learners (GEC)

The Department of Language and Linguistics offers the wider University of Essex community the chance to improve their English language skills through our General English Classes. These classes are available to:

- Dependants and close family members of students and staff at the University of Essex
- International staff at Essex who may want to work on their general English and fluency skills
- International students currently studying at UEIC Kaplan
- International students currently studying at both UG and PG level at Essex who wish to develop their language skills
- Refugees and asylum seekers who hold an ARC card, or a letter granting them Immigration Bail

The classes, which take place at the Colchester Campus, will enable you to meet people from other countries and cultures and will help you develop your language skills. These classes are free and are taught at three basic levels: Beginner (A1/A2), Intermediate (B1/B2) and Advanced (C1/C2) and will focus on listening, speaking, reading and writing. Throughout the year, you will have a unique opportunity to develop your conversation skills, by reflecting on real-life examples of how language is used in context.

Learning a Language

Learn a language at Essex to increase your global and cultural awareness. Language learning can give you the confidence to work and travel internationally, expand your options for studying abroad, and get a competitive edge when you're looking for a job. There are a number of ways to do it, so look online to discover the best option for you.

Assessment and Academic Integrity

All schools and departments at the University employ a variety of assessment methods designed to ensure that the learning outcomes of each module, and course, have been successfully met.

Rules of Assessment

The Rules of Assessment are used to calculate your results. There is a main set of rules for Three-Year and Four-Year courses, but some departments also have additional variations to the rules, which must be met. These are published alongside the Rules of Assessment for your year of study.

In the School of Philosophical, Historical and Interdisciplinary Studies we do have a variation to the Rules of Assessment:

Each module you take has a credit value which you are awarded if you successfully complete the module. You need to obtain a certain number of credits to be awarded your degree, and the Rules of Assessment and the Framework for undergraduate courses give you more information about this.

The following is only a summary of the key points. You should read the rules and make sure you understand them. If you need advice, ask your personal tutor, departmental administrators, or SU Advice.

Core, compulsory and optional modules

To understand the requirements to pass your course, you need to know the status of the modules that you are taking. You can find details of the status of your modules in Section C of your programme specification via My Essex.

|-------------------|--------------------------------------|---|
| Core       | You must take this module            | You must pass this module. No failure can be permitted.   |
| Compulsory | You must take this module            | There might be limited opportunities to continue on your course/be eligible for your degree if you fail it. |
| Optional   | You can choose which module to study | There might be limited opportunities to continue on your course/be eligible for your degree if you fail it. |

Most modules in each year must be passed, with only a small number of credits, if any, being allowed to be failed in the degree. For the Honours Degree this is 30 non-core credits across the whole degree.

Academic Integrity and Academic Offences

The University expects students to complete all assessment with honesty and integrity and to follow our conventions for academic writing (including appropriate referencing of sources) and ethical considerations. If you don't meet these expectations, then you may be charged with having committed an academic offence, a matter the University takes very seriously.

It is your responsibility to make yourself aware of the regulations governing examinations and how to correctly prepare your coursework. An academic offence can take place even if you didn't mean to commit one, and examples include plagiarism, using Artificial Intelligence such as ChatGPT to write all or part of assignment unless specifically permitted to do so, falsifying data or evidence, and communicating with another candidate in an examination.

Methods of Assessment in School of Philosophical, Historical and Interdisciplinary Studies

Whether a module is core, compulsory or optional, all methods of assessment are compulsory. If you do not complete coursework or attend examinations, and do not have extenuating circumstances to support your non-submission or absence, then you are at risk of being withdrawn from the University.

In History, the assessment for each module can be found on the online Module Directory. Coursework usually consists of several pieces of written work. In some modules, students are given a mark for participation or are required to do an oral presentation which may form part of the assessment. Module directors will explain the system for each individual module at the beginning of each year.

In Philosophy, Art History and Interdisciplinary Studies, modules are assessed according to a varied range of methods. These include essays, writing projects, take-home exams, group presentations, individual presentations, and extended writing projects.

Modules may be assessed using a variety of different assessment mechanisms from the list below. This diversity of assessments allows for a wider learning experience and promotes the acquisition of a range of transferable skills including conducting independent enquiry and research, presenting and developing arguments in written or verbal form, teamwork, networking, organisational and communication skills, responding quickly and coherently to unexpected questions, and drawing on acquired knowledge to build on and explore further issues of interest that arise within the module. The details of assignments will be explained in each module description.

- Abstract
- Essay Plan
- Bibliography
- Essay
- In-Class Written Assessment/Slide Test
- Presentation
- Peer Reviews
- Research Paper
- Take home exam (24 hours)
- Weekly Reading Summaries
- Weekly Short Reading Quiz

Some modules also have a participation mark as part of the coursework mark. Further information about the type of assessment for a particular module is available on each module outline available on the module directory,

Please note: Marks are released to students throughout the year, but marks are not final until they have been ratified by the Board of Examiners at the end of each academic year.

Dissertation marks will not be released until after the Board of Examiners has met.

Coursework

Coursework is compulsory in all modules and failure to participate in coursework is interpreted as evidence of lack of academic progress. Your academic progress is monitored throughout the year. In severe cases, students with poor academic progress can be required to withdraw from the University (even before the final examinations).

Preparation of assignments

For students taking History modules, information on how to be prepare for your assignments and group presentations, including how to present your work is available on our Information for Current Students Moodle page. Here you will also find a useful checklist of things you should do before you submit, cover sheets and study guides on how to interpret images, primary sources and secondary sources.

For students taking Philosophy, Art History and Interdisciplinary Studies modules, please make sure that:

- all your work is referenced correctly (Chicago Style). Please note: a variety of modules undertaken in ISC courses can be from other departments; therefore, you must refer to each departmental referencing style accordingly.
- sources are acknowledged, even in drafts uploaded to the online coursework submission system FASER
- you use font size 12, preferably Times New Roman or similar, and double line spacing
- margins are at least 2.5 cm all round

- Your registration number and module code are at the top of the first page, along with the essay title
  - you enter the word count at the end of your essay

Samples of coursework

ISC: Because of the diversity of ISC degrees, we cannot provide 'model answers' as such. However, a range of past papers and coursework is available on our individual module Moodle pages for your guidance. Past dissertations may also be available to look through, please contact isugadmin@essex.ac.uk

PHILOSOPHY AND ART HISTORY: A range of past papers and coursework is available on our individual module Moodle pages for your guidance.

HISTORY: Samples of marked coursework are available on Box and Moodle. Copies of first-class Research Projects up to 2019 submissions are available to consult in the Department Office (5NW.7.18). Examples of first class projects (marks of 70+) from 2020 onwards are available on Box and Moodle. Please note, you will need to request access to Box to view and use Box.

Revision classes

Modules with exams will include revision classes later in the academic year; please see individual module descriptions or talk to the Module Supervisor for details about when these will be.

Referencing in coursework

Respecting authorship through good academic practice is one of the key values of higher education in the UK. Referencing is how you acknowledge all sources used within a piece of work. You must reference all work used whether cited directly (quotes), or indirectly (paraphrasing and summarising).

Referencing allows you to give credit to other's ideas, work, research, theories, concepts, outcomes and results, and demonstrates your breadth of reading and knowledge on a subject. If you do not reference properly, this could amount to plagiarism, which is an academic offence.

There are styles of referencing which will determine exactly how you format your reference. Your departmental referencing style is CHICAGO for Philosophy, Art History and Interdisciplinary Studies and for History it is MHRA. You must use this referencing style. Guidance on your referencing style is available online, including an interactive referencing tutorial. You can also take the Academic Integrity course on Moodle.

Due to the variety of modules undertaken in ISC Courses, which can be from other departments, you must check the reference style for modules from the ISC Moodle page.

Only Microsoft word files should be uploaded to FASER unless otherwise specified

Submission of coursework

You should submit all coursework online via FASER – the University’s online submission system. You are encouraged to log on to FASER at the start of the year so that you understand how it works before you reach your first deadline. There is a trial module and deadline available for you to use as a practice submission, as well as helpful guidance on how to use FASER.

You can upload as many draft versions of your work as you like and are encouraged to use this as a safe and secure area to store your coursework. This can help to avoid the problem of your computer crashing at the last minute and your important files being lost. In cases where multiple versions are uploaded you will need to make any which you do NOT want to be included in the final submission a ‘draft’ otherwise just the most recently uploaded file will be taken as the final version. The maximum file upload size is 50MB.

Problems with FASER

If you have technical difficulties, please contact the IT Helpdesk as soon as possible to find out if this is a system issue or whether it may be a problem with your computer. This will count towards your claim when submitting a late coursework extenuating circumstance form should you need to. If you are confused or unsure how to upload, or are having any non-technical difficulties you should contact your Undergraduate Administrator.

Late submission of coursework

At the University of Essex we have a single policy for the late submission of coursework in undergraduate courses: all coursework submitted after the deadline will receive a mark of zero. No extensions will be granted. The policy states that the mark of zero shall stand unless you submit satisfactory evidence of extenuating circumstances that indicate that you were unable to submit the work by the deadline but have been able to within the relevant Late Submission timeframe.

Where a student is unable to undertake the assessment by the deadline, and it is deemed impossible to consider a late submission request due to the nature of the assessment (e.g. absence from in-class tests, practical assignments and presentations), an extenuating circumstances form should be submitted which will be considered by the Board of Examiners.

Return of coursework

You can expect to receive your essay and feedback within 20 working days of the submission deadline. If you have any queries regarding the comments made on your essay, please contact the member of staff who marked the essay in their academic support hours.

If you submit your work late, you will not receive your mark and feedback within 20 days of the original deadline.

Please note: Marks are released to students throughout the year, but marks are not final until they have been ratified by the Board of Examiners. Dissertation, portfolio and exhibition marks will be released after the final Board of Examiners has met.

Ethics in research

All research involving human participants and animal subjects, whether undertaken by the University's staff or students, must undergo an ethics review by an appropriate body and ethical approval must be obtained before it commences. You should first read the Guidelines for Ethical Approval of Research Involving Human Subjects or Guidelines for Ethical Approval of Research Involving Animals and then submit an Ethical Approval application form via ERAMS. You should be aware that ethical approval cannot be granted retrospectively so it is very important that you make your application before you start to recruit participants or collect data from them.

Research involving the NHS may require and research involving human tissue or adults lacking capacity to consent will require Health Research Authority and / or NHS Research Ethics Committee approval. You should contact the REO Research Governance Team (reo-governance@essex.ac.uk) at an early stage.

Examinations

In 2023-24, examinations will either be remote via FASER, Moodle or Perception, or on campus in an invigilated setting. To find out whether your exam is in-person or remote, you can check the module directory. Your personal exam timetable, when available, also has this information.

Exam timetable

The University publishes the dates for exam periods at the start of each year, including the date on which your personal exam timetable will be issued for each period. A link to your personalised exam timetable will be sent to your Essex account when it is ready to view.

Attending an in-person exam

You must bring your registration card and exam entry form to any invigilated exams on campus. You may not be allowed entry without these. You will be able to download and print your exam entry form when you view your personal exam timetable.

For exams that are more than 1 hour long, you will not be allowed to enter the examination room if you arrive later than 55 minutes after the start of the exam. If your exam is only 1 hour long, you will only be admitted up to 10 minutes after the start of the exam.

Attendance at examinations, whether remote or in-person, is compulsory and if you do not attend them and do not have extenuating circumstances then you are at risk of being withdrawn.

Calculators in Examinations

If you are allowed to use a calculator in your examinations, the only models you are permitted to use in invigilated exams are the Casio FX-83GT or Casio FX-85GT series (CW, X or PLUS).

The only exception is for certain Finance exams that require a financial calculator, in which case you may use the Hewlett Packard 12c (all variants) or the Texas Instruments BAII Plus (including the BAII Plus Professional).

Open and closed-book exams

You should check the module directory to see whether your exam is open or closed-book. Your department will provide further guidance on how to prepare for your exams and on what materials can be taken into an open-book exam. You should also check the information published on the exam web pages.

Sample and past papers

Because of the diversity of IS degrees we cannot provide 'model answers' as such, but we do provide a sample of past exam papers on our individual module Moodle pages.

Copies of past exam papers can be found on individual module Moodle sites. If you have questions about these please contact your seminar teacher or the module director.

Revision classes

Modules with exams will include revision classes later in the academic year; please see individual module descriptions or talk to the Module Supervisor for details about when these will be.

Exam stress

Exams create stress for most people, but there is a lot that you can do to prepare for them and help manage the levels of stress associated with exams. The University's Skills for Success Team offers a series of Exam Workshops which are run by specialist staff. These sessions cover revision planning and techniques, as well as sessions on relaxation and how to cope with stress. Staff in the Student Services Hub can also provide sessions on stress management if required.

Access to your exam script

If you want to see your script for an invigilated exam, you should make the request to the department responsible for the module within four weeks of the exam. The department should either: let you see the script in the presence of one of the staff responsible for teaching the module or give you a copy or summary of the examiners' comments on your performance. If you need to undertake an exam as part of reassessment on a module, your department will provide you with written feedback on any elements being reassessed.

Feedback on your exam script will not include a discussion of the mark. The marks will have been approved by External Examiners and ratified by the Board of Examiners.

Moderation and marking

The University's Marking Policy can be found online and includes our policy and procedure on the moderation of work.

Marking

All student work is marked in line with the University's Marking Policy. If your assessment is worth up to and including 40% of your module mark, it will be marked by one member of academic staff. If it is worth more 40%, then it will also be moderated. If the assessment is worth 30 credits or more, it will be marked by two members of academic staff. The full procedure and assessment marking requirements can be found in the Marking Policy – there is a useful flowchart in Appendix C to visually represent the requirements, and detailed definitions of marking and moderation within the policy itself.

Moderation

Moderation is a process separate from that of marking and provides additional assurance that the assessment criteria has been applied appropriately. When work is moderated, it means that a second member of academic staff takes a random sample of the work for a particular assessment and reviews the marks given.

External Examiners

External Examiners are academics from other universities, but may also be from industry, business or the relevant profession depending on the requirements of the course. They give an impartial view of the course and independent advice to ensure that modules and courses at the University meet the academic standards expected across UK higher education. You can find more information about the role of External Examiners on our External Examiner roles and responsibilities webpage.

Re-marking of coursework

You may, under certain circumstances, have the right to request a re-mark of your coursework. Should you feel that your work needs to be reviewed and potentially re-marked, you should first contact your department to advise you accordingly and assess whether you meet the criteria to be able to submit a request for re-marking.

If a request for a re-mark is accepted, your marks are not guaranteed to increase, however, the mark awarded after re-marking will override your original mark. Therefore, please be aware that in all incidences where coursework is re-marked, it is possible that your marks could go down as well as up.

Appeals

Appeals on academic grounds can be made following the meeting of the Board of Examiners and the publication of your results. There are limited grounds available to appeal on and strict deadlines to adhere to. As such, we strongly advise all students thinking about making an appeal to contact the SU Advice Centre.

Feedback

Usually, written feedback will be uploaded to FASER along with your mark 20 days from the original submission deadline, by 10am on the day. We work very hard to keep within this timescale. If, for any reason we can't get feedback to you on time we will let you know by email as soon as we can.

Sometimes, where it is more appropriate (after a presentation for example), feedback will be given orally.

If you need to undertake any reassessment on a module, your department will provide you with written feedback on any elements being reassessed.

The Board of Examiners

The Board of Examiners meet at the end of the Summer Term and use the Rules of Assessment to determine whether:

- you have passed the modules you have studied and can be awarded credits;
- you have met the requirements to progress to the next year of your course;
- you have met the requirements to pass your course and, where you have, the classification/citation you are eligible for.

If it is determined that you have not passed sufficient credits to progress to the next stage of study, or, for final year students, to graduate, the Board of Examiners will also determine:

- what reassessment you could be offered and when you can take it<sup>2</sup>;
- whether you must withdraw from your course, and your eligibility for an exit award.

Publication of results

The publication schedule for results can be found on the website. You will receive an email to your Essex email account as soon as your results are published online.

Reassessment

You may only undertake reassessment if the Board of Examiners says that you may do so.

If you must undertake compulsory reassessment, whether coursework or examination, it is really important that you do this. If you do not, it is likely that you will be unable to progress with your studies at the University. The Board of Examiners will not consider permitting you to proceed carrying or trailing fails if you have not attempted the reassessment.

<sup>2</sup> The Board of Examiners will not be aware of a student's immigration status. As a result, some reassessment options may be offered that are not compatible with individual student visa restrictions. Students should consider all options in conjunction with applicable visa restrictions.

Reassessed modules are normally capped at the pass mark of 40 unless you have extenuating circumstances which are accepted by the Board of Examiners.

The PHAIS Assessment Policy states that reassessment should by default take the same format as the original mode of assessment. Where a module is assessed exclusively by exam, it will be reassessed exclusively by exam. Where a module is assessed exclusively by coursework, it will be reassessed exclusively by coursework.

Where it is not possible to offer reassessment in the same format as the original, PHAIS will offer an approved alternative.

Resit exams

Resit exams are usually scheduled to take place in late August and early September or 'out of residence' in the Summer of the following year. A considerable amount of useful revision material for each module is available on Moodle. Students can contact staff, particularly Module Supervisors for the modules they are resitting if they need help with revision or specific queries (do not leave this until the last minute as staff availability will be reduced throughout the summer). Staff can give individual feedback on summer exam performance, if requested.

Exit Awards

If you decide to withdraw from your course before you finish, or you do not meet the requirements to be considered for your full award, you may be awarded an exit award which may be at a lower level, if appropriate.

Extenuating Circumstances

Extenuating circumstances are circumstances beyond your control which cause you to perform less well in your assessment than you might have expected, or in some instances, may prevent you from submitting coursework or attending an exam entirely. In general, valid extenuating circumstances will be of a medical or personal nature that affect you for any significant period of time and/or during assessment.

If you do need to make an extenuating circumstances claim, you should first read the guidance very carefully and seek advice from SU Advice or the Student Services Hub. Please be prepared that you may need to include supporting evidence with your claim.

Extenuating Circumstances claims must be submitted via MyEssex by the appropriate deadline.

Your department will review your claim at an Extenuating Circumstances Committee and determine whether it will be accepted or rejected. The Board of Examiners will determine an appropriate course of action, such as permitting further reassessment opportunities for uncapped marks. Please note that the Board of Examiners cannot award extra marks even where there are serious extenuating circumstances.

Learning Technologies and Systems

Learner Engagement Activity Portal (LEAP)

LEAP is our student centred, personalised engagement tool. LEAP displays your engagement with university resources and activities. An algorithm within LEAP gives a weighting score to each activity and combines your use of these resources and activities to produce an overall engagement indicator. There are 5 engagement indicators (high, good, partial, low and very low) which will help you map and better understand your engagement pattern over time based on your class attendance, utilisation of Moodle etc. Full details on the resources included in LEAP, the engagement ratings and how LEAP uses your data can be found on the LEAP webpage.

By providing you with a more holistic view of your studying experience, LEAP offers you the opportunity to take control of your own learning and make more informed choices about your studies, enabling you to:

- Reflect on your academic activities and overall engagement to make informed decisions about your academic studies
- Review the notes created in LEAP from meetings with Tutors or other university staff
- Check your attendance and ensure the information is correct

Tutors and other university staff may use the information in LEAP to:

- Suggest ways you could achieve better outcomes
- Check that all is well and offer information, advice and guidance
- Help you in areas of your studies that you find challenging

The University has a Student Engagement Policy which provides a structured approach based on support and mutual decision-making to maximise the success and achievement of every student.

Student Voice

At the University of Essex, the views, ideas and feedback of our students are at the heart of what the University does. The time students take to offer feedback is hugely appreciated and this feedback, both positive and developmental, is used to help make short and longer-term improvements, both to the experience of current students, but also for Essex students of the future. You can do this in a number of ways at Essex through your Student Voice.

Student Representatives

You can contact or volunteer to be a student representative who represent the voice of fellow students in departmental Student Voice Groups (SVG) and other University level committees.

Student Voice Groups

Student Voice Groups (SVGs) are made up of student representatives and members of staff. SVGs typically meet once per term and provide an accessible arena for students to discuss with staff issues connected to teaching, learning and student support. They also provide an opportunity for the department or school to consult with students and receive feedback on new proposals. Such proposals are recorded in SVG logs, where specific details are requested in order to facilitate the feedback.

Student Surveys

Student satisfaction surveys enable the University to gauge overall satisfaction amongst students. When the results have been reviewed and analysed, the University can then enhance your experience of learning at Essex by closing the feedback loop.

National Student Survey

The National Student Survey \(NSS\) is an independent survey commissioned by the Office for Students aimed mainly at final-year undergraduate students. The survey provides students the opportunity to provide feedback on their University course and experience. The feedback you provide will be used to help shape the future for your fellow students and published on the Discover Uni website to help prospective students make informed decisions about where and what they want to study.

UK Engagement Survey (UKES)

The UK Engagement Survey \(UKES\) is a national survey for undergraduate students. It invites you to reflect on your time at University so far in relation to your course and wider learning experience. The survey is run each spring term and is open to first, second and some third/final year students.

We're keen to make sure students have the best possible experience while studying at the University. To do that we need to know what we are doing well and what we can do better. The survey is a chance to reflect on how you study and what might help your studies in future. The results also help the University and Students Union to make changes that will improve what we do in future and to make sure we keep doing the things that are of value to students.

If you're eligible to complete the survey, we will contact you to invite you to take part.

Student Module Feedback

Every year, we will ask you to complete Student Module Feedback. This survey allows you to feedback on each of the modules you have studied. Receiving feedback at this level is critical for the University to understand what works well, and what could be improved, from the perspective of students. All feedback will be summarised and discussed by SVGs and will inform reports written for central University committees as part of our quality assurance processes.

There are also many other satisfaction surveys taking place, to ensure students are happy with the services the University of Essex provides. From time to time you will be invited to participate via an email.

If you have some feedback but don't know who to tell, email: studentvoice@essex.ac.uk

Your Department will also welcome your feedback. They will have a range of quick feedback mechanism for you to use. Contact your departmental office if you are not sure what these are.

You Are Essex

Graduation and Awards

Once the Board of Examiners has met, it can take between 7-10 working days for your results to be published. The University's publication of results schedule can be found online and you will be notified once this information is available. As soon as your results are ready, you will be sent an email and directed to a password protected web page. You will be able to see your marks obtained and any decisions that you must make in order to progress to the next stage of study.

Award documents

You will be able to access your full academic transcript electronically via your Higher Education Achievement Record \(HEAR\). Your Higher Education Achievement Report \(HEAR\) not only showcases a full record of your academic achievements, but also any activities you have undertaken and logged through the Big Essex Award, and any other awards and prizes that you may have received.

This will be updated after the successful completion of study each year, and final HEAR will be issued upon conferral of your final award.

Upon conferral of your final award, you will receive both an electronic and hard copy award certificate. Your electronic Certificate will be available on your GradIntelligence account within 5 working days of award conferral, and you will be contacted by the Graduation and Awards team regarding issue of your hard copy Certificate.

You will have full access to your GradIntelligence account for life. You will be able to share your HEAR and Certificate with employers and other universities by providing them with a University-certified record of your achievements.

Graduation ceremonies

The culmination of all your hard work! Graduation ceremonies take place at our Colchester Campus in the Ivor Crewe Lecture Hall with a departmental Reception held afterwards on campus. All eligible students studying at our Colchester, Loughton and Southend Campuses will be invited to attend their course's ceremony at the next available Graduation. Confirmed dates for future graduation ceremonies are published online.

We hold two Graduations per year: one in Spring and one in Summer. More information on the dates and ceremonies held for each Graduation, including eligibility and how and when to book your place at Graduation, will be published at the start of each academic year on the Graduation webpages.

References

Requesting references from members of staff

If you require a personal reference, always ask permission from a member of staff before giving their name as a referee. You should consider from whom it is most appropriate to request a reference and who will be best equipped to evidence your character and performance in the subject.

For example, final year project supervisors, year organisers, and core course supervisors are likely to be more suitable than lecturers that have taught you on a first-year option course. Every reasonable effort will be made to meet a request for reference for a student who has undertaken study within our Department. Requests received from students who have graduated from the University within the last three years will be prioritised. Requests received outside of this period may, of course, be met if a member of staff is equipped with the necessary information and is willing to provide a reference.

It is always helpful if you can provide the member of staff with details about the course or job you have applied for and, if relevant, a CV or other summary of your qualifications and experience. Please try to ask for references in good time – it is not always possible for a member of staff to write a reference immediately.

Copies of references

A copy of any reference provided will be retained within our department for no longer than three years for taught students.
