Welcome

Welcome to the Department of Economics and thank you for choosing to study with us

We are delighted that you have chosen to study at Essex and hope that your time here will be both enjoyable and successful.

Essex provides a stimulating and challenging environment in which to study. At the same time, we also offer a friendly and approachable Department to support students throughout their studies. We strive to maintain the highest standards of teaching and research. We have been ranked top 5 in the UK for research excellence (REF 2014), we are ranked in the top 20 for Economics in the UK (The Times and the Sunday Times Good University Guide 2019). We are also ranked among the top one hundred and fifty departments on the planet according to the QS World University Rankings (2019).

The Department of Economics at Essex is one of the very best in Britain. On behalf of the Department, I encourage you to take an active part in the academic as well as in the social life offered here. We wish you every success in your studies.

Professor Christian Ghiglino

Introduction

This Handbook is designed to provide you with an overview of all the essential information about the University and the Department of Economics. Your Student Handbook provides details of your department, including staff and contact details, facilities and ways to communicate and receive updates, as well as information relating to your course of study at Essex, including Rules of Assessment and the related policies, prizes awarded by the department each year, student feedback and meetings, and University regulations regarding progress, appeals and extenuating circumstances.

At our three uniquely intimate campuses we celebrate diversity and challenge inequality. Whatever your background, race or sexual orientation, you are part of a vibrant community that lives, learns and plays together.

Essex is about more than just getting a degree: we have so much to offer our students! This Student Handbook contains information on your Essex Experience, including the Students’ Union, sports clubs and societies, Essex Sport, Careers Services, campus information, IT support and services and our extensive range of student support and services.

The Student Directory contains a wealth of other helpful sources of information which can be found at https://www.essex.ac.uk/student.
Practicalities and Getting Started
You’ve made it to Essex! We’ve outlined below the most important things you need to make sure you do as soon as possible to get set up and started at Essex.

Complete your Registration
Whilst you have accepted your offer and made your way to Essex, you still need to officially register yourself. At the start of each academic year, all new and returning students are required to register at the University. Registration is not only a formal procedure of enrolling you into the University, but it also connects you up to a number of vital systems you will need access to, including your IT account. As part of this process, you will need to complete online pre-arrival, physically attend a registration event on campus, and also activate your IT account.

To begin your registration, use one of the links below:
New students: https://www.essex.ac.uk/welcome/registration
Returning students: https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/registration/returner-registration

eNROL
You may have to select options to select as part of your course structure. If you do, you must choose the options that you wish to enrol on before the academic year begins. New students will access the system from the end of August. Returning students will access the system from the April preceding the next academic year. Departments will approve your selections within a few weeks of them being made, and timetables will take module enrolment into account when planning for the next academic year. Early module enrolment will ensure that you know which modules to attend and where the lectures and classes are ready for the start of term. You can view and choose your specific options through the eNROL system.

eNROL: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/enrol/Account/Login?ReturnUrl=%2Fenrol%

Explore your Campus
There is a broad range of facilities across each of our campuses to support your living and learning experience at Essex. We provide study-based services, like the IT helpdesk and group study pods, but also various food and drink venues and leisure facilities. The Students’ Union also runs a wide range of facilities, bars and general stores. Full details on all on-campus facilities feature on our student webpages and in the campus guide you received with your welcome information when you joined us as a student member.
https://www.essex.ac.uk/life/student-facilities

Get connected
Your IT account
You will need to set up your IT account and create a password through the University website www.essex.ac.uk/it/getaccount. You will need to register an external email address and passphrase to set up your account. Once you’re set up, you can access your email, log on to lab computers, connect to campus wi-fi, and much more.

You must change your password within four weeks of your account being created, and then once every four months after that. You should receive email notifications to change your password shortly before it is due to expire. The easiest way to change your password is online at: www.essex.ac.uk/password. If you have forgotten your password, you can also reset it through this link using your external email address and passphrase. If you have forgotten those also, you should either visit the IT Helpdesk or call 01206 872345. Make sure you keep your password safe and do not share it with others!

Campus Wi-fi
Wi-fi is available across all campuses. Simply find the ‘eduroam’ network on your device and use the same log in details as your IT account to connect up!

Essex Apps
The University has a variety of online systems and platforms designed to enhance your learning and help make processes, such as submitting coursework, easier. We have rounded up the top platforms, portals and apps that you need to know about!

MyEssex
MyEssex is your online account. You can use it to see your timetable, keep your personal details up-to-date, request replacement registration cards or supporting documents, such as council tax exemption certificates, see how you’re doing on your course, let us know if you’ll miss a lecture or class, contact the Student Services Hub, and much more.

https://www.essex.ac.uk/myessex/

PocketEssex
PocketEssex is the University's official app for students, giving you access to comprehensive information about living and learning at Essex. The app provides an interface of icons that act as a portal through to a variety of useful links, areas and resources. PocketEssex links to many areas that MyEssex does in a handy app form, but also takes you through to many other key contacts and resources, such as the Students' Union, FindYourWay and the Library.

Find Your Way
We know that finding your way from one room to another can be challenging to start with. Our Colchester campus in particular can be difficult to navigate with a historically complex room numbering system that leaves even our final year students still baffled! FindYourWay is our interactive campus map that can either be accessed via PocketEssex, downloaded as its own app, or via web browser. It is designed to help you get from A to B on either the Colchester or Southend campuses with quick and easy directions.

http://findyourway.essex.ac.uk/

Your personal belongings
University insurance cover is very limited for the belongings of students using graduate study rooms. Therefore, you are strongly advised to take out personal insurance cover for your possessions. This is especially important for items of particular value, such as personal electronic devices (i.e., laptops, phones and tablets). The University does not cover costs for personal damage or loss of your possessions; only in instances where the University has been negligent would a claim be viable for compensation for personal belongings.

Right to Study
The University must ensure all students have the right to study at the University of Essex for the whole duration of their course(s). If you require immigration permission to study in the UK, this will be checked when you first register on your course and as necessary thereafter.

For Tier 4 sponsored students, you will have conditions attached to your leave restricting study and work; some nationals are required to register with the Police. You are expected to have the finances in place to pay your tuition fees and living costs throughout your course and do not have access to state housing or benefits.

The Tier 4 rules and guidance include restrictions relating to the length of time you can spend studying in the UK and academic progress; this may mean you are unable to take an academic option offered to you or that we can’t continue to sponsor you under Tier 4. The University has many duties as a Tier 4 sponsor and must ensure we remain compliant in order to retain our Tier 4 licence. Find out more on the University’s website: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/immigration/ and https://www.essex.ac.uk/about/governance/regulations

If you would like to get additional support with your English language skills, you can find helpful information and a range of resources here: https://www.essex.ac.uk/welcome/international-students

English classes for the dependants of international students and staff (ECDIS)

The Department of Language and Linguistics offers dependants of international students and staff at the Colchester Campus the chance to improve their English language, through our ECDIS programme, at no extra cost. Classes are taught at three basic levels: Elementary (A1/A2), Intermediate (B1/B2) and Advanced (C1/C2) and will focus on listening, speaking, reading and writing.

The Essex Experience

The University and the Students’ Union have developed our Student Charter as a part of our ongoing commitment to create an outstanding environment that offers the highest standards of teaching, research and support in an international and multi-cultural community. The Student Charter reiterates that you are a member of the University of Essex community, not just while you are a student or recent graduate here, but for life. You can read the full Student Charter at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/experience/charter

You are welcomed to a truly diverse community where differences are celebrated and individuality is valued. Your contribution is welcomed and encouraged based on your own thoughts and experiences. As part of our community you will have the freedom to explore, experiment, and challenge your discipline and have your ideas shaped by peer and professional knowledge from all over the world.

Your time at Essex will be an experience beyond the classroom; there is so much available to all students so you can make the most of your time at Essex and have a truly unforgettable Essex Experience.

Equality, Inclusion and Diversity

The University recognises the value of diversity and is committed to equality of opportunity within the University. It therefore aims to create the conditions whereby students and staff are treated with dignity and respect, and solely on the basis of their merits, abilities and potential, regardless of race, ethnic or national origin, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, age, socio-economic background, family circumstances, religious or political beliefs and affiliations, or any other irrelevant distinction.

The University is committed to a programme of action to ensure that this policy is fully effective. You can find out more information on the University’s policy, and get in touch with any comments or questions, here:

Athena SWAN and Diversity in the Department of Economics

The Department of Economics is committed to the inclusion, progression, and success of all groups in its research, education and leadership activities. We aim to foster equality of opportunity and a positive culture for all, where our differences are respected and valued. We encourage anyone interested in the creative and productive atmosphere we foster to join us, and will support you in your career progression, from the first year of undergraduate study to Professorship.

The Athena SWAN Charter

“The Equality Challenge Unit’s Athena SWAN Charter was established in 2005 to encourage and recognise commitment to advancing the careers of women in science, technology, engineering, mathematics, and medicine (STEMM) employment in higher education and research.

In May, 2015, the charter was expanded to recognise work undertaken in arts, humanities, social sciences, business, and law (AHSSBL), and in professional and support roles, and for trans staff and students. The charter now recognises work undertaken to address gender equality more broadly, and not just barriers to progression that affect women.”

The University of Essex was awarded the Athena SWAN Institutional Bronze Award in November, 2013, in recognition of our continuing work to support women in STEMM. The University also joined the WISE Campaign https://www.wisecampaign.org.uk/ in November, 2016. The Department of Economics is expecting to apply for a bronze award during the 2019-20 academic year.

For full details relating to Athena SWAN please see: https://www.essex.ac.uk/staff/diversity-and-inclusion/what-is-athena-swan

Embrace the Essex Values

We are different at Essex. We are brave, we are bold, and we embrace challenges and drive change. Our values are underpinned by this very culture. While we full heartedly encourage students to challenge the status quo and explore the unknown, we expect that students do so respectfully, intelligently and act as true ambassadors for the University.

The University’s Code of Student Conduct can be found on the website: www.essex.ac.uk/governance/regulations

Essex Spirit, social media and What’s on?

Keep up-to-date with important news, events and offers from across the University with our Essex Spirit newsletter, delivered directly to your Essex email address.

International Students

We are proud to be a global community and we recognise that living and studying in the UK may be very different from your own country. Essex has a wide range of support covering academic and health and wellbeing issues. Our friendly and professional staff will be able to guide, give advice and assist you during your time at Essex.

You can find helpful information here –

https://www.essex.ac.uk/welcome/international-students and http://www.essex.ac.uk/student/student-communities/international

Mature and part-time students

We appreciate that studying as a mature student can present challenges. This is particularly true if this is your first experience of higher education and you have other commitments and responsibilities to meet, such as work and family. We want you to be aware of the support available so that you can make the most of your time at Essex.

You can find more information here: www.essex.ac.uk/students/groups/mature-students.aspx
Student Ambassadors

Be a Student Ambassador, make a difference to others and also make a difference on your CV! Student Ambassadors help to promote the University and higher education. You’ll be a valued part of the Student Recruitment and Outreach teams. Keep an eye out for Student Ambassador vacancies on CareerHub+ in January.

Essex Sport

Be active at Essex! Learning doesn’t just happen in the classroom. Keeping active during your studies can help relieve stress, increase productivity, provide a sense of community and improve your employability.

Essex Sport offers a great range of sport courses, social active sessions, over 300 fitness classes a month and a state-of-the-art gym, so there’s something for everyone!

Visit the Essex Sport website or download the app to discover all the ways you can keep active during your time at Essex.

Students’ Union

We’re famous for our Students’ Union at Essex, and for good reason. Here you’re not just a member of a normal Students’ Union; you’re part of a family. We’re here to cheer you on as you walk into exams and to help you absolutely destroy the competition in interviews and land your dream job. The Students’ Union is run by students for students, and you have the ability to shape what we do. From suggesting what we serve in our venues, to changing aspects of your course, we are here to represent you and work with you to make amazing things happen. There are opportunities to join 45 different Sports Clubs, to get involved with our BUCS teams which offer a wide individual championships programme of activities taking place across the year and lots of competitions take place on Wednesdays and weekends, or if you don’t want to commit to a regular team check out our Just Play programme of activities.

https://www.essexstudent.com

Get involved

We have 120 existing Societies where you can meet people with similar interests, challenge yourself with something new or, if you can’t find what you’re looking for, start your own society!

Furthermore, we have our very own letting agency SU Homes designed to offer help and support for students to find off campus accommodation.

https://www.essex.ac.uk/departments/economics/people/academic
Academic support hours

All teaching staff hold regular weekly academic support hours during term time. During these support hours, you can go and see them to talk about anything to do with your modules, from difficulties you might be having with your seminar readings, to discussions about feedback on your coursework. These academic support hours operate on a ‘drop-in’ basis - this means that you do not need to book an appointment; you can just turn up during the time advertised. Details of academic support hours are posted on office doors, on Moodle and on the staff profile site on the department website. If you cannot make the advertised time for any reason, you can e-mail your tutor to make an appointment.

Please note that academic staff do not hold regular academic support hours during the vacations, and may, on occasions, be away from the University on research trips and visits. Therefore, if you need to get in touch with them during the vacation periods, you should e-mail them in the first instance.

Your Class teachers

Your class teachers are the teachers in charge of the class you have been allocated to. To find out who your class teacher is, simply look for their name in your online timetable. You can contact your class teachers about the material covered in each module, if there is something you don’t understand or have missed. Please note that class teachers DO NOT determine the allocation of students to classes, CANNOT grant extensions to assignment deadlines and CANNOT give permission for absences from classes or tests. Class teachers mark assignments and tests.

Your Module Tutor

Your module tutor is the academic in charge of the content and logistics of a module. You can find out your module tutor for each module online on the Moodle website of the module (https://moodle.essex.ac.uk/) or on the module directory (https://www1.essex.ac.uk/modules/).

Director of Undergraduate Studies

You can contact the Director of Undergraduate Studies about course or module changes, and general issues concerning the administration of Undergraduate modules and Economics courses.

Director of Undergraduate Projects

You can contact the Director of Undergraduate Projects if you have a question about your final year project (module code EC831). The Director of Undergraduate Projects is responsible for the assignment of students to project supervisors, for approving project titles and/or changes to titles.

Staff research interests

Our research is at the heart of our activities and feeds directly into our undergraduate and postgraduate teaching. Our academic staff are the authors of numerous major publications; see our academic staff profiles for full lists of individual research.

Student Liaison Officer

You can contact the Student Liaison Officer (SLO) if you have general concerns about your studies, or personal problems. The SLO is responsible for organising support for students enrolled for schemes administered by the Department of Economics. The SLO also chairs the Student Voice Groups (SVGs).
Your Personal Tutor
Your Personal Tutor will be a member of the academic or administrative staff from within the Department of Economics and is here to help you feel connected to your department throughout your course. Your Personal Tutor is someone who you can talk to if you have questions about your course or encounter any difficulties that may affect your studies, and can recommend and direct you to other support services on campus that might be able to further help and support you. Get in touch with the administrative team to find out more about your Personal Tutor.

Your Peer Mentor
Peer Mentors are current second or final-year undergraduate students from the Economics Department who can help you to settle into life at the University of Essex. All first year students are assigned one and your Peer mentor should contact you before you arrive at Essex. You will also have the opportunity to meet your Peer Mentor at the Induction Day in Welcome Week; from them on, how often you contact or meet your Peer mentor is entirely up to you. You may find that they are an incredibly useful source of information, especially during the first few weeks of term.

For more information on mentoring at Essex visit: https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/mentoring

Becoming a Mentor
If you are in second or final-year and are interested in becoming a Peer Mentor, a call for mentor applications is usually circulated in the Spring term. If you have any questions in the meantime, you can contact our Student Engagement Officer for further details.

Departmental resources and facilities
A wide range of facilities and resources are available for all students to access and use as part of their study at Essex. Each department and school also has a selection for the exclusive use of their students. Below is a summary of the facilities and resources that are likely to be most useful to you.

Open door policy
At the Department of Economics, we operate an open door policy: this means you can just pop in to our offices for a chat about anything regarding your degree. Our administrative offices are open from 9am until 4pm.

Printing, Photocopying and Scanning
All students can print, copy and scan for free at Essex! There are over 100+ multi-function devices that can be used at various locations across our three Campuses. Facilities are available at the Library, Roding House and Unit 4 at Loughton Campus. In Southend, printing facilities are available on 5th floor of the Gateway Building and in The Forum.

Simply log in to the devices using your Essex login and password, or tap with your student card. These devices can also scan to email and feature mobile printing. Whilst printing is free for all students, please think of your carbon footprint and only print if necessary.

Please note that there are strict laws about infringement of copyright; more information can be found on the library website which explains what and how much you are permitted to copy. Usage is monitored and subject to a fair use policy.

https://library.essex.ac.uk/copyright

Noticeboards
Every department and school has their own noticeboard(s) providing information on staff, courses and classes, updates, careers, events and opportunities. The Department of Economics noticeboards are located in the administrative corridor in the 5B level.
Admin spaces: safe spaces to talk
If you need somebody to talk to, whether it is a friendly chat or a confidential conversation, you can approach any member of the administrative team, our offices are safe spaces where you can express your concerns or search for support.

Departmental prizes
Each year the Department of Economics is pleased to award prizes signifying excellence. The following prizes are awarded to undergraduate students:

First Year Prize - Awarded for the best overall performance by a student enrolled for the first year of an Economics course.

Second Year Prize - Awarded for the best overall performance by a student enrolled for the second year of an Economics course.

Final Year Prize - Awarded for the best overall performance by a student enrolled for the final year of an Economics course.

The Project Prize - Awarded to the student who submits the most outstanding undergraduate Economics research project.

Roy Bailey Prize - The Editorial Board of the Essex Economics Students Journal will award a prize for the best assignment submitted to the EESJ each academic year.

Special Prize for Academic Achievement - Awarded from time to time in recognition of outstanding academic merit.

Communication
It is important to keep up to date with information relating to your department. This section also summarises how the department will communicate updates with you and provides some guidance on communicating with University staff.

By email
The University’s departments and schools will predominantly use e-mail for routine communication between staff and students. Your Essex e-mail address will have been added to the relevant e-mail groups specific to your department or school, course and modules to ensure that you receive the essential information, updates and general communication related to your study and issues that may affect you. It is therefore vital that you check your Essex email regularly. It is recommended that you check your Essex email each day to ensure you do not miss any important updates to classes and assessment.

If you are elected to a Student Representative position, work as a Student Ambassador, or volunteer in another form or means, it is even more important to regularly check your Essex email as should other students and staff need to get in touch, they will do so via your Essex email.

You will also automatically be subscribed to a small number of opt-out lists, again, based on your course. These will be used to send useful information and, while some of this may be about events, marketing or other opportunities, we try to avoid sending too much. To opt in or out of such lists, please visit: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/it/services/forms/default.aspx

How you should communicate
While email can be a quick and easy means of communicating, you should still consider how you structure and write each email to ensure it is appropriate when contacting members of staff at the University. How you communicate is a reflection on your professional and academic self, and so we have provided some useful tips to consider when constructing an email for different purposes. These are also useful when contacting professionals and academics outside of the University and are widely recognised as a matter of courtesy in the United Kingdom.

The level of formality

- If you are writing to your lecturer for the first time, it is good practice to use a relatively formal manner and use their correct title, for example, ‘Dear Dr Bercow’ or ‘Dear Professor Hammond’. If you are unsure of your lecturer’s title, you can find their full details here: https://www.essex.ac.uk/departments/economics/people/academic. If no title is noted, then you should use the member of staff’s full name.

- If your lecturer signs their reply using their first name, then it is generally acceptable to reply using just their first name in your response; if not, continue to address them with their full, formal name.

Identify yourself

- In the first few weeks of term, academic staff will be busy getting to know all of their students. Therefore, it is important that you begin by introducing and identifying yourself to them as they will not know every student right away. For example, ‘I am taking module AB123 and was at your lecture on Research Methods on Tuesday morning...’

- You should always use your Essex email as your full name will appear to the member of staff you are emailing, but still remember to sign off your email with your name, including your preferred name if this is different to your official legal name on your record and account.

Consider your question

- You should always check that who you are contacting is the most appropriate person to answer your query. The useful department contact list provided earlier in this section should help you determine who will be able to help you on a range of different queries.

- Before emailing the member of staff, you should make sure that you have checked the resources provided, including the University website, Student Directory, Departmental Moodle pages and this Student Handbook in case the answer to your question can be found in one of these.

If your question is particularly long or complex, it may be quicker and more useful to see someone in person. Your department office is open daily and all staff hold academic support hours when you can just drop in. If you cannot make the advertised support hours, or wish to notify the member of staff before you drop in, you can always email them beforehand to arrange an alternative time or make them aware you will be coming along.

MyEssex

Your MyEssex student portal will alert you to updates about modules and other aspects of your course and studies. It is important that you check your MyEssex regularly, as well as email, to ensure you have the most up to date information.

By telephone

You will only be contacted via phone in emergencies, or when it is otherwise necessary to receive an immediate response, but you should ensure that you provide the University with a contact number with your personal details.

By text message

In instances where a last minute change has been made, and the department or school need to communicate this with short notice, you may receive a text message to communicate the change, such as a lecture or class cancellation. You should ensure that you provide the University with a contact number with your personal details.

By letter

Letters may be attached to your Essex email or posted to your term-time address, so please make sure the University has your current contact details. Your address and contact details can be updated via the MyEssex portal.

Social Media

Learning and Teaching

The University is committed to providing equal opportunities for all our students regardless of where or how you study. Our diverse student population is taken into account when developing the resources, services and facilities on and off campus, when we create our courses, write publications and course materials, and set our policies and regulations.

The academic year

The academic year uses a week numbering system that covers the 52 weeks of a calendar year, but corresponds to typical term dates. So, the start of the academic year is week 1, which is Welcome week.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Week numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Autumn</td>
<td>2-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spring</td>
<td>16-25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer</td>
<td>30-39</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

You can view the University’s week numbers with the equivalent dates in the week by week calendar. The University’s key dates include an overview of the start and end of each term and exam periods.

The official University teaching day runs from 9am to 6pm, Monday to Friday and you are expected to be available during these times in term time to attend teaching events. You may be required to stay later for Departmental Mid-Term tests, or Make-up tests.

Module enrolment

You may have had to select some optional modules as part of your course structure. If this is the case, you should have done this prior to the start of term. More information on how to do this can be found in the ‘Getting Started’ section of this handbook.

Module codes explained

Module number

Level:
4 = First Year
5 = Second Year
6 = Third Year

Period:
FY = Full Year
AU = Autumn Term
SP = Spring Term

Department code:
EC = Economics

Module codes are usually referred to by their short code, i.e. EC111

Occasionally you may see CO tagged on to codes, e.g., EC120-4-FY-CO this just means the module is taught on the Colchester Campus.
Modules
A full list of Economics modules available this academic year and all their details can be found in the Department of Economics Module Directory.

Please note:
- Not every module may be offered each year.
- It may be necessary to change the term in which a module is taught at short notice.
- Moodle contains material (e.g. reading list, lecture notes) that you will find very useful for the modules you are taking. Moodle can be found here: https://moodle.essex.ac.uk/
- Questions about the academic aspects of economics modules should be addressed to the module tutor. Questions about your course should be addressed to the department that administers your course.

Module Pre-requisites
Some Second and final-year modules may have pre-requisites: this means you need to have passed specific modules in previous year(s) in order to be able to select the module with the pre-requisite. For more information visit the Department of Economics Module Directory – and click the link to the relevant module to see the pre-requisites.

If you would like to enrol for a module but do not have the necessary pre-requisites, you may request permission for these to be waived. Pre-requisites can only be waived if there is reasonable evidence that a standard of at least the equivalent to the pre-requisite has been achieved via other qualifications. Contact the relevant Director of Undergraduate Studies if you wish to discuss this.

Co-requisites
In some instances, there may be some modules that must be taken at the same time.

Teaching timetable
Once you have chosen all of your modules (if applicable) and received confirmation, they will appear on your personal timetable. Each student has a personal timetable, this shows you when and where your teaching is taking place, as well as who is teaching you. Check your personal online timetable regularly for up to date teaching information. You can access your timetable on most mobile devices, including smartphones and tablets.

You may find that the first week of your timetable is blank if you do not have any course commitments during Welcome Week (week 1). Due to unforeseen, unavoidable circumstances, there may be some room changes during the year; therefore, it is vital that you regularly check your timetable and Essex email where any changes will be communicated immediately.

Information about teaching timetables, including requesting a class change, reporting a timetable issue and accessing your individual timetable can be found at: https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/timetables/your-timetable

Course structure
Each course at the University has its own syllabus, full details of which can be found in the University’s Programme Specifications Catalogue at:

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/programmespecs/

Programme specifications provide key information, including the aims and learning outcomes of your course. Your own course structure, including your specific programme specification, can be found in the MyStudy section of your MyEssex homepage.
Learning Outcomes
Each course has learning outcomes, as outlined in the Programme Specifications. Course learning outcomes are categorised into knowledge, intellectual, practical and key skills, and are also defined more specifically at a modular level highlighting the particular aims, learning outcomes and methods of assessment for each module. Having this information means that you can measure your progress against the outcomes, for example when reviewing coursework feedback, and they can be used to guide you when undertaking independent study.

Objectives of Undergraduate Economics Courses
Please find details of the objectives for each course on our website: Objectives of Undergraduate Economics Courses

Credits
You will take 360 credits worth of modules in total during your course at Essex. This is divided into 120 credits per each year of study, with the addition of the compulsory module EC123 Career Skills in Economics, which carries zero credits.

Module information
Most modules taught reflect the individual research interests of members of our academic staff. New modules are regularly explored, researched and developed in collaboration with the University’s Quality and Academic Development Team to expand our transformative educational offering at Essex.

Choosing Modules
The Department of Economics Module Directory contains all the information on our modules. If you require any further information, please see the administrator relevant to your year of study, or contact your Personal Tutor.

Core, Compulsory and Optional Modules
For information on core, compulsory and optional modules please see Rules of Assessment.

Changing Modules
Where you must make a choice as to which optional modules you undertake, you should make every effort to research the module and discuss with your Personal Tutor and department before selecting them. In instances where you need to make a change to your module choice, you may do so up until the second week of the Autumn Term. If you wish to change an optional module after the deadline, you should seek advice from the Department that runs the particular module to which you wish to change.

Late changes may be permitted, but will be subject to the approval of the department that runs the module and the relevant Dean. Late changes of modules that run for one term or less will not usually be permitted. Students may not change modules that are core or compulsory for the course for which they are registered.

Module Directors
Module Directors are responsible for the individual modules, which make up courses. They design the modules, teach them and examine them. They monitor student progress and talk to students about any academic issues related to their particular module.
Module Materials
Reading lists for each module can be found on TALIS. All other information and module materials can be found on Moodle.

Study Abroad
There are many opportunities for Economics undergraduates who wish to study in the United States (including Hawaii), Australia, Canada, Europe, Hong Kong, Japan, Latin America, the Middle East, New Zealand or Russia for one term or one year as part of their University of Essex programme of study.

Visit the Essex Abroad website for further information: www.essex.ac.uk/essexabroad/

- We have exchange agreements with a wide variety of universities and can help students to select the most appropriate destination.
- By studying abroad, you can enhance your CV and get you valuable access to experience another culture and way of life.
- Spending an extended period of time in another country provides an unparalleled opportunity to enhance your personal development.
- Employers value international experience in today’s global economy.
- You can study abroad in the third year of your degree.
- The mark you obtain will contribute towards your final degree result ONLY IF it does not reduce the degree classification you would obtain in a 3-year degree.
- Usually, you won't pay any tuition fees to your host university, and there are different deals on what you pay at Essex, depending on whether you take the full year abroad or just a term. Please see here for more information - https://www.essex.ac.uk/study-abroad/essex-students/funding-and-finance
- Also, in many cases, the cost of living elsewhere could be lower than Colchester, so you should not assume that study abroad is an expensive proposition.

Economics Courses with a Year Abroad
All our economics degrees, whether single honours or joint honours, include the Year Abroad variant.

Please note: the rules of assessment for 4-year courses with a year abroad differ from 3-year courses in how the overall degree class is determined. For full details, please see the Rules of Assessment for Four Year Honours Degrees: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ppg/ug/default.aspx

Going to another University during the Summer Vacation
Spend the summer vacation between the second and third year studying at another university in the European Union (EU) via the Study Abroad Programme.

Open to students enrolled on EC831 Economics Project. The purpose of the time spent abroad is to enable students to begin work on their projects.

Coming to Essex from other Universities in the European Union
The department welcomes study abroad students from other EU countries.

- Students coming to Essex as part of their programme should seek advice about modules from the Departmental Study Abroad Officer (DSAO) or the relevant Director of Undergraduate Studies - Academic Staff with Specific Responsibilities
- Module choices must be approved by the Departmental Study Abroad Officer (DSAO) – Academic Staff with Specific Responsibilities
- Assessment:
  - Autumn term only students: take exams at end of autumn term
  - Spring term only students: take exams during the summer term
Study abroad students (including Junior Year Abroad) and International Programmes

The department welcomes students from abroad who wish to study economics but not as part of an Essex degree.

- International programmes students wishing to enrol for economics modules should seek advice from the Departmental Study Abroad Officer (DSAO) or relevant Director of Undergraduate Studies – Academic Staff with Specific Responsibilities
- The Departmental Study Abroad Officer (DSAO) or relevant Director of Undergraduate Studies must approve economics module choices - Academic Staff with Specific Responsibilities
- Assessment:
  - Autumn term only students: take exams at end of autumn term
  - Spring term only students: take exams during the summer term

It is also possible to do work placements abroad, please refer to the separate student guide to placement years, which is available via the Faculty Employability Co-ordinator.

Work Placements

All/some Economics courses may also be taken as four-year courses, to include a Placement Year. It is your responsibility to find a work placement year, however, the Industry and Placements Team can help prepare and support you in finding placements and will advertise relevant placements available to Essex students. If you are interested in undertaking a Placement Year, or other work-based opportunities that may be available to you and your course, you can find more information, including who to contact, here:

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/careers/placements/default.aspx

Library Services

At our Colchester Campus, the Albert Sloman Library on Square 5 is open 24/7 and has a variety of study spaces over six floors, including individual and group work areas. The library offers a wide range of learning resources, online and in print, with a dedicated Helpdesk, live chat and the opportunity to book appointments with your Subject Librarian to help you through your studies and beyond.

library.essex.ac.uk

The library has a team of Subject Librarians who can help you to find appropriate resources for your assignments and show you how to search effectively. They can also provide advice on referencing and academic integrity, using reference management software, and evaluating sources. Find out who your subject Librarian is and get help with your subject area at library.essex.ac.uk/studyres

Skills for Success
We are committed to ensuring that every student is able to get the most out of their academic study and achieve their potential on their course. Whether you need support with researching, assignment writing, mathematics and statistics, digital skills, or English language for academic purposes, support is available to help you succeed during your time at University. Reach your potential and enhance your chances of success with classes, workshops, drop-in clinics and on-line resources. Find out more at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/study-resources/tdc/

The use of proofreading services
Many students seek ‘proofreading’ services at some point during their studies, but different editing practices at times go on in this name that may not be appropriate in an academic context, and could potentially qualify as an academic offence. In a context where work is to be assessed, the University is keen to ensure as far as possible that students understand what proofreading work should entail and the acceptable boundaries to which any proofreading or editing must adhere.

The University maintain a list of local freelance proofreaders who offer services to students and staff at Essex that have read and agreed to abide by the University’s policy and guidance on proofreading. The University’s full policy and guidance can be found along with the list of local freelance proofreaders on the website:

https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/academic-skills/proofreading

Before considering the use of proofreading services, all students should first discuss their work with their personal tutors.

Learning a Language
Learn a language at Essex to increase your global and cultural awareness. Language learning can give you the confidence to work and travel internationally, expand your options for studying abroad, and get a competitive edge when you’re looking for a job. There are a number of ways to do it, so look online to discover the best option for you.

www.essex.ac.uk/study/why/languages

EC123 - Career Skills in Economics (Employability module)
The employability module is a compulsory module for all students in Economics. It is a co-curricular module carrying zero credits. Attendance, assignments, and participation in the module are compulsory and you must satisfactorily complete all assignments in order pass the module.

This module is different from any other Economics module in the sense that there is no exam and it runs over the whole of the three years of undergraduate studies. Upon the completion of the module each Economics student will acquire a portfolio of employability skills and understanding of the working world necessary to successfully compete in the graduate labour market after graduation.

For more information, all the resources for this module are available via Moodle.
Attendance Monitoring (Count me in)

Recording attendance
You’ll need to record your attendance at all teaching events using the electronic reader in the teaching room. Just ‘tap in’ for every timetabled teaching event you attend.

Your attendance at lectures and classes has a significant impact on how successful you are in your studies. At Essex, we monitor attendance so we can identify students who may need extra guidance and support.

You should not tap in and then immediately leave the teaching event; you should not tap in for someone who is not attending the class. These are recognised by the University as a formal academic offence and may result in disciplinary action being taken against you.

Recording an absence
If you are unable to attend a teaching event, you must report your absence in your MyEssex portal.

Your department consider the reasons and may record it as an authorised absence. Accepted reasons for absence from teaching include extenuating circumstances (such as illness), participation in certain events (such as a significant extra-curricular University or SU Society event or Jury Service). Examples of reasons that will not be accepted include oversleeping, or missing the bus or train. Be prepared that you may need to provide evidence, including medical evidence, if relevant.

If you need to report an absence from an examination or class test, you must report your absence in your MyEssex portal and submit an extenuating circumstances form. You can find out how to do this in the Extenuating Circumstances section of this Handbook.

Please contact your Personal Tutor, department staff or the Student Services Hub for advice and support, particularly if you are going to be absent for several weeks.

Lost or faulty cards
If you lose your card or it is faulty, please go to the Student Services Hub to get a new card and have your attendance record updated (a fee may be applicable).

Fitness to practise
Fitness to practise is only applicable to students on certain professional courses (such as nursing or social work) and is designed to ensure and regulate that a student is suitable for engagement in the relevant profession. Students are notified at the point of enrolment if their course of study is subject to the terms of this procedure. Students enrolled on courses where a practical professional placement is required have additional responsibilities placed upon them regarding not only their conduct but also their professional suitability as outlined in relevant regulatory and/or professional body codes of practice. Failure to meet these responsibilities can lead to the Breach of Professional Conduct with the Fitness to Practice and Termination of Training Procedure being invoked. If this applies to you, you will have been told by your department. You can find the full Fitness to Practise procedure online at: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ppg/

Making changes to your study

Changing your course
If you are thinking about changing course, we recommend that you speak to someone in your school/department as soon as possible. They will be able to advise you if there are any specific requirements for the course to which you are looking to change. If the course you are looking to change to is within a different school/department, then you should also speak to someone in that department. If you are thinking of undertaking a placement year or year abroad, you should check the requirements for these programmes and contact the Industry and Placements Team or Essex Abroad Team.

There are deadlines in place for when you need to change course by, so please make sure you are aware of these deadlines before requesting to change. Further details on changing course and the relevant deadlines can be found at www.essex.ac.uk/students/course-admin/changing-course.aspx or by visiting your Student Services Hub.

You should investigate your potential new course by looking at course information on the department’s web pages, talking to students on the course and speaking to tutors. You should also look at our Rules of Assessment for the new course to check whether there are any course-specific requirements.

Maximum period of study
Undergraduate students have a maximum period in which to complete their studies. This is set at the point at which you register, and is normally the length of your programme plus two additional years. This is to allow some flexibility in cases where you find you must intermit, or you fail a stage of study and must repeat it, or you want to transfer to a new course and must retake a stage of study.

Thinking of leaving or taking a break from your studies?
You may experience doubts at some point during your studies, if you’re thinking about leaving Essex, we’re here to support you and give you the advice you need to help you make an informed choice.

Intermission is a temporary withdrawal or leave of absence from the University and provides you with the opportunity to take a break from your studies. Normally, this is for reasons beyond your control (e.g. health or personal problems) although other reasons are permitted. Intermission must be approved by the University first, so if you are thinking about intermitting, we strongly advise you to contact your department and your Student Services Hub to talk to one of our advisers.

You should also read our guidance on intermitting very carefully at www.essex.ac.uk/see/intermit. If your intermission is agreed, we will also give you the advice and support you need to help you carry on with your studies.

Withdrawing is the formal process for permanently leaving your programme of study and the University. If you are thinking of withdrawing, you should seek advice from your Department or the Student Services Hub at the earliest opportunity. It is very important that you discuss your circumstances with the University and follow the formal procedure for withdrawing. If the university is not formally notified, then you may risk continuing to incur further tuition or accommodation fees. More advice and information is available at www.essex.ac.uk/see/withdraw.

The use of personal devices in teaching
You can use laptops and tablet PCs during teaching classes for purposes related to the class you are attending. You should refrain from using your mobile phone during all teaching events, except in cases where a lecturer uses a programme which requires these devices to be switched on for participation.
Assessment and Good Practice

All schools and departments at the University should employ a variety of assessment methods designed to ensure that the learning outcomes of each module, and course, have been successfully met by the student.

The Regulations relating to Academic Affairs which govern assessment at the University can be found online:

www.essex.ac.uk/governance/regulations

Rules of Assessment

The Rules of Assessment are used to calculate your results. There is a main set of rules for 3-year and 4-year courses, but some departments also have additional variations which can be found in the Variation to the Rules of Assessment.

In the Department of Economics, we have a variation to the Rules of Assessment which can be found here:

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ppg/ug/default.aspx

Each module you will take will have a credit value which you are awarded if you successfully complete the module. You need to obtain a certain amount of credits to be awarded your degree, and the Rules of Assessment and the Framework for undergraduate courses give you more information about this.

The following is only a summary of the key points. You should read the rules and make sure you understand them. If you need advice, ask your personal tutor, departmental administrator, or SU Advice.

Core, compulsory and optional modules

To understand the requirements to pass your course, you need to know the status of the modules that you are taking. You can find details of the status of your modules in Section C of your programme specification via MyEssex.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Core</th>
<th>You must take this module</th>
<th>Must pass this module. No failure can be permitted.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Compulsory</td>
<td>You must take this module</td>
<td>There might be limited opportunities to continue on the course/be eligible for the degree if you fail it.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Optional</td>
<td>You can choose which module to study</td>
<td>There might be limited opportunities to continue on the course/be eligible for the degree if you fail it.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Most modules in each year must be passed, with only a small number of credits, if any, being allowed to be failed in the degree.

Outside Options

Modules in other departments taken by students registered for Economics courses are assessed according to the rules for the module. Economics students must abide by the rules of the department who administer the module. For example, if you take a language module e.g. Initial French you will be assessed for that module according to the rules set out by the Language and Linguistics department whether or not they are similar to the rules for Economics modules.
Ethics in research

All research involving human participants, whether undertaken by the University’s staff or students, must undergo an ethics review by an appropriate body and ethical approval must be obtained before it commences. You can find our Guidelines for Ethical Approval of Research Involving Human Participants here - https://www.essex.ac.uk/staff/research-governance/ethical-approval-resources-for-applicants - along with a link to the online Ethical Approval application form in ERAMS (https://erams.essex.ac.uk/do/essex-login/login).

‘Human participants’ are defined as including living human beings, human beings who have recently died (cadavers, human remains and body parts), embryos and foetuses, human tissue and bodily fluids, and personal data and records (such as, but not restricted to medical, genetic, financial, personnel, criminal or administrative records and test results including scholastic achievements). Research involving the NHS may require and research involving human tissue or adults lacking capacity to consent will require Health Research Authority approval.

Academic Integrity and Academic Offences

The University expects students to complete all assessment with honesty and integrity and to follow our conventions for academic writing (including appropriate referencing of sources) and ethical considerations. If you don’t meet these expectations, then you may be charged with having committed an academic offence, a matter the University takes very seriously.

It is your responsibility to make yourself aware of the regulations governing examinations and how to correctly prepare your coursework. An academic offence can take place even if you didn’t mean to commit one, and examples include plagiarism, falsifying data or evidence, and communicating with another candidate in an examination.

If you aren’t sure what the conventions are, particularly in relation to referencing, you should ask your department and contact Skills for Success via the Student Services Hub.

Self-enrol on the online course! On Moodle, the course ‘Academic Integrity, Authorship and Plagiarism’ has been designed to develop your understanding of academic integrity, authorship and plagiarism. If you approach all your coursework with academic integrity, the chances that you will commit an academic offence are greatly reduced. To self-enrol in the course, just follow this link:

https://moodle.essex.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=5844

More information about academic offences and getting support can be found at:

www.essex.ac.uk/about/governance/policies/academic-offences.aspx.

Methods of Assessment in Department of Economics

Whether a module is core, compulsory or optional, all methods of assessment are compulsory. If you do not complete coursework or attend examinations, and do not have extenuating circumstances to support your non-submission or absence, then you are at risk of being withdrawn from the University.

Economics assessment methods comprise of:

- Coursework, which consists of tests, assignments, term papers, projects and dissertations.
- Final examinations

Please note that some Economics modules, but not all, are subject to a special rule called – The Threshold rule. The threshold rule consists of a calculated final aggregate of the relevant module based on whatever gives the best result:
- 50% of the module aggregate is coursework related and the other 50% is the final exam mark; OR
- IF the student passes the coursework aggregate (obtains 40% or better), the mark of the exam will represent 100% of the module.

To find out if this special rule applies to any of your chosen modules, visit the Moodle page of the relevant modules or access the Module Directory and select the desired modules.

Coursework

Coursework is compulsory and failure to participate in coursework is interpreted as evidence of lack of academic progress. In severe cases, students with poor academic progress can be required to withdraw from the University (even before the final examinations). Your academic progress is monitored throughout the year and failure to complete coursework indicates that you are effectively not taking the module – and therefore don’t deserve to take the final exam.

Aside from its educational value, coursework can act as a sort of “insurance” against a bad examination performance. Imagine what might happen if you are ill on the day of the final exam and unable to perform to the best of your ability. A low mark in just one module can affect the class of your entire degree.

Coursework is compulsory in all modules.

Progress Procedures

The proportion of submitted coursework will be reviewed at the end of the autumn term. If students haven’t submitted at least 50% of the required coursework they will be called in to see their personal tutor. This means if you have 4 pieces of assessment (including all of those listed above) if you submit less that two pieces of coursework you will be called in to see your tutor. If you have 5 pieces of coursework and submit less than 3 you will be called in to see the tutor. Should students not attend this meeting or do not show signs of improvement they will be referred to a departmental progress officer. Please note students are expected to submit ALL coursework and attend all tests; these minimums are laid out to provide guidance as to when you will be reviewed under the progress procedures.

Preparation and Submission of Assignments

Assignment question sheets are normally available at least two weeks before the submission deadline via Moodle. (Module supervisors may, at their discretion, make assignment questions available earlier than this.) It is your responsibility to obtain a copy of the assignment questions.

While you may study the subject matter covered by an assignment with your friends, it is important that your assignment is all your own work. It must adhere to the University’s rules and department conventions on good practice. If you have any concerns about whether your assignment breaches the rules, please seek advice from your class teacher or module supervisor. Be careful not to copy other students’ submissions, and don’t allow others to copy yours.

Referencing in coursework

Respecting authorship through good academic practice is one of the key values of higher education in the UK.

The University takes academic offences very seriously. You should read the sections of this handbook, which talk about referencing, coursework and examinations very carefully.

Referencing is a key academic/scientific skill. It is how you will acknowledge all sources used within a piece of work. You must reference all works used directly (quotes) and indirectly (paraphrasing and summarising).
Referencing allows you to give credit to authors' researchers' concepts and ideas and results, demonstrate your breadth of reading and knowledge on a subject, direct readers to your sources, and avoid plagiarism.

You should always use the best available sources of evidence, such as peer reviewed journals and recognised books.

Your departmental referencing style is Harvard. To find out about your departmental referencing style and for help with referencing, visit the library website: http://library.essex.ac.uk/referencing, here you will be able to get in touch with our subject librarian and book an appointment with them or request access to a workshop related to referencing.

Also, we suggest you to take the Academic Integrity Moodle course, which not only reinforces your understanding of Academic but also helps you referencing and citing properly:

https://moodle.essex.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=5844

Submission of coursework

You must submit all your assignments, term-papers, projects and dissertations to the online coursework submission system, called FASER. You can access FASER via MyEssex or at this web address: http://faser.essex.ac.uk/. Here you will find full instructions on deadlines and on how to upload a digital copy of your assignment to the web.

We cannot accept submissions of assignments, projects and dissertations via email and neither can your module supervisor or class teacher. In this case, FASER ensures complete anonymity of marking and feeds into the assignment tracking process for marking and feedback.

You are encouraged to log on to FASER at the start of the year so that you understand how it works before you reach your first deadline. There is a trial module and deadline for you to use as a practice submission. There is a helpful guidance on how to use FASER on the Help & Support of the page.

Ideally, you should upload your assignments in formats such as .doc, .docx or PDF (unless the module teacher says otherwise). So if you carry out your assignments using software such as Open Office or Pages, please make sure that when you save your file, you do it in a Microsoft Word compatible format or in PDF.

You can upload as many draft versions of your work as you like onto the server and are encouraged to use this as a safe and secure area to store your coursework. This can help to avoid the problem of your computer crashing at the last minute and your important files being lost.

Important: you should only submit files that you want to be marked. You can do this on FASER by right clicking on those versions you DO NOT need and then selecting ‘make draft’. This will allow the system to keep the files that are not a draft as a Final submission. See the image below for more explanation.
If you don’t do this and we receive several versions of a file with the same title, just the most recently uploaded file will be taken as the final version and sent for marking.

Technical Problems with FASER

If you are experiencing technical difficulties, please contact the Learning Technology Team - ltt@essex.ac.uk - as soon as possible to find out if this is a University issue or whether it may be a problem with your computer. You can also contact IT Services helpdesk on it.helpdesk@essex.ac.uk or visit them at the Silberrad Building for technical support. If you contact the teams above, keep your communications This will count towards your claim when submitting a late coursework form should you need to.

If you are confused or unsure about how to upload your assignments, or are having any non-technical difficulties, you can also contact/visit your Undergraduate Administrator.

Remember: try to submit your assignments with plenty of time ahead of the deadline date and time; this would help you avoid last minute issues that could delay your submission.

Late submission of coursework

We have a single policy at the University of Essex for the late submission of coursework in undergraduate courses: all coursework submitted after the deadline will receive a mark of zero. No extensions are granted. A student submitting coursework late will have the University’s and Department’s arrangements for late submission drawn to their attention. The policy states that you are required to submit a late submission form along with satisfactory evidence to support your claim within 7 days of the assignment’s submission deadline. This will then be considered by a Late Submission Committee, who will decide whether the mark of zero will stand or the late submitted work can be marked.

The University’s full Late Submission policy and further information can be found on the website: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/late-submission.aspx

Where a student is unable to undertake an assessment by the deadline, and it is deemed impossible to consider a late submission request due to the nature of the assessment (e.g. absence from in-class tests, practical assignments and presentations), an extenuating circumstances form should be submitted which will be considered by the Board of Examiners. Please see more on Extenuating circumstances further down.
Tests
Attendance to tests is compulsory on the day and time specified for the test. You will not be allowed to take a test at another time — the reason is simply to preserve the fairness and integrity of the test.

It is your responsibility to check the dates, times and locations of all tests in your modules. Please arrive at the test room about five minutes before the test commences. Make sure that you bring your registration card with you. This will be checked during the test to confirm your identity and attendance.

Although tests may be scheduled for a one (or two) hour time slot this does not mean the test will last that long. The module supervisor should announce the duration of the test in advance, contact the module supervisor if you’re unsure about the duration of the tests, the number of questions you’re required to answer and the amount of choice you’re allowed.

Please note that:

- Cheating in a test is an academic offence.
- If you are absent from a test your mark will always be recorded as zero.

If you are unable to attend a test due to extenuating circumstances, you need to submit an Extenuating Circumstances online form along with any supporting documents to your claim. Upon approval of your claim, you might be allowed another opportunity to take the test, usually in the form of a make-up test. The make-up test will be set for a date and time at the discretion of the department. There will be one, and only one opportunity to do the make-up test. You cannot do a make-up test that you have already passed just to improve your mark.

Term Papers
Term papers are compulsory. They are extended essays submitted in many (but not all) second and final year economics modules.

You must submit your Term Papers onto FASER only.

Term Papers are assessed differently from assignments (see below).

- Your module supervisor will provide a list of Term Paper titles early in the term in which the module is taught. You must choose a title from the list provided.
- You must submit a Term Paper in each module for which an Assignment constitutes the coursework.
- No extensions are granted to Term Paper deadlines unless there are relevant extenuating circumstances.
- Term Papers normally have a maximum length of 3000 words (including footnotes, tables, appendices and bibliography).
- The examiners may award a lower mark than otherwise for Term Papers exceeding the word limit.
- Term Papers must be word-processed. They should be double-spaced with a 12-point typeface and margins of at least 1 inch.
Making the best of your Term Papers & Projects

For suggestions on how to make the most of your Term Papers and Projects, please go to:

https://moodle.essex.ac.uk/mod/resource/view.php?id=562605

Final Year Project

The Project consists of three parts:
- Literature review and project plan
- Oral and slide presentation of the literature review and project plan
- Dissertation (which will carefully incorporate a literature survey)

Presentation

This will be scheduled for the 3rd or 4th week of Spring term. (You will be given a scheduled time to present; if you have a valid and evidenced reason, you can request that this be rescheduled.)

You must submit your presentation slides via FASER before your scheduled presentation date.

Dissertation: Friday, 24th April, 12:00 mid-day
Submit: One online copy via Online Coursework Submission (FASER):
https://www.essex.ac.uk/e-learning/tools/FASER

Maximum lengths:
- Literature Review & Project Plan: 2,000 words
- Dissertation: 8,000 words (including the literature review, footnotes, appendices, bibliography, etc.)

Attend all lectures, pc-lab sessions, and workshops given in support of EC831. Lecture and class participation will be recorded in several ways, including attendance, and participation in Moodle forums.

Moodle- check the module material on Moodle for all lectures and lab-sessions.

Oral and slide presentation of literature review and project plan

The project includes a mandatory oral presentation with accompanying slides, worth 15% of the mark. We have introduced this to help our students to develop a wider range of skills that will help you becoming more employable in the labour market. Gaining an experience in public speaking and preparing a slide presentation will give you a ‘leg up’ in the academic and professional world!

We will assign you a time and a location (a ‘session’ with other students) to give your presentation, likely to be in weeks 3-4 of Spring term; if the initially proposed time conflicts with your schedule, you can request a change. You will give an oral presentation - with slides - of your literature review and project plan, lasting about 10 minutes, in front of a member of the academic staff. After this the lecturer will take three minutes to ask you questions about your presentation. The lecturer may also interrupt you briefly during your talk to ask clarification questions.

Remember to bring your presentation on a USB stick, as well as submitting it via FASER in advance.
Presentations will take place as a ‘session’ with several other students. After your presentation, the lecturer will give you some immediate feedback. The mark for your presentation will be given along with the mark for your literature survey and project plan.

Marking guidelines for presentations are given in the table further down.

Further guidance on presentations, and supporting reading materials and resources will be provided.

Amending your Title

- Changes of titles are only permitted with the permission of your supervisor as well as from the Director of Undergraduate Projects. To request a change, please contact your supervisor and the Director of Undergraduate Projects; they will respond, and will update your details or give comments.
- Significant changes should not normally be made after the end of the Autumn Term, but small changes for clarity and focus will still typically be permitted.

Project supervision

- You will be allocated to a supervisor according to the topic of your project.
- Supervision can only be received by your designated supervisor, typically during their designated academic support hours. (Other academic staff may be consulted on matters that relate to the modules you have taken with them, during their designated academic support hours.)
- It is important that you contact your supervisor no later than the second week of the Autumn Term (by 11 October 2019) and again no later than the second week of the Spring Term (by 24 January 2019).
- You should expect to see your supervisor for up to four hours spread throughout the Autumn and Spring Terms.
- All project supervision should be completed no later than the last day of the Spring Term. No further supervision should be expected during the Easter holidays.

Academic progress

- You are expected to take the initiative to contact your supervisor!
- By the end of week 8 (middle of November) – show a first draft of your literature review and project plan to your supervisor, along with a draft of your presentation slides.
- By the end of February – show a first draft of your dissertation to your supervisor, demonstrating a substantial part of the project has been completed.

Criteria for Literature Review and Project Plan, Oral Presentations and Slides, and Dissertation

Please see details of the Criteria for the literature review here Literature Review Criteria

Please see details of the Criteria for the Oral and Slide Presentations (Of the Literature review and project plan) here – Presentation and Slides Criteria

Please see details of the Criteria for the Dissertation here- Dissertation Criteria

Presentation and length
Pay particular attention to the guide to good practice in assessed work, you may also like to read 'Excellent Dissertations!' by Peter Levin (Amazon or Open University Press, McGraw-Hill). Also see "Writing Economics," by Neugboren and Jacobsen, and the materials provided on the EC831 pages.

You must include a complete bibliography in the form of a list of references

Every entry in the bibliography must be referred to at some point in the project and every citation in the project must be included in the bibliography!

Submission

- Complete the final version of your project at least one full week before the deadline to allow for last minute delays in printing and checking.
- Online submission only of your project - no later than 12.00hrs (midday) on the specified deadlines!
- No extensions are granted for the submission of projects. In particular, extensions are not normally granted because of any form of computer failure.

Any overlap between your project and any other submitted work must be acknowledged in your project, in accordance with University Regulation 6.20. The regulations can be viewed on the following website: https://www.essex.ac.uk/governance/regulations

Examinations

Attendance to examinations is compulsory and if you do not attend them and do not have extenuating circumstances then you are at risk of being withdrawn.

You can find your personalised exam timetable online at: www.essex.ac.uk/examtimes/ The exam timetable will be published on the date shown at https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/dates-and-timetables.aspx and you will receive an email to your Essex account when it is available to view.

You must bring your registration card and exam entry form with you to the exam. You will not be allowed entry without them. Remember to check your exam entry form carefully and email the Examinations Office (exams@essex.ac.uk) if there are any errors.

For exams that are more than an hour long, you will not be allowed to enter the examination room if you arrive later than 55 minutes after the start of the exam. If your exam is only an hour long, you will only be admitted up to ten minutes after the start of the exam.

You can download a guide to examinations and watch a short video at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/default.aspx

Sample and past papers

Sample and past exam papers can be found in Moodle, under the relevant module. Please note that if you cannot find a past exam, please contact the relevant Module Supervisor or your Undergraduate Administrator.

Revision classes

Revision classes take place during the summer term. These classes are important timetabled sessions and will require your attendance. During these classes, you will be able to get a grasp of the material that will be evaluated in the final examination.
Exam stress
Exams create stress for most people, but there is a lot that you can do to prepare for them and help manage the levels of stress associated with exams. The University’s Skills for Success Team offers a series of Exam Workshops run by specialist staff. These sessions cover revision planning and techniques, as well as sessions on relaxation and how to cope with stress. Staff in the Student Services Hub can also provide sessions on stress management if required.

Calculators in Examinations
If you are allowed to use a calculator in your examinations, the only models you are permitted to use are the Casio FX-83GT X, Casio FX-85GT X, Casio FX-83GT PLUS or the Casio FX-85GT PLUS.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

<td><img src="image4" alt="Casio FX-85 GT PLUS" /></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The only exception is for certain Finance exams that require a financial calculator, in which case you may use the Hewlett Packard 12c (all variants) or the Texas Instruments BAII Plus (including the BAII Plus Professional).

A limited number of Casio calculators will be available to borrow on the day of your exam from the Exams Office on a first-come, first-served basis, on production of your registration card. Please note financial calculators will not be available.

Dictionaries
Please note that dictionaries are not allowed during exams. If you take a dictionary into an exam, you will be reported on suspicion of committing an academic offence. Even if English is not your first language, you are still not entitled to use a translation dictionary or any other kind of dictionary.

Moderation and marking
The University’s Marking Policy can be found online and includes our policy and procedure on the moderation of work.

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/quality/university_policies/examination_and_assessment/marketing_policy/default.asp

Assessment of Assignments and Tests
- Class teachers mark assignments and tests with guidance from the module supervisor.
- The module supervisor is responsible for maintaining a consistent standard of marking.
- Marked assignments and tests are normally returned to students within 4 weeks of the submission deadline.
- You are not permitted to re-submit assignments or re-take tests in order to raise your mark. Therefore, you should take special care in advance to prepare your assessed work.
- You must keep hold of your marked assignments and tests as they may be required to be sent to the external examiner.
- Appeals against an assignment or test mark should be made initially to the class teacher. If an agreement cannot be reached, the module supervisor should be approached. If agreement with the module supervisor cannot be reached, an appeal may be made in writing to the Head of Department.

Different sorts of work
While the same principles hold for all formally assessed work, there are differences of emphasis for answers written in different circumstances – closed examinations compared with submitted work such as assignments, essays or projects.

For assignments such as tests and examinations. it is recognised that a closed examination answer written under a time constraint cannot attain the detail and length of submitted work written with access to other materials and without a time constraint.

For assignments such as term papers, projects and essays. the layout, style and presentation are important because they affect the clarity of the exposition. The clarity of presentation will affect your mark. Examiners are entitled to penalise work that is unclear for whatever reason (most commonly incoherent organisation or ambiguous use of English).

- In particular, you must pay close attention to bibliographies and citations in assignments, essays and projects. (Examination or test answers do not normally include page references to cited works but, where appropriate, these should appear in other forms of submitted work.)
- Similarly, the level of factual detail is expected to be greater for submitted work than is possible in examination answers. This does not condone factual errors in examination answers but, rather, it acknowledges that the amount of detail is likely to be smaller than for submitted work.
- Assessed work is marked according to an absolute, not relative, standard. Quotas are not assigned for the proportion of marks in any class, including fails and firsts.

Scaling of marks
Final examination marks are rarely scaled.

In the rare event that the marks for a module are scaled, this would be done only with the approval of an external examiner on recommendation of the Head of Department and reported to the relevant Board of Examiners. Occasionally the Head of Department will approve scaling coursework marks (e.g. of an in-term test).

Word limits or other length constraints
Examiners may penalise work that exceeds the published upper limit.

The limit for Undergraduate Economics Term Papers is 3,000 words.

For projects (module EC831) the word limit is 8,000 words. Note: this is a maximum; a shorter word count is often preferable. Brevity and clarity are valued as long as your work has sufficient and appropriate content.

- Length constraints for assignments will be specified, where needed, separately for each piece of work.
- The limits are for the whole piece of work, including appendices, footnotes and bibliography.
- Do not confuse length with the amount of effort needed to complete the work: conciseness of expression is a merit. Quality is more important than quantity.
Examiners have the discretion to award a lower mark than otherwise for work that exceeds the stated limit. The markers will make an assessment after reading the whole piece of work. The size of the penalty will reflect the extent to which:

(a) the limit is violated;
(b) the work lacks focus;
(c) the style is repetitious;
(d) the material included is irrelevant;
(e) the coverage is unnecessarily broad to address the question.

Mark penalties are not stated separately though examiners may note their concern in feedback sheets.

There are no specified limits (upper or lower) for examination answers.

Examinations are designed in such a way that you should need the whole of the time allowed to complete them.

You have the discretion to allocate the time for each answer as you wish.

It is normally advisable to allocate time approximately according to the marks for each question, e.g. if you are asked to answer two equally weighted questions in two hours, allocate roughly one hour to each.

Anonymous marking

Anonymous marking is when your work is marked anonymously, i.e. your name is not attached to the piece of work for marking.

At the Department of Economics we operate anonymous marking. Where it is practical to do so, all coursework which contributes to your final module mark should be marked anonymously. Where this is not possible, departments will inform you in advance of the assessment task.

For assignments, to maintain anonymity, we encourage you to identify your work using your registration number. Your registration number is on your student ID and it is made of seven numbers in total, usually starting by the number 1.

All formal examinations at the University of Essex are marked anonymously. You will be provided with a candidate number on your exam entry form. This will be in large print in the centre of the page. This is the number you should write on your examination scripts. It is important that you do this so we can, once the paper has been marked, allocate the marks to your record correctly. Please do not confuse the exam candidate number with your registration number or your PRID code.

Moderation

Moderation is a process separate from that of marking and provides assurance that the assessment criteria has been applied appropriately. When work is moderated, it means that a second member of academic staff takes a random sample of the work for a particular assessment and reviews the marks given. In instances where the moderator feels marks may not be entirely appropriate, the moderator would not change individual marks for the work, but would liaise with the first marker to agree whether marks should be reviewed across the particular piece of assessment or module. Should a review of marks be agreed, this may lead to marks being adjusted accordingly.

Second marking

Second marking is where a second marker marks the work but has access to the first marker’s marks and/or comments. Where two members of staff are involved in marking a piece of work, the markers should make every effort to agree a mark, rather than merely averaging the two marks. Departments keep a full record of both individual and agreed marks for all work which is second marked.
Re-marking of coursework
You may, under certain circumstances, have the right to request a re-mark of your coursework. Should you feel that your work needs to be reviewed and potentially re-marked, you should first contact your department to advise you accordingly and assess whether you meet the criteria to be able to submit a request for re-marking.

The re-marking of work is included within the University’s Marking Policy can be found here: www.essex.ac.uk/quality/university_policies/examination_and_assessment/marketing_policy.

In order to make a request, you will need to complete a form. By submitting your work for re-marking, your marks are not guaranteed to increase, but the mark awarded after re-marking will override your original mark. Therefore, please be aware that in all incidences where coursework is re-marked, it is possible that your marks could go down, as well as up.

Appeals
Appeals on academic grounds can be made following the meeting of the Board of Examiners and the publication of your results. There are limited grounds available to appeal on and strict deadlines to adhere to. As such, we strongly advise all students thinking about making an appeal to contact the SU Advice Centre.

More information about appeals, including the deadlines and forms to complete, can be found online at: www.essex.ac.uk/see/appeals.

External Examiners
External Examiners are typically academics from other universities, but may also be from industry, business or the relevant profession depending on the requirements of the course. They give an impartial view of the course and independent advice to ensure that courses at the University meet the academic standards expected across UK higher education. External Examiners write reports on the courses and modules they are responsible for which are made available to you via your department. Unless the External Examiner has been specifically sent work to arbitrate on a dispute between internal markers, the External Examiner’s role will in assessment will be as a moderator. You can find the name and institution of the External Examiner for your course and modules by looking on the Programme Specifications Catalogue and the Module Directory.

You can find out more about how the University uses External Examiners here: www.essex.ac.uk/quality/external_examiners/default.asp

Please note: you may not contact External Examiners directly under any circumstances. If you have any concerns about the quality and standards of your course, please contact your Student Representative, your Head of Department, or the Students’ Union.

Extenuating Circumstances
Extenuating circumstances are circumstances beyond your control which cause you to perform to less of a standard in your coursework or examinations than you might have expected, or in some instances, may prevent you from submitting coursework or attending an exam entirely. In general, valid extenuating circumstances will be of a medical or personal nature that affect you for any significant period of time and/or during assessment.

Your department will review your claim at an Extenuating Circumstances Committee and determine whether it will be accepted or rejected. The Board of Examiners will determine an appropriate course of action and the corresponding methods to take into account your extenuating circumstances, if appropriate, such as permitting further reassessment opportunities for uncapped marks. Please note that extra marks cannot be given in light of extenuating circumstances.
If you do need to make an extenuating circumstances claim, you should first read the guidance very carefully and seek advice from SU Advice (https://www.essexstudent.com/advice/) or the Student Services Hub (https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/advice-and-support). Please be prepared that you may need to include supporting evidence with your claim. Extenuating circumstance claims must be submitted via MyEssex by the appropriate deadline noted.

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/myessex/ExtenuatingCircumstancesHome.aspx

Further information and the full Extenuating Circumstances Policy can be found on the website:

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ext-circ.aspx

Feedback

Feedback is “information that can help you to improve your learning of the material and therefore the marks you achieve on assessed works”

The Department of Economics aims at providing its students with as much feedback as is reasonably achievable to help them in developing their knowledge, to build confidence in their abilities, and to improve their academic performance over time.

Throughout your studies you will receive feedback in many ways. However, you may not always recognise all the ways in which feedback is provided to you. Therefore, it is important that you realise how the Department of Economics provide feedback on your assessed work and on your learning so that you can get the most out of your work here.

Students are encouraged to take an active and responsible approach to their own learning and development and so they must make the most of the various forms of feedback available.

How the Department of Economics provides you with feedback:

- Feedback on Assessed Work: you will receive a Mark on all your assessed coursework. You will receive written comments on your assessed work which explain why a given mark was awarded to you. The written comments take the form of a Feedback Sheet for Term Papers and the final year Project (including the Literature Review and final year Presentation) which will be provided through FASER. It takes the form of small notes on the scripts of Tests and Assignments. The written comments should guide you as to improvements you can make and allow you to reflect on your performance. The expectation is to return feedback on assessed work within 20 working days from the submission;

- Test and Assignments solutions: on top of any comments on the scripts, the detailed solutions of Tests and Assignments will be placed on the relevant modules in Moodle. Those solutions represent very valuable feedback since you can use those solutions to work back over the test and assignments papers to learn from any mistake you may have made;

- Examples of Term Papers and Projects (including Literature Reviews): you can find good examples of Term Papers and third year projects in the Essex Economics Students Journal (EESJ) at: http://www.essex.ac.uk/economics/ug/journal.aspx

This represents an important source of feedback and guidance for writing term papers and final year projects;

- Classes and Lecture interaction: these are feedback sessions. By attempting to solve the weekly problem sets and then seeing the solutions of those problem sets in class you learn directly about your understanding of the material. Moreover, during classes you have the possibility to ask questions and generate discussions. The solutions combined with guidance provided in classes are an invaluable source of feedback. Questions and answers during lecture can also provide you with feedback on your understanding of basic concepts as they are presented to you;
- Revision Classes and Lectures: before the final exams, in each module, there will be revision classes or revision lectures. During those sessions you have the chance to revise previous exam questions. This provides you with feedback on how a good exam answer is supposed to be in a given module. Moreover, the material will be available on Moodle.

- Academic support hours: Academic support hours (of both lecturers and GTAs) are for academic support and may also include feedback. Academic support hours are an opportunity for you to meet with your Lecturers and GTAs on a one-to-one basis and receive invaluable feedback and guidance or simply discuss interesting economic topics. Furthermore, in the case you feel that the feedback you have received on assessed work is unclear or you want to have more explanation about it you can use academic support hours to ask for clarification.

Remember that you must take the first step to receive feedback: you must do problem sets in order to obtain feedback on your own work rather than the generic feedback that solutions sets provide. You must ask questions in order to receive the feedback that answers provide. You must attend classes to listen and participate in the discussions. You must go to academic support hours to receive one-to-one support. This first step is your responsibility. It is also your responsibility to act on the feedback so that you realise your improvements.

If you need general support on how to use feedback, your lecturers, class teachers, and supervisors are ready to help.

The Board of Examiners

The Board of Examiners meet at the end of the Summer Term and use the Rules of Assessment to determine whether:

- you have passed the modules you have studied and can be awarded credit
- you have met the requirements to progress to the next year of your course
- you have met the requirements to pass your course and what classification you will receive for each module
- how your module marks are used to calculate your degree classification
- you are eligible to receive a merit or distinction

If it determined that you have not passed sufficient credits to progress to the next stage of study, or, for final year students, to graduate, the Board of Examiners will also determine:

- what reassessment you could be offered and when you can take it
- whether you must withdraw from your course, with or without an exit award

Examination results

You will receive an email to your Essex email account as soon as your results are published. You can find the publication schedule at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/schedule.aspx

Access to exam scripts

If you want to see your exam script, you should normally make the request within four weeks after the exam to the department responsible for that module. The department should either: let you see the script in the presence of one of the staff responsible for teaching the module or give you a copy or summary of the examiners' comments on your performance. If you need to undertake an exam as part of reassessment on a module, your department will provide you with written feedback on any elements being reassessed.

Students must not attempt to engage the member of staff in discussions about whether the work has been marked correctly. The marks will have been approved by the external examiners and ratified by the examination board.
A student who wishes to view an examination script or project should contact their Undergraduate Administrator. You can find further information about Assessment Policies at:

www.essex.ac.uk/quality/university_policies

Reassessment

You may only undertake reassessment if the Board of Examiners says that you may do so.

If you have to take compulsory reassessment, whether coursework or examination, it is really important that you do this. If you do not, it is likely that you will be unable to progress with your studies at the University. The Board of Examiners will not consider permitting you to proceed carrying fails if you have not undertaken the required reassessment offered.

Reassessed modules are normally capped at the pass mark of 40% unless you have extenuating circumstances, which have been accepted by the Exam Board. Please be aware that reassessment in examinations and coursework carries a fee.

Reassessment is by examination only (except for EC831 - Economics Final Year Project, see below):

- When a module is failed because coursework and exam are both below 40, the resit exam would stand as 100% of the module aggregate.
- When a module is failed because coursework is above 40 but the exam failed, the resit exam would be re-aggregated with the original coursework mark.
- When a module is failed because coursework is below 40 but the exam is above 40, the resit exam would stand as 100% of the module aggregate.

For the module EC831 (Economics Final Year Project), students will be required to resubmit the Project over the Summer, and this resubmission will be 100% of the final mark.

Resit exams

Resit exams are scheduled in early September or ‘out of residence’ in the summer of the following year. A considerable amount of useful revision material is available on Moodle. Students can contact staff, particularly Module Supervisors for the modules they are resitting if they need help with revision or specific queries (do not leave this until the last minute as staff availability will be reduced throughout the summer). Staff can give individual feedback on summer exam performance, if requested.

You can find further information relating to resitting exams at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/resits.aspx

Feedback

If you need to undertake any reassessment on a module, your department will provide you with written feedback on any elements being reassessed.

Exit Awards

If you decide to withdraw from your course before you finish, or you fail too many credits to be awarded a Bachelor's degree, you may be awarded a qualification at a lower level, if appropriate.
Computers, Learning Technologies and your Information

Computers

Using a campus computer

If you need to use a computer on campus our computer labs are the perfect place to study or work. We also have group study pods which are ideal for group projects. You can find a full list of computers available to use on our website: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/it/labs/usage/. Many labs stay open until late and some are open 24/7. Labs may be booked for teaching, and so it is best to check availability first.

As part of your IT account at Essex, all students have full access to:

- Office 365
  Office 365 is an online version of the Microsoft Office suite of programmes. You can access these by logging into your account from anywhere, which means you can use Microsoft programmes from at home too.

- 1TB of OneDrive cloud storage space
  OneDrive lets you create, edit, and share documents online so you can access them from anywhere in the world and from any device.

- 1 GB of local storage
  This is known as your M: drive. You can only access this when logged onto a lab computer on campus. Go to “This PC” and select the M: drive network. If you want to access documents saved here from your personal laptop, you will need to either save them in your OneDrive or transfer the documents in another secure method, such as via USB.

Information on other software available to students and general IT matters is available here: www.essex.ac.uk/it/services/computers-and-software/default.aspx?tab=3

IT Help and Guidance

You can search the Student Directory for more IT information, including how-to guides, answers to frequently asked questions, and links to video screencasts.

https://www.essex.ac.uk/student

If you can’t find what you’re looking for, or if you need to talk to someone, then the IT Helpdesk team are here to assist you further. The contact details for your campus Helpdesk can be found online along with the opening times: https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/it-services/it-helpdesk
Learning Technologies and Systems

eNROL
The eNROL system is an online tool to review and select available modules specific to a particular course and year of study. All new and returning students should use the online system prior to the start of each academic year.

eNROL: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/enrol/Account/Login?ReturnUrl=%2Fenrol%

Learner Engagement Activity Portal (LEAP)
LEAP is our student centered, personalised engagement tool. LEAP displays your engagement with university resources (Moodle, FASER, Listen Again, the Library and university computers usage as well as attendance).

An algorithm within LEAP combines your engagement with university resources and activities to produce an overall engagement indicator. There are 5 engagement indicators (high, good, partial, low and very low) which will help you map and better understand your engagement pattern over time.

By providing you with a more holistic view of your studying experience, LEAP offers you the opportunity to take control of your own learning and make more informed choices about your studies, enabling you to:

- Reflect on your academic activates and overall engagement to make informed decisions about your academic studies
- Discover who your Personal Tutor is
- Review the notes created in LEAP from meetings with Tutors or other university staff
- Check your attendance and ensure the information is correct

Tutors and other university staff may use the information in LEAP to:

- Suggest ways you could achieve better outcomes
- Check that all is well and offer information, advice and guidance
- Help you in areas of their studies that you are finding a challenge

https://leap.essex.ac.uk/login

Moodle
We use Moodle as our online learning environment, to enhance face-to-face teaching. It lets you get to course materials, and has built-in features to enhance learning such as discussion forums, chat facilities, quizzes, surveys, glossaries and wikis.

https://moodle.essex.ac.uk/

FASER
FASER is our online coursework submission and feedback system. Use it to check coursework deadlines, upload coursework and receive electronic feedback all in one place.

faser.essex.ac.uk

Talis Aspire
Talis Aspire is our online reading list system. Use it to find out the details of each week’s reading and to access resources through the library.

Your information

Changes to your information
During your period of study at Essex, you wish to be known by a preferred name or update your legal name on our student record database (ESIS) if your circumstances change. It is important you keep your information up to date. Information about updating your name on your student record is available at: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/course-admin/default.aspx

Keep your information up to date
During your period of study at Essex, your details may change, including your name. It is really important that your information on our student record database (ESIS) is accurate, so make absolutely sure that if your circumstances change that you let us know. Equally, you may wish to be known by a preferred name. You can add this to your record for staff to use, and find more information about updating your name on your student record at: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/course-admin/default.aspx

Your personal information
We collect and hold lots of information about you, your course, and your progress so that we know who you are, what you're doing, and how you are getting on. This means we can support you and also improve our services to reflect the need of our students.

All information about you is kept securely, and access to your information is only given to staff who need it in order to do their job. Where possible, we will ask you for your permission to share.

You have a right to ask for copies of information we hold about you.
www.essex.ac.uk/records_management/request

To find out more about what information we collect, what we do with it, who gets to see it, and your rights under the data Protection Act 2018, read our Privacy Notice for students.

Student Voice

At the University of Essex, the views, ideas and feedback of our students are at the heart of what the University does. The time students take to offer feedback is hugely appreciated. This feedback, both positive and developmental, is used to help make short and longer term improvements, both to the experience of current students, but also for Essex students of the future. You can do this in a number of ways.

Student Representatives

You can contact (or volunteer to be) a student representative who represent the voice of fellow students in departmental Student Voice Groups (SVG) and other University level committees.

https://www.essexstudent.com/representation/

http://www.essex.ac.uk/quality/student_representation/student_rep.asp

Every year, we will ask you to complete the Student Assessment of Module and Teaching (SAMT). This survey will be summarised and discussed by SSLCs and will inform reports written by us for central University committees as part of our quality assurance processes.

Student Voice Groups

Student Voice Groups (SVGs), formerly known as Student Staff Liaison Committees (SSLCs), are made up of elected student representatives and members of staff. SVGs typically meet once per term and provide an accessible arena for students to discuss with staff issues connected to teaching, learning and student support. They also provide an opportunity for the academic department/school/centre to consult with students and receive feedback on new proposals.

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/quality/student_representation/SVGs.asp

Student Surveys

Student satisfaction surveys enable the University to gauge overall satisfaction amongst students. When the results have been reviewed and analysed, the University can then enhance your experience of learning at Essex.

National Student Survey

The National Student Survey (NSS) is an independent survey commissioned by the Office for Students aimed mainly at final-year undergraduate students. The survey provides students the opportunity to provide feedback on their University course and experience. The feedback you provide will be used to help shape the future for your fellow students, and published on the Unistats website to help prospective students make informed decisions about where and what they want to study.

https://www.thestudentsurvey.com

Student Assessment of Module and Teaching

Every year, we will ask you to complete the Student Assessment of Module and Teaching (SAMT). This survey allows you to feedback on each of the modules you have studied. Receiving feedback at this level is critical for the University to understand what works well, and what could be improved, from the perspective of students. All feedback from SAMT will be summarised and discussed by SVGs and will inform reports written for central University committees as part of our quality assurance processes.

There are also many other satisfaction surveys taking place, to ensure students are happy with the services the University of Essex provides. From time to time you will be invited to participate via an email. If you have some feedback but don't know who to tell, email: studentexperience@essex.ac.uk

Counselling services
Our University offers a range of services and resources to support students with a variety of counselling opportunities.

Validium
The University works in partnership with an organisation called Validium to offer short-term counselling to help you explore and work through problems and difficulties that are causing distress and interfering with your life at University.
You might be worried, depressed, confused or feeling bad about yourself. There might be a problem in your family, friendships or with your partner, or you might be experiencing difficulties with your work and exams. Counselling can provide a safe space for you to talk through and explore your feelings.

You can also contact the Validium 24-hour Student Wellbeing Support Line. You will be able to have an initial chat, in confidence, about the difficulties you're experiencing and the support available to you.

Call 0800 970 5020 or +44 141 271 7168.

Chat with Charlie
Chat with Charlie offers online mental health support every evening between 6pm – 10pm. You can get support with exam stress, relationships, low mood, anxiety or anything else which may be troubling you, however big or small it may seem.

Log on just to chat or find out how to get additional support. For more information, contact wellbeing@essex.ac.uk.

https://mnessexmind.org/chat-with-charlie/

Nightline
Established at Essex in 1970, Nightline is a friendly help and support service run by students, for students. We work under strict confidentiality ensuring complete anonymity, and we’re always willing to listen. From tea and toast to camp beds, whether you’re waiting for a taxi, need a revision break, or just want to chat, pop in or call us.

www.essex.ac.uk/students/health-and-wellbeing/nightline.aspx

If you feel you would benefit from support, including counselling, please contact your Student Services Hub. You can find more information, including the full range of counselling services available to you, on the website: https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/mental-and-emotional-health/counselling

Money management
If you get into financial difficulty you should get help and talk to someone as soon as possible. The sooner your problem is identified, the sooner it can be solved. Advisers in our Student Services Hub and our independent SU Advice can listen and talk you through the issues you are experiencing.

www.essex.ac.uk/fees-and-funding/money/

Students’ Union Advice
Our SU Advice service also offers free, confidential, independent and impartial advice on many issues that might be affecting you. Our friendly, trained staff are on hand to support you throughout your time at Essex. You can speak to us about Academic processes and procedures, representation at University meetings, Tier 4 UK visa extensions, housing, complaints, welfare and consumer issues.

Health and safety on campus
Our campuses are generally very safe environments. We want to ensure that things stay this way. In order to achieve this we work closely with local agencies including the police and borough councils. Take a look at our website for general advice and information:

www.essex.ac.uk/students/experience/safety.aspx

Please familiarise yourself with fire safety and emergency evacuation procedures for your accommodation, work or study location. If you have a permanent or temporary disability that may mean you have difficulty in evacuating one or more areas, you can arrange for a Personal Emergency Evacuation Plan (PEEP).

Making a Complaint
The University is a large community engaged in many activities of both an academic and non-academic nature. From time to time, you may feel dissatisfied with some aspect of your dealings with the University and, when that happens, it is important that the issue is dealt with constructively and as quickly as possible without risk of disadvantage or recrimination.

The University aims to resolve complaints quickly and informally in accordance with the Student concerns and complaints procedure which can be found on our website.

Year and Degree Marks
As your studies draw to a close, and once your exam board has met, it takes up to five working days for your results to be confirmed. You will be sent an email to inform you when the results are live on a password protected web page. You will be able to see your marks obtained and any decisions that you must make in order to progress to the next stage of study.

When in your final year of study, graduating students will receive a degree certificate at Graduation and graduating undergraduate students also be able to access their electronic HEAR; which gives details of all marks obtained during their studies.

Further information can be found at:
www.essex.ac.uk/students/graduation/award-documents/default.aspx

HEAR
When you study at Essex, you graduate with far more than just a degree. Along with showcasing your academic achievements, the Higher Education Achievement Report (HEAR) records any activities you have undertaken and logged through the Big Essex Award, and any other awards and prizes that you may have received.

When you graduate, you will have full electronic access to your HEAR for free for life. You will be able to share this with employers and other universities by providing them with a University-certified record of your achievements. To start making the most of your HEAR, visit our website to activate your account:

https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/awards-and-achievements/hear

Graduation
The culmination of all your hard work, Graduation ceremonies take place at our Colchester Campus each July in the Ivor Crewe Lecture Hall. All eligible students studying at our Colchester, Loughton and Southend Campuses will be invited to attend. For more information visit our graduation pages:
www.essex.ac.uk/students/graduation/default.aspx

Job References

Requesting references from members of staff
If you require a personal reference, always ask permission from a member of staff before giving their name as a referee. You should consider from whom it is most appropriate to request a reference and who will be best equipped to evidence your character and performance in the subject.

For example, final year project supervisors, year organisers, and core course supervisors are likely to be more suitable than lecturers that have taught you on a first-year option course. Every reasonable effort will be made to meet a request for reference for a student who has undertaken study within our Department. Requests received from students who have graduated from the University within the last three years will be prioritised. Requests received outside of this period may, of course, be met if a member of staff is equipped with the necessary information and is willing to provide a reference.

It is always helpful if you can provide the member of staff with details about the course or job you have applied for and, if relevant, a CV or other summary of your qualifications and experience. Please try to ask for references in good time – it is not always possible for a member of staff to write a reference immediately.
Copies of references
A copy of any reference provided will be retained within our department for no longer than three years for taught students.

Alumni
Essex is forever and although your time here will fly by, you’ll be part of the Essex family for life. When you graduate, you’ll get an alumni card and join a community of over 100,000 fellow graduates around the world. We’d love to keep in touch and invite you to our alumni events, networking and volunteering opportunities, as well as offer you special alumni benefits. Want to know more? Visit our website https://www.essex.ac.uk/alumni

What comes next?
The world is your oyster! The options and opportunities open to you as a graduate can be overwhelming. You may know the exact path and next steps that you wish to take, or you might not, and this is okay. Our Careers Services can offer information, guidance and advice on your different options after graduation and you can return to Essex for these services at any time. Whether it is discussing different career paths, bringing your CV or LinkedIn profile up to date, or prepping for that interview you have worked all year for, the Student Development Team are here to support you.

Spread your wings graduand; but you can always come back! As an alumnus of Essex, you can take advantage of generous discounts on postgraduate qualifications and degrees if you chose to return to study at Essex as a postgraduate student.
