Welcome to the Department of Literature, Film and Theatre Studies! Known as LiFTS for short, we are a vibrant, interdisciplinary department with five subject areas – literature, film, creative writing, theatre and journalism. Our teaching staff and students are storytellers as well as critical thinkers, and this heady mix of theory and creative practice is central to our approach.

The last months have been hugely challenging for everyone, with the lockdowns and unprecedented changes the Covid-19 pandemic brought into our lives. Enormous respect to all of you for your courage and resilience in coming this far. As you go forward into a new academic year, we’ll be behind you 100% to help you succeed to the best of your abilities, whatever challenges come our way.

As well as your class teachers, you will each have a Personal Tutor to whom you can talk to for advice on your course or any other aspect of your life as a student; your Personal Tutor will offer you guidance and may direct you to relevant support services in the University.

Another important point of contact for general queries is our team of Student and Academic Services Administrators, who are based in the LiFTS General Office in 5NW.6.16. Please feel free to pop in, either in person by appointment, or virtually into one of the Zoom drop-in sessions (no appointment required), to speak to one of the team. You can contact the team via email: liftstt@essex.ac.uk.

We also expect certain commitments from you while you are studying with us. This includes attendance at all your timetabled lectures, classes and screenings and keeping up with your coursework. The workload might seem overwhelming at times, and you might have difficulties adapting to new ways of learning and student life. If you do find that you’re experiencing problems of any kind that affect your studies, please do not hesitate to reach out to your class teachers and Personal Tutor for help.

In the pages of this handbook, you’ll find a mine of information about the Department, along with practical guidance about your studies, opportunities to develop your career goals and support services at the University. Please also check out the Department’s website and the Moodle pages for the modules that you are taking, which will contain details such as the module content, reading lists and assessment.

We want you to feel at home in the Department and that you belong to our community. The Department regularly organises poetry readings, film screenings, talks, performances at the Lakeside Theatre and exhibitions at the Art Exchange campus gallery. Come and join us! In addition, the Student Union runs over a hundred societies on topics that may pique your interest. These extracurricular activities are a great way of meeting people and developing knowledge and skills to complement your course.
We’re so excited that you’re joining us! We hope you’ll make the most of your time at University and that you’ll find the experience rewarding and exhilarating.

Warmest wishes and best of luck!

Professor Shohini Chaudhuri

Introduction

Your Student Handbook will tell you everything you need to know about your department, the University its academic policies and procedures, and all of the resources that are available to you.

We know things might be a little different this year, but we remain absolutely determined to provide you with the best Essex education and student experience we can while safeguarding your health and wellbeing. Make sure that you keep up to date with what we all need to do to keep safe as a community.

At Essex we celebrate diversity and challenge inequality. We are a truly diverse community where differences are celebrated, and individuality is valued. Your contribution is welcomed and encouraged based on your own thoughts and experiences. As part of our community you will have the freedom to explore, experiment, challenge your discipline and have your ideas shaped by peer and professional knowledge from all over the world. Essex is about more than just getting a degree: we have so much to offer our students.

Things might have to change and adapt over the year, so make sure that you’re checking online and keeping in touch with your department for the latest updates. The Student Directory contains a wealth of other helpful sources of information which you may also find useful.
Practicalities and Getting Started

Registration
Whether a new or returning student, you will need to officially register and pay your fees (if required to do so) at the start of each academic year and prior to the published latest Registration date. Registration is not only a formal procedure of enrolling you into the University, but also connects you to a number of vital systems which allow you to access your online Welcome and Induction information and start your studies. As part of this process, you will need to activate your Essex IT account, register online (including payment of fees where required) and, once you arrive on campus, undertake a Right to Study check and collect your student registration card.

Right to Study
The University must ensure all students have the right to study at the University of Essex for the whole duration of their course. If you aren’t a UK or Irish national, your immigration permission to study in the UK will be checked when you first arrive on campus and as necessary thereafter. Students have a duty to maintain valid UK immigration permission that allows study for the duration of their course, failure to do so may lead to withdrawal from the University under the University’s General Regulations.

Student visas
The University has many duties as a Student Sponsor and must ensure we remain compliant in order to retain our sponsor status. Students with a student visa have responsibilities to the University and the Home Office. There will be conditions attached to your visa that restrict what you can do in the UK, breaking any of the conditions may mean you can’t remain in the UK and complete your course. Please be aware that changes to your course, whether due to academic failure or choice, must be considered against the Immigration Rules and guidance in place at the time, this can mean that some academic options may not be available to you. The Board of Examiners are not aware of a student’s UK immigration status, it is each students responsibility to check what impact any option offered would have on their student immigration status, before making a choice. Continued or future sponsorship is not guaranteed.

Choosing your modules
You may have module options to select as part of your course structure. If you do, you must select the modules you wish to enrol on before the academic year begins. You can view and choose your specific options through the eNROL system. New students can do so from the end of August and returning students can from the April preceding the next academic year. Early module enrolment ensures that timetables can be scheduled effectively. We’ll talk more about how you might decide which modules to take in the Learning and Teaching section of this Handbook.

Explore your Campus
There is a broad range of facilities across each of our campuses to support your experience at Essex, whether in person or virtually. For the latest information, see the updates on services on campus and make sure that you’re aware of the guidance for those coming onto campus.
Get connected

Your IT account
You will need to activate your Essex IT account. Once you’re set up, you can access your Essex email, log in to Moodle, access lab computers and library services, print for free on campus, connect to campus wi-fi, and much more. When you activate your account, you should register an external e-mail address and passphrase so that if you forget your password, you can also reset it using these details. If you have forgotten those also, you should either visit the IT Helpdesk or call 01206 872345. Make sure you keep your password safe and do not share it with others!

Campus Wi-fi
If you are studying on any of our campuses, connect to our Wi-Fi by simply finding the ‘eduroam’ network on your device and use the same log in details as your IT account to connect up!

Essex Apps
The University has a variety of online systems and platforms designed to enhance your learning and help make processes, such as submitting coursework, easier. We have rounded up the top platforms, portals and apps that you need to know about!

MyEssex
MyEssex is your online account. This is different to your applicant portal – you can use MyEssex to view your timetable, update your personal details, request replacement student cards or supporting documents, monitor your course progress, let us know if you’ll miss a lecture or class, contact the Student Services Hub, and much more.

PocketEssex
Pocket Essex is the University’s official app for students; its interface of icons act as a portal through to a variety of areas and resources. PocketEssex links to many areas that MyEssex does, but also takes you through to other key resources, such as the Students’ Union, FindYourWay and the Library.

Find Your Way
When on campus, we know that finding your way can be challenging to start with. Our Colchester campus in particular can be difficult to navigate with a historically complex room numbering system! FindYourWay is our interactive campus map designed to get you from A to B on either the Colchester or Southend campuses with quick and easy directions.

Working while studying
Many students choose to work part-time to supplement their income. Working during your course can also give you excellent skills and experience to boost your CV. Our Student Services Hub can help you find part-time work. There are also many opportunities to work in paid jobs on campus.

You can access recommendations on working hours, as well as guidance on rates of pay and National Insurance contributions on the Careers Services webpages.

If you have a student visa, please read our information on working in the UK for international students before you start looking for a job. The country you’re from and your visa type will determine whether or not you can work in the UK. If you can work, the type of work you are allowed to undertake and the number of hours you can work will be restricted.
Your personal belongings
The University does not cover costs for personal damage or loss of possessions; only in instances where the University has been negligent would a claim be viable for compensation for personal belongings. Therefore, you are strongly advised to take out personal insurance cover for your possessions. This is especially important for valuable items, such as laptops, phones and tablets.

Essex values
The University of Essex is proud of its values of inclusivity and internationalism. Our campuses are places that are welcoming, where everyone can feel they belong and where you can find the world in one place.

Our Student Charter is a pledge that every member of our learning community signs up to when they join us, but in exchange you’ll receive support and encouragement and a transformational education to achieve great things.

Our Code of Student Conduct outlines the rules and regulations that help us maintain our high standards of behaviour.

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion
The University recognises the value of diversity and is committed to equality of opportunity. All of our students and staff are treated with dignity and respect, and solely on the basis of their merits, abilities and potential, regardless of race, ethnic or national origin, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, age, socio-economic background, family circumstances, religious or political beliefs and affiliations, or any other irrelevant distinction.

The University is committed to a programme of action to ensure that this policy is fully effective.

A commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion is also at the heart of everything we do in our Department. The Department of Literature, Film, and Theatre Studies is fully committed to challenging inequality and providing an inclusive environment for all our staff and students. We do not tolerate any form of harassment or bullying.

Student communities
We pride ourselves on being a welcoming and inclusive student community. The University recognises the value of diversity and are committed to equality of opportunity within the University. We aim to create an environment whereby students and staff are treated with dignity and respect, and solely on the basis of their merits, abilities and potential regardless of their background whether that is race, gender, sexual orientation, religious beliefs, or any other distinction.

We offer a wide range of support to individuals and groups of student members – our student communities - who may have specific requirements, interests or responsibilities to help fulfil your potential. Whether you are an international student, a mature student, a BAME student or have any other requirements or needs, we want to welcome you with open arms. The University is committed to a programme of action to ensure that this policy is fully effective.

Essex Sport
Learning doesn't just happen in the classroom. Keeping active during your studies is a great way to meet new people, help relieve stress, maintain good physical and mental wellbeing, increase productivity, and improve your employability.
Visit the Essex Sport website or download the app to discover all the ways you can keep active during your time at Essex. In order to ensure the welfare of our community there may be changes to opening hours or what’s available, so do check on the website for the latest information.

Students’ Union

We’re famous for our Students’ Union at Essex, and for good reason. Here you’re not just a member of a normal Students’ Union; you’re part of a family. We’re here from day one to the moment you graduate to support you in any way we can.

The Students’ Union is run by students for students, and you have the ability to shape what we do. From deciding who leads the SU, to shaping your own experiences at Essex, we are here to represent your views and work with you to make amazing things happen.

Get involved!

There are opportunities to join Sports Clubs, to get involved with our BUCS teams which offer the opportunity to play competitively in a wide range of sports across the year. If you just want to try a sport, don’t want to commit to a regular team, or would rather not play competitively, check out our Just Play programme.

We have 120 Societies where you can meet people with similar interests, challenge yourself with something new or, if you can’t find what you’re looking for, start your own!

We also train, recruit and support hundreds of student reps each year. These reps gather feedback to share student viewpoints on academic experiences. You can find out more about student reps including how to sign up and getting trained here.

We also have our very own letting agency SU Homes designed to offer help and support for students to find off campus accommodation.

There are dedicated Module Tutors to support students for each module. The module tutor for each module can be found on Moodle. If you have a specific study question the relevant module can be found on Moodle https://moodle.essex.ac.uk/.

Your Personal Tutor
All undergraduate students have a Personal Tutor who will meet you soon after you arrive, and regularly throughout your course. Your Personal Tutor will be a member of academic staff and is someone you talk to about your course or any difficulties that may encounter. They can recommend and direct you to other support services that might be able to further help and support you. You can find out who your Personal Tutor is through MyEssex.

If you have a disability, long term medical condition and/or Specific Learning Difference and have not registered with Student Wellbeing & Inclusivity Service, to discuss your support needs, please email include@essex.ac.uk.

Your Peer Mentor
All first-year students are assigned a Peer Mentor. Peer Mentors are either a second or final-year student. They will contact you to introduce themselves and organise how you’ll stay in contact.

Become a Mentor
If you are in second or final-year and are interested in becoming a Peer Mentor, a call for mentor applications is usually circulated in the Spring term. If you have any questions in the meantime, you can contact Rachele Winn, rachele@essex.ac.uk for further details.

Staff research interests
Our research is at the heart of our activities and feeds directly into our undergraduate and postgraduate teaching. We follow a distinctly comparative approach through critical and creative work in literature, drama, film, journalism, and creative writing that extends across genres and media forms.

We have internationally recognised expertise in world literatures, and our work covers areas from Shakespeare and transatlantic romanticism to global modernism, women's suffrage literature, science fiction, dystopias, and postcolonial literature. This is combined with strengths in world cinema, film theory and practice, contemporary theatre, playwriting and poetry, as well as myth, adaptation, and translation studies. For more information visit our Research pages.

Our academic staff are the authors of numerous major publications; see our academic staff profiles for full lists of individual research.
Departmental resources and facilities

A wide range of facilities and resources are available for all students to access and use as part of their study at Essex. Each department and school also has a selection for the exclusive use of their students. Below is a summary of the facilities and resources that are likely to be most useful to you.

Literature, Film and Theatre Studies Common Room

As soon as social distancing requirements are reduced or entirely removed, you are warmly invited to use our Department’s Common Room (5NW.6.1) which has tea/coffee making facilities and is open from Monday-Friday 9.00am-5.00pm. Please adhere to any social distancing requirements displayed on the door with regard to maximum occupancy at any given time.

Royal Literary Fund Fellows (RLF)

The Royal Literary Fund exists to help writers, and champion good writing. It provides a resident fellow here at Essex, to help our students with the writing of their essays, dissertations, theses, or even job and grant applications. This year, our fellow is Ruth Dugdall - a published novelist working in the genre of crime writing. If you would like to take up Ruth’s advice, please book your slot by emailing ruth.dugdall@rlfeduction.org.uk for available appointments. The RLF office is room 5NW.4.15. The service is entirely free, confidential and independent of the University.

Booking Department Spaces

Students are able to book department rooms for rehearsals and filming. Please allow 3 working days for your request to be processed. Full details on how to book rooms are available on the Department’s Moodle page.

Printing, photocopying and scanning

All students can print, copy and scan for free at Essex! You can even print from your mobile by sending your attachment to mobileprinting@essex.ac.uk.

Once you’ve located a device, simply log in using your Essex login and password, or tap with your student card to print. Whilst printing is free for all students, please think of your carbon footprint and only print if necessary.

Please note that there are strict laws about infringement of copyright; more information can be found on the library website which explains what and how much you are permitted to copy. Usage is monitored and subject to a fair use policy.

Premium printing

Premium services for printing and finishing, including binding your documents for presentational purposes, are available at The Copy Centre (Square 4, Colchester Campus). These services are chargeable.

Noticeboards

Every department and school has their own noticeboard providing information on staff, courses and classes, updates, careers, events and opportunities.

Department Open Seminars

Throughout the academic year, our Department will host a series of Open Seminars and talks, involving all of our various Department disciplines. These seminars and talks bring together leading external scholars, academic staff, and postgraduate students in the Department, to discuss new research or work in progress. The seminars are also an opportunity for our postgraduate researchers to present key parts of their research. You are warmly encouraged to attend these events which will be useful to the development of your studies and allow you to gain new perspectives on current research.
The seminars are co-ordinated by Dr Sean Seeger (Autumn term) and Dr Holly Pester (Spring and Summer terms).

Seminars are advertised in advance via your Essex email, the Department’s webpage, Facebook and Twitter pages, and on the Graduate noticeboard and in the Common Room on level 6.

Communications
The University will predominantly use e-mail for routine communication between staff and students. Your Essex e-mail address will have been added to the relevant e-mail groups specific to your department or school, course and modules to ensure that you receive the essential information relevant to you. It is recommended that you check your Essex e-mail each day to ensure you do not miss any important updates to classes and assessment.

You will also automatically be subscribed to a small number of opt-out lists, again, based on your course. You can always opt in or out of these communications online.

Social Media
You are very much encouraged to visit, like or follow, and interact with our departmental Facebook and Twitter pages which are frequently updated with a range of news, information, reflections, anecdotes, and events taking place in and around the Department and the University. These pages contain a mix of informative, thoughtful and light-hearted entries and showcase our diversity, vibrancy and accomplishments at all levels of study and research. They are a good way of keeping in touch with what is going on in the Department and at the University as a whole.

Additionally, the Department has its own blog which features contributions from both staff and students. Postgraduate students are invited to become bloggers and use the site as an alternative outlet to share their creative work, advice and experiences. Please contact the General Office if you are interested in writing for the blog.

The use of personal devices

You can use laptops and tablet PCs during teaching classes for purposes related to the class you are attending. You should refrain from using your mobile phone during all teaching events, except in cases where a lecturer uses a programme which requires these devices to be switched on for participation.

Learning and Teaching

The University is committed to providing equal opportunities for all our students regardless of where or how you study. Our diverse student population is considered when developing the resources, services and facilities on and off campus, when we create our courses, write publications and course materials, and set our policies and regulations.

The academic year

The academic year uses a week numbering system that covers the 52 weeks of a calendar year but corresponds to typical term dates. So, the start of the academic year is week 1, which is Welcome week, with teaching commencing in week 2.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Week numbers</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Autumn</td>
<td>2-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spring</td>
<td>16-25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer</td>
<td>30-39</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

You can view the University’s week numbers with the equivalent dates in the week by week calendar. The University’s key dates include an overview of the start and end of each term and exam periods.

You are expected to be available during term time to attend teaching events, unless otherwise advised by your Department.

My Course

Each course at the University has its own syllabus, full details of which, including the aims and learning outcomes of your course, can be found in the University’s Programme Specifications Catalogue.

Your own course structure, including your specific programme specification, can be found in the MyStudy section of your MyEssex homepage.

Credits

Your course will be made up of a certain number of credits. Generally, undergraduate degrees contain 360 credits worth of modules in total during your course at Essex. This is divided into 120 credits per each year of study, with credits allocated to each module that you take.

Learning outcomes

Each course has learning outcomes which need to be met in order to progress. Course learning outcomes are categorised into knowledge, intellectual, practical and key skills, and are also defined more specifically at a modular level. Having this information means that you can measure your progress against the outcomes, for example when reviewing coursework feedback.
Grade boundaries
Marks for undergraduate modules fall into one of the classifications set out in the table below. Bachelor degrees are usually awarded under these classifications too. The method for calculating your final award classification will take into account module marks and any other requirements - full details are set out in the Rules of Assessment.

Module enrolment
Most modules taught reflect the individual research interests of members of our academic staff. New modules are regularly explored, researched and developed to expand our transformative educational offering at Essex.

The University provides further guidance on choosing modules, and meetings for first and second-year students will be held by your department where students can discuss their choices with their Personal Tutor. Your preferred choices must be submitted prior to the start of term through the eNROL system.

A full list of modules available can be found on this webpage.

Changing Modules
In instances where you need to make a change to your module choice, you may do so up until the second week of the Autumn Term. If you wish to change an optional module after the deadline, you should seek advice from the Department or School Office that runs the particular module that you may wish to change to.

Late changes may be permitted but will be subject to the approval of the department that runs the module and the relevant Dean. Late changes of modules that run for one term or less will not usually be permitted. Students may not change modules that are core or compulsory for the course for which they are registered.

If there is a module that you would like to study that isn’t available as an option on your course, then you can ask for a change to your syllabus to be made by submitting a special syllabus request. Special syllabus requests are not automatically available and require approval. It is a good idea to talk to your Department or School responsible for your course, as well as the Department that teaches the module if it is an outside option.

Module Directors
Module Directors are responsible for individual modules. They design, teach and examine them. They monitor student progress and can also talk to students about any related academic issues.

Fitness to practise
Fitness to practise is only applicable to students on certain professional courses (such as nursing or social work) and is designed to ensure and regulate that a student is suitable for engagement in the relevant profession.
Employability Modules

Many of your modules here in the Department are designed to encourage you to develop a range of practical and transferable skills, through a variety of teaching and assessment methods.

These include:

- Developing critical and independent thinking
- Managing your own time and acquiring high levels of self-motivation and organisation
- Meeting deadlines
- Being on time
- Performing well under stress
- Collaborating with others
- Seeing projects through to their completion

You may like to refer to these skills when applying for jobs or internships.

The LiFTS Facebook page is an important source for finding career and work experience opportunities that may not be advertised elsewhere.

Recent opportunities for our students have included internships and paid work with theatre companies, creative writing workshops, with major broadcasting services and newspapers, producer training programmes and a researcher/producer runner position in the film industry.

Study Abroad

Essex Abroad supports you to have an international experience during your time at Essex. You can study, volunteer, intern or complete research abroad as part of our programmes. Many courses can be taken as a four-year variant to include a year studying abroad at one of our partner universities across the world. You can find out more about applying and what you’ll need to consider if you’re interested in a study abroad year: Students with disabilities should also liaise with the Student Wellbeing and Inclusivity Service – include@essex.ac.uk.

As well as a year abroad, we have a wide range of summer programmes including volunteering programmes, international internships and research abroad opportunities which are open to all Essex students. These programmes vary in duration, location and cost and can be a great addition (or alternative!) to a full year of study abroad.

Work Placements

Our primary concern is for the safety and wellbeing of our students and we want to ensure that students are not put at undue risk. We also want to ensure that students get the best possible placement experience. In many cases placements planned for the Academic year 2021/22 will go ahead - these are being approved on a case by case basis. For further information or to discuss your own placement circumstances, you should contact the Industry Engagement and Placements team (placements@essex.ac.uk) or the Academic Supervisor in your department. Students expecting to undertake clinical placements should contact their Academic placement/module supervisor or your Personal Tutor if they have any outstanding questions or concerns.

There are a variety of opportunities to undertake work-based learning and placements either during or as part of your studies. Many courses may also be taken as four-year variant to include a Placement
Year. If undertaking a placement year, it is your responsibility to find a work placement, however, the Industry Engagement and Placements Team can help prepare and support you and will advertise relevant placements. If you are interested in undertaking a Placement Year, or other work-based opportunities that may be available to you and your course, contact the Industry Engagement and Placements team. If you have a student visa, please be aware that the immigration rules restrict the length of placements and the type of work you can do.

DBS Checks for Placements

Some placements may require a DBS check where you are engaging in regulated activity with vulnerable groups. This may include placements that are core, compulsory or optional, depending on the relevant module. Some activities may be carried out on an ad hoc basis for research purposes only, which are not required to meet the learning outcomes of the module or course, but will help inform your learning. More information about the DBS check process can be found on the University's DBS webpages.

Module Materials

Online reading lists for your modules can be found via the module Moodle page alongside other information and module materials.

Teaching timetable

Every student has a personal timetable published at the start of term which shows when and where your teaching is taking place, and zoom links if teaching online. You can access your timetable on most mobile devices, including smart phones and tablets. You will need to have registered and activated your University of Essex log-in and selected all of your modules (if applicable) before you will be able to access your teaching timetable.

If you wish to report a timetable clash or request a class change, you should do so via the online timetable.

During Welcome Week (week 1) you may find that your timetable is blank as teaching normally commences week 2. Please be aware that there may be changes to the location of teaching during the year, so regularly check your personal online timetable and Essex e-mail for up to date teaching information.

Information about teaching timetables, including requesting a class change, reporting a timetable issue and accessing your individual timetable can be found on the University's website.

Reading weeks

Check your module Moodle page for information regarding the reading weeks by visiting https://moodle.essex.ac.uk/

Recording your attendance

We monitor your attendance at teaching sessions on campus using your student card and an electronic recording system called Count-Me-In. Your attendance at online teaching sessions is monitored by reviewing your logins to sessions on Zoom. You're expected to attend all of your mandatory sessions on your individual timetable and report an absence if you are unable to do so. If you have a student visa, please be aware that poor attendance and engagement may mean we have to withdraw our sponsorship and your visa would be cancelled by the Home Office.

It is your responsibility to remember your student registration card. Lost or faulty cards can be replaced at the Student Services Hub.
Please contact your Personal Tutor, department staff or the Student Services Hub for advice and support, particularly if you are going to be absent for several weeks.

Making changes to your study

Changing your course
If you are thinking about changing course, you will need to do so by a certain date and should first speak to your department and personal tutor. They will be able to advise of the things you should be thinking about before changing your course. If you are thinking of undertaking a placement year or year abroad, you should check the requirements and any potential visa implications for these programmes by contacting the Industry and Placements Team or Essex Abroad Team. Students with a Tier 4 visa may not be able to change their course without first obtaining a new visa, if eligible.

Thinking of leaving or taking a break?
You may experience doubts at some point during your studies, if you’re thinking about leaving Essex, we’re here to support you and give you the advice you need to help you make an informed choice. You can contact your department, Personal Tutor or Student Services Hub to speak in confidence about your concerns, and also the different options available to you and the impact they may have.

Library Services
The library aims to provide all of the resources you will need to succeed in your course, via online reading lists and access to extensive collections of books and journals both on our shelves and online. The library team can help you learn how to search effectively so you can find appropriate resources for your assignments. They can also provide advice on referencing, academic integrity, using reference management software and evaluating sources. A range of online support in these areas is also available via the library website, including subject guides for each department, and support in developing search skills.

At our Colchester Campus, the Albert Sloman Library on Square 5 has a variety of study spaces, including individual and group work areas. The Library offers a wide range of learning resources, online and in print, with a dedicated Helpdesk, live chat and the opportunity to book appointments with your Academic Liaison Librarian to help you through your studies and beyond.

See the Library website for the latest information on all our libraries and the services available, including opening hours.

Academic Skills Support
Every student arrives at Essex with the same spirit of determination but different experiences of education and levels of academic readiness. Skills for Success can help you identify your talents and strengthen those areas you need to develop.

We are committed to ensuring that every student is able to get the most out of their academic study and achieve their potential on their course, which is why the Skills for Success team is available to help by providing support, resources, workshops and 1:1s on:

- Academic writing
- Maths and stats
- Digital skills
- Research and referencing
- English language
- Exam revision
Academic writing support
The Department offers several different kinds of academic writing support.

If you have specific questions about how to approach a coursework assignment for one of your modules, you should contact your seminar leader (class tutor) first of all. All teaching staff hold Academic Support Hours, which they will share with you at the beginning of term. This is a space in which you can work through any issues relating to your coursework with your own teacher.

Students in LiFTS can also make an appointment to talk to the Royal Literary Fund fellow, Ruth Dugdall. Ruth is a novelist who can help you with your writing – creative or academic. To book an appointment with Ruth, please contact the LiFTS General Office at lifstt@essex.ac.uk.

Proofreading services
Before considering the use of proofreading services, all students should first discuss their work with their personal tutors. Many students seek ‘proofreading’ services at some point during their studies, but different types of editing can occur under this name which may not be appropriate in an academic context where work is assessed and could potentially qualify as an academic offence. The University is keen to ensure as far as possible that students understand what proofreading work should entail and the acceptable boundaries to which any proofreading or editing must adhere to.

All students should ensure that any agreement entered into with a proofreader conforms to the University’s policy and guidance on proofreading.

Language classes

English classes for dependants
The Department of Language and Linguistics offers dependants of international students and staff at the chance to improve their English language, through our ECDIS programme, at no extra cost. Classes are taught at the Colchester Campus at three basic levels: Elementary (A1/A2), Intermediate (B1/B2) and Advanced (C1/C2) and will focus on listening, speaking, reading and writing.

Learning a Language
Learn a language at Essex to increase your global and cultural awareness. Language learning can give you the confidence to work and travel internationally, expand your options for studying abroad, and get a competitive edge when you’re looking for a job. There are a number of ways to do it, so look online to discover the best option for you.
Assessment and Academic Integrity

All schools and departments at the University employ a variety of assessment methods designed to ensure that the learning outcomes of each module, and course, have been successfully met by the student.

Rules of Assessment

The Rules of Assessment are used to calculate your results. There is a main set of rules for 3 year and 4 year courses, but some departments also have additional variations to the rules, which must be met. These are published alongside the Rules of Assessment for your year of study.

In the Literature, Film and Theatre Studies we do have a variation to the Rules of Assessment:

Students are required to achieve a minimum of 70% attendance in the following modules over the entire module in order to pass the module:

- All TH prefixed module
- LT122 Introduction to Film Production
- LT225 Documentary Film making
- LT226 Fiction Film making
- LT227 Directing Actors for Film
- LT322 Advanced Documentary Production
- LT240 Audio and Video for Broadcast and Online (Single Honours)
- LT312 Advanced Practical Journalism.

Each module you take has a credit value which you are awarded if you successfully complete the module. You need to obtain a certain amount of credits to be awarded your degree, and the Rules of Assessment and the Framework for undergraduate courses give you more information about this.

The following is only a summary of the key points. You should read the rules and make sure you understand them. If you need advice, ask your personal tutor, departmental administrators, or SU Advice.

Core, compulsory and optional modules

To understand the requirements to pass your course, you need to know the status of the modules that you are taking. You can find details of the status of your modules in Section C of your programme specification via My Essex.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Core</th>
<th>Compulsory</th>
<th>Optional</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>You must take this module</td>
<td>Must pass this module. No failure can be permitted.</td>
<td>You must take this module</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You can choose which module to study</td>
<td>There might be limited opportunities to continue on the course/be eligible for the degree if you fail it.</td>
<td>There might be limited opportunities to continue on the course/be eligible for the degree if you fail it.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Most modules in each year must be passed, with only a small number of credits, if any, being allowed to be failed in the degree.

Academic Integrity and Academic Offences

The University expects students to complete all assessment with honesty and integrity and to follow our conventions for academic writing (including appropriate referencing of sources) and ethical considerations. If you don’t meet these expectations, then you may be charged with having committed an academic offence, a matter the University takes very seriously.
It is your responsibility to make yourself aware of the regulations governing examinations and how to correctly prepare your coursework. An academic offence can take place even if you didn’t mean to commit one, and examples include plagiarism, falsifying data or evidence, and communicating with another candidate in an examination.

Methods of Assessment in Literature, Film and Theatre Studies

Whether a module is core, compulsory or optional, all methods of assessment are compulsory. If you do not complete coursework or attend examinations, and do not have extenuating circumstances to support your non-submission or absence, then you are at risk of being withdrawn from the University.

Class Participation

The Department dedicates 5% of the overall coursework mark for each module to class participation. Attendance at classes and seminars is not optional and we expect excellent attendance from all our students. The participation mark awarded isn’t solely based on the number of classes/seminars you have attended but also appropriate contribution to class discussion and in some modules, oral presentations.

The department also expects you to take all relevant readings (or equivalents) which need to be read in advance to class, failure to do so will have a negative impact on your mark. Participation marks are awarded out of 5. 5=100%, 4=80%, 3=60%, 2=40%, 1=20%, 0=0%.

Attendance and participation in Theatre Studies and practical Journalism and Film modules

Our Theatre Studies and practical Film modules taught mainly through seminars and workshops which involve a range of creative theatre or practical film exercises, group work, rehearsal and filming processes which absolutely require the physical presence and participation of all of our students.

Students taking any Theatre Studies (TH) modules and any of our practical Journalism and Film modules:

• All TH prefixed module
• LT122- Introduction to Film Production, • LT225-Documentary Film making, • LT226 Fiction Film making, • LT227 Directing Actors for Film • LT322 Advanced Documentary Production • LT240 Audio and Video for Broadcast and Online (Single Honours) • LT312 Advanced Practical Journalism.

are therefore required to achieve a minimum of 70% attendance over the entire module in order to pass the module.

This means that you must attend for the full duration of any timetabled teaching event (class, workshop, assessment, etc.) which will be deemed compulsory by your module tutor and supervisor. These will be timetabled sessions where you must tap in or film shoots when you will keep an attendance log of all team members for each shoot day. Extra voluntary teaching events such as voluntary tutorials or recommended trips to the theatre etc. are not included.

In addition to using the Count-me-in tap system, your module tutors will keep records of your attendance and remind you half-way through the module of your attendance level. If you are close to falling below the 70% attendance threshold, you will receive a written reminder of the attendance you need to achieve in the rest of the module to ensure that you pass the module. Copies of these reminders will also be sent to the Student Progress Team.

If your attendance is affected by illness or other circumstances beyond your control, you should submit a notified absence and/or make an application for extenuating circumstances. If your application is accepted, your non-attendance can be condoned.
If you do not satisfy the attendance requirement for the module because your attendance falls below the 70% attendance threshold, and your extenuating circumstances are NOT accepted, then in order to PASS the module, you must undertake supplementary assessment before the summer.

This assessment will be marked on a Pass/Fail basis. If you have been required to undertake supplementary assessment, you must PASS the required assessment/s in order to pass the module. If you fail the assessment/s, the ‘Fail’ for the module stands.

You may attempt re-assessment in this component in September.

If you failed a module because of a failure in this component after September re-assessment you may proceed carrying failed credits, where this is permitted by the University’s Rules of Assessment. You may also be permitted to repeat the stage of study, or repeat the failed module(s) by part-time study, where this is permitted by the Rules of Assessment. You may not undertake re-assessment out of residence in any module to which these provisions apply.

Coursework
Coursework is compulsory in all modules and failure to participate in coursework is interpreted as evidence of lack of academic progress. Your academic progress is monitored throughout the year. In severe cases, students with poor academic progress can be required to withdraw from the University (even before the final examinations).

Word count of coursework
Most of our assignments, especially essays but also a range of creative writing pieces, reflective commentaries and portfolios, require you to produce your coursework to a word count specified in the module directory and module handbooks. It is important that you make every effort to complete your work to the required word count as this develops your skills to present an argument, analysis, creative piece or reflection in a clear and concise manner. Although we expect you to comply with the word count specified for your assignments, our academic staff do accept the submission of exceptional pieces of coursework that are within 10% above or below the specified word count for the assignment.

Referencing in coursework
Respecting authorship through good academic practice is one of the key values of higher education in the UK. Referencing is how you acknowledge all sources used within a piece of work. You must reference all work used whether cited directly (quotes), or indirectly (paraphrasing and summarising).

Referencing allows you to give credit to other’s ideas, work, research, theories, concepts, outcomes and results, and demonstrates your breadth of reading and knowledge on a subject. If you do not reference properly, this could amount to plagiarism, which is an academic offence.

There are styles of referencing which will determine exactly how you format your reference. Your departmental referencing style is Chicago. You must use this referencing style. Guidance on your referencing style is available online, including an interactive referencing tutorial. You can also take the Academic Integrity course on Moodle.

See also Appendix 1 – Department Style Guide.

Submission of coursework
You should submit all coursework online via FASER – the University’s online submission system. You are encouraged to log on to FASER at the start of the year so that you understand how it works before you reach your first deadline. There is a trial module and deadline available for you to use as a practice submission, as well as helpful guidance on how to use FASER.
You can upload as many draft versions of your work as you like onto the server and are encouraged to use this as a safe and secure area to store your coursework. This can help to avoid the problem of your computer crashing at the last minute and your important files being lost. In cases where multiple versions are uploaded you will need to make any which you do NOT want to be included in the final submission a ‘draft’ otherwise just the most recently uploaded file will be taken as the final version. The maximum file upload size is 50MB.

Problems with FASER
If you have technical difficulties: Please contact the FASER Help centre as soon as possible to find out if this is a University issue or whether it may be a problem with your computer. This will count towards your claim when submitting a late coursework form should you need to. You can also contact IT Services helpdesk on it.helpdesk@essex.ac.uk.

If you are confused or unsure how to upload, or are having any non-technical difficulties you should contact our General Office at lifstt@essex.ac.uk.

Late submission of coursework
We have a single policy at the University of Essex for the late submission of coursework in undergraduate courses: all coursework submitted after the deadline will receive a mark of zero. No extensions will be granted. The policy states that the mark of zero shall stand unless you submit satisfactory evidence of extenuating circumstances that indicate that you were unable to submit the work by the deadline.

Where a student is unable to undertake the assessment by the deadline, and it is deemed impossible to consider a late submission request due to the nature of the assessment (e.g. absence from in-class tests, practical assignments and presentations), an extenuating circumstances form should be submitted which will be considered by the Board of Examiners.

Return of coursework
University’s Marking Policy requires that feedback on assessed work should be provided to students within twenty working days of submission, excluding any Bank Holidays and Christmas closure period. If for any justifiable and unavoidable reason the Department is unable to meet this deadline for the provision of feedback, you will be informed of this and advised of the revised arrangements.

Ethics in research
All research involving human participants and animal subjects, whether undertaken by the University’s staff or students, must undergo an ethics review by an appropriate body and ethical approval must be obtained before it commences. You should first read the Guidelines for Ethical Approval of Research Involving Human Participants or Guidelines for Ethical Approval of Research Involving Animal Subjects and then submit an Ethical Approval application form via ERAMS. You should be aware that ethical approval cannot be granted retrospectively so it is very important that you make your application before you start to recruit participants or collect data from them.

Research involving the NHS may require and research involving human tissue or adults lacking capacity to consent will require Health Research Authority and / or NHS Research Ethics Committee approval.

Moderation and marking
The University’s Marking Policy can be found online and includes our policy and procedure on the moderation of work.

Marking
All student work is marked in line with the University’s Marking Policy. If your assessment is worth up to and including 40% of your module mark, it will be marked by one member of academic staff. If it is worth more 40%, then it will also be moderated. If the assessment is worth 30 credits or more, it will be marked by two members of academic staff. The full procedure and assessment marking requirements can be found in the Marking Policy – there is a useful flowchart in Appendix C to visually represent the requirements, and detailed definitions of marking and moderation within the policy itself.

Moderation
Moderation is a process separate from that of marking and provides additional assurance that the assessment criteria has been applied appropriately. When work is moderated, it means that a second member of academic staff takes a random sample of the work for a particular assessment and reviews the marks given.

External Examiners
External Examiners are academics from other universities, but may also be from industry, business or the relevant profession depending on the requirements of the course. They give an impartial view of the course and independent advice to ensure that modules and courses at the University meet the academic standards expected across UK higher education.

Re-marking of coursework
You may, under certain circumstances, have the right to request a re-mark of your coursework. Should you feel that your work needs to be reviewed and potentially re-marked, you should first contact your department within 7 days of your marks being released to advise you accordingly and assess whether you meet the criteria to be able to submit a request for re-marking.

If a request for a re-mark is accepted, your marks are not guaranteed to increase, however, the mark awarded after re-marking will override your original mark. Therefore, please be aware that in all incidences where coursework is re-marked, it is possible that your marks could go down as well as up.

Appeals
Appeals on academic grounds can be made following the meeting of the Board of Examiners and the publication of your results. There are limited grounds available to appeal on and strict deadlines to adhere to. As such, we strongly advise all students thinking about making an appeal to contact the SU Advice Centre.

Feedback
Most of our modules use a combination of formative and summative assessment of your coursework. Summative assessments contribute directly to your module mark, award mark or degree classification.

Formative assessments include general feedback on your work and may include marks, but these marks do not count towards overall module mark. Whilst some feedback will be given verbally, written feedback will be uploaded to FASer.

If you need to undertake any reassessment on a module, your department will provide you with written feedback on any elements being reassessed.

The Board of Examiners
The Board of Examiners meet at the end of the Summer Term and use the Rules of Assessment to determine whether:

- you have passed the modules you have studied and can be awarded credit
- you have met the requirements to progress to the next year of your course
- you have met the requirements to pass your course and what classification you will receive for each module
- how your module marks are used to calculate your degree classification
- you are eligible to receive a merit or distinction

If it is determined that you have not passed sufficient credits to progress to the next stage of study, or, for final year students, to graduate, the Board of Examiners will also determine:

- what reassessment you could be offered and when you can take it\(^1\)
- whether you must withdraw from your course, with or without an exit award

Publication of results
The publication schedule for results can be found on the website. You will receive an email to your Essex email account as soon as your results are published online.

Reassessment
You may only undertake reassessment if the Board of Examiners says that you may do so.

If you have to take compulsory reassessment, whether coursework or examination, it is really important that you do this. If you do not, it is likely that you will be unable to progress with your studies at the University. The Board of Examiners will not consider permitting you to proceed carrying fails if you have not attempted the reassessment.

Reassessed modules are normally capped at the pass mark of 40% unless you have extenuating circumstances which are accepted by the Exam Board. Please be aware that reassessment in examinations and coursework carries a fee.

Where a student has failed a module and wishes to pass it or needs to do so in order to proceed or to qualify for a degree, the department’s policy is to require the student to retake or resubmit the component or components of the assessment that they failed.

In cases where there is group work (e.g. presentations or group/collaborative written work) or practical coursework, an alternative but equivalent solo task will be set for re-submission, which meets the learning outcomes of the module but may differ from the original coursework assignment set.

If a student fails any of the in-class tests for module LT134 – Public Affairs, regardless of whether they have failed Test 1, Test 2, or Test 3, or all of them, they are required to re-sit one combined test. For all other Journalism modules, failing an in-class test means that the student will have to re-take this test.

Exit Awards
If you decide to withdraw from your course before you finish, or you fail too many credits to be awarded a Bachelor’s degree, you may be awarded a qualification at a lower level, if appropriate.

Extenuating Circumstances
Extenuating circumstances are circumstances beyond your control which cause you to perform less well in your assessment than you might have expected, or in some instances, may prevent you from submitting coursework or attending an exam entirely. In general, valid extenuating circumstances will be of a medical or personal nature that affect you for any significant period of time and/or during assessment.

\(^1\) The Board of Examiners will not be aware of any student’s immigration status. As a result, some reassessment options may be offered that are not compatible with individual student visa rules. All options should be considered in conjunction with applicable visa restrictions.
If you do need to make an extenuating circumstances claim, you should first read the guidance very carefully and seek advice from SU Advice or the Student Services Hub. Please be prepared that you may need to include supporting evidence with your claim. Extenuating circumstance claims must be submitted via MyEssex by the appropriate deadline.

Your department will review your claim at an Extenuating Circumstances Committee and determine whether it will be accepted or rejected. The Board of Examiners will determine an appropriate course of action, such as permitting further reassessment opportunities for uncapped marks. Please note that extra marks cannot be given in light of extenuating circumstances.

Learner Engagement Activity Portal (LEAP)
LEAP is our student centred, personalised engagement tool. LEAP displays your engagement with university resources and an algorithm within LEAP combines your use of these resources and activities to produce an overall engagement indicator. There are 5 engagement indicators (high, good, partial, low and very low) which will help you map and better understand your engagement pattern over time. Full details on the resources included in LEAP, the engagement ratings and how LEAP uses your data can be found on the LEAP webpage.

By providing you with a more holistic view of your studying experience, LEAP offers you the opportunity to take control of your own learning and make more informed choices about your studies, enabling you to:

- Reflect on your academic activities and overall engagement to make informed decisions about your academic studies
- Review the notes created in LEAP from meetings with Tutors or other university staff
- Check your attendance and ensure the information is correct

Tutors and other university staff may use the information in LEAP to:

- Suggest ways you could achieve better outcomes
- Check that all is well and offer information, advice and guidance
- Help you in areas of your studies that you are finding a challenge

The University has a Student Engagement Policy which provides a structured approach based on support and mutual decision-making to maximise the success and achievement of every student.

Student Voice

At the University of Essex, the views, ideas and feedback of our students are at the heart of what the University does. The time students take to offer feedback is hugely appreciated and this feedback, both positive and developmental, is used to help make short and longer-term improvements, both to the experience of current students, but also for Essex students of the future. You can do this in a number of ways at Essex through your Student Voice.

Student Representatives

You can contact or volunteer to be a student representative who represent the voice of fellow students in departmental Student Voice Groups (SVG) and other University level committees.

Student Voice Groups

Student Voice Groups (SVGs) are made up of student representatives and members of staff. SVGs typically meet once per term and provide an accessible arena for students to discuss with staff issues connected to teaching, learning and student support. They also provide an opportunity for the department or school to consult with students and receive feedback on new proposals.

Student Surveys

Student satisfaction surveys enable the University to gauge overall satisfaction amongst students. When the results have been reviewed and analysed, the University can then enhance your experience of learning at Essex.

National Student Survey

The National Student Survey (NSS) is an independent survey commissioned by the Office for Students aimed mainly at final-year undergraduate students. The survey provides students the opportunity to provide feedback on their University course and experience. The feedback you provide will be used to help shape the future for your fellow students and published on the Discover Uni website to help prospective students make informed decisions about where and what they want to study.

UK Engagement Survey (UKES)

The UK Engagement Survey (UKES) is a national survey for undergraduate students. It invites you to reflect on your time at University so far in relation to your course and wider learning experience. The survey is run each spring term and is open to first, second and some third/final year students.

We’re keen to make sure students have the best possible experience while studying at the University. To do that we need to know what we are doing well and what we can do better. The survey is a chance to reflect on how you study and what might help your studies in future. The results also help the University and Students Union to make changes that will improve what we do in future and to make sure we keep doing the things that are of value to students.

If you’re eligible to complete the survey, we will contact you to invite you to take part.

Student Module Feedback

Every year, we will ask you to complete Student Module Feedback (previously known as Student Assessment of Module and Teaching, or SAMT). This survey allows you to feedback on each of the modules you have studied. Receiving feedback at this level is critical for the University to understand what works well, and what could be improved, from the perspective of students. All feedback will be summarised and discussed by SVGs and will inform reports written for central University committees as part of our quality assurance processes.
There are also many other satisfaction surveys taking place, to ensure students are happy with the services the University of Essex provides. From time to time you will be invited to participate via an email.

If you have some feedback but don’t know who to tell, email: studentvoice@essex.ac.uk

Your Department will also welcome your feedback. They will have a range of quick feedback mechanism for you to use. Contact your departmental office if you are not sure what these are.

References
Requesting references from members of staff
If you require a personal reference, always ask permission from a member of staff before giving their name as a referee. You should consider from whom it is most appropriate to request a reference and who will be best equipped to evidence your character and performance in the subject.
For example, final year project supervisors, year organisers, and core course supervisors are likely to be more suitable than lecturers that have taught you on a first-year option course. Every reasonable effort will be made to meet a request for reference for a student who has undertaken study within our Department. Requests received from students who have graduated from the University within the last three years will be prioritised. Requests received outside of this period may, of course, be met if a member of staff is equipped with the necessary information and is willing to provide a reference.

It is always helpful if you can provide the member of staff with details about the course or job you have applied for and, if relevant, a CV or other summary of your qualifications and experience. Please try to ask for references in good time – it is not always possible for a member of staff to write a reference immediately.

Copies of references
A copy of any reference provided will be retained within our department for no longer than three years for taught students.

When requesting academic reference, please allow at least 3 weeks for our staff to write the reference. Please consult with your referee about the most appropriate contact details to include. It is also important for you to enclose as much information as possible with your reference request, and include an up to date copy of your CV.

Alumni
Essex is forever and although your time here will fly by, you’ll be part of the Essex family for life. When you graduate, you’ll get an alumni card and join a community of over 100,000 fellow graduates around the world. Departmental Style Guide

This guide should be used as the stylistic basis for all coursework and dissertations submitted to the Department. It describes good practice in all the aspects of formatting, quotation, and referencing that you are likely to need to use, and adheres to widely recognised standards in scholarly writing. It is based upon the Chicago style guide.

There is often a good deal of nervousness regarding academic style, particularly over referencing. However, it is, for the most part, simply a case of following straightforward models, which are described in this document. Nothing outlined here is particularly complex, so following these guidelines should help you in submitting clear, well-referenced work. You should always bear in mind that good, coherent style and accurate, properly formatted references are vital research skills. As such, note that you can expect to lose marks if this style sheet is not followed for essays and dissertations.

Basics

- Use 12-point font and at least 1.5 line spacing (except for footnotes, which can be 10-point and single spaced).
- Number all pages (using the page-numbering function on your word-processing package).
- Always read through your work carefully before submitting it, checking for spelling and grammatical errors. DO make use of your computer’s spelling and grammar checking functions, but ALWAYS read through the essay again afterwards.

Quotations

- Always make sure that your quotations are clearly identified as another’s words, cited in the manner described in the ‘Referencing’ section, below.
- Short quotations (fewer than 50 words) do not need to be indented from your main text.
- Prose quotations of fewer than 50 words should be run on as part of the text, in quotation marks, and separated by a comma e.g. As Bryony Trezise expands in Performing Feelings in Cultures of Memory, “we feel through, and as, we touch. We feel about how we touch at the same time as we touch. In this way, we might develop feelings about feeling”.
- Two or three lines of verse should be run on with the lines separated by a forward slash: e.g. “In the room the women come and go / Talking of Michelangelo”.
- Long quotations of more than 50 words, or of several lines of verse, dialogue, etc., should be indented from the main text, single spaced, and introduced by a colon with no quotation marks e.g.

As Adams, Bochner and Ellis state:

Autoethnographers recognize the innumerable ways personal experience influences the research process. For instance, a researcher decides who, what, where, when and how to research [...] consequently, autoethnography is one of the approaches that acknowledges and accommodates subjectivity, emotionality, and the researcher’s influence on the research.

- If you wish to skip over part of a sentence you are quoting, indicate this by an ellipsis ( . . . ) or four dots (full stop plus ellipsis . . . . ) if you run over the end of a sentence. Explanatory words added by you within quotations are indicated by square brackets.
- Make sure that you use punctuation to make your quotations fit in smoothly and logically with your own prose.
- If the quotation begins a new sentence or distinct new point, a colon or full stop is probably most appropriate: “punctuation is as vital to strong writing as the words used.”
- If the quotation continues the point, functioning as a new clause in a sentence, “then a comma should be sufficient.”
As well as correctly citing your quotation with a footnote, identify the source in your main text, using such phrases as “as John Smith suggests”.

Do not italicise quotations, unless the original text is italicised. If you use italics to emphasise a particular word or phrase in a quotation, make this clear in square brackets [my italics].

Footnotes and references

You must ALWAYS acknowledge the source of:

- any direct quotation from a published work;
- any idea from a published work which has significantly influenced your argument, even if you do not make a direct quotation;
- any repetition of material from another of your own essays;
- any other quoted or directly influential source, such as lecture notes, presentations, or seminar discussions.

The rule of thumb for footnotes is to be brief and clear.

Please refer to the University webpages for information on plagiarism to make sure that you avoid any form of plagiarism.

Footnotes and parenthetical citations: the basics

After quotation from, or reference to, any work, indicate a footnote by a raised number, thus.1

Footnotes should appear at the foot of the page to which they apply. Your word-processing package will allow you to enter footnotes automatically (usually ‘Insert Footnote’), but pay attention to the ‘Options’ menu (always choose Arabic numbering) and use ‘Format Style, Footnote Text’ to arrange the notes in readable fashion.

Footnote formatting - general

Footnote formatting for citing book, journal, film, internet (and so on) sources generally follows the very similar format as for bibliographical citations (see ‘Bibliography,’ below, for key differences), except that the author name runs—forename surname—followed by citation details. For instance,

If you are quoting from a source multiple times in the same essay, you can provide one footnote with the citation details of the text, followed by the statement “subsequent page references in text.” For example, footnote 1 might read:

After this, page references for this text can go in parentheses after quotations:

Freud describes the word “civilization” as, “the whole sum of the achievements and the regulations which distinguish our lives from those of our animal ancestors” (544).

Woolf’s novel concludes with the third section, “The Lighthouse,” where Lily’s memory of Mrs Ramsey is reframed; Lily finds herself “tunneling her way” into the past (355).
Citing dramatic works
The first footnote reference should cite author, title, place, publisher, date, page number (for more detailed examples see below). Act and scene numbers should always appear in parentheses after the quotation. No further footnote is needed for the same play, though further parenthetical citations should indicate page, act, scene, and line numbers (if given) using the form (V.ii.19-22), where the sequence of upper case Roman, lower case Roman, and finally Arabic signifies act V, scene ii, lines 19-22.

Citing poetry
The first footnote should cite author, title, place, publisher, date, page number. Line numbers should always appear in parentheses after the quotation. No further footnote is needed for the same poem, though further parenthetical citations should cite page and line number(s) (for example: p. 12, l. 12). Multiple lines of a poetic work are signified by ‘ll.’ (for example, p. 12, ll. 12-15). Long poems, such as The Aeneid or The Faerie Queene are referenced by their internal divisions into, for example, books and cantos and stanzas (III. x.12). Shorter poems are referenced simply by line numbers (ll. 45-53).

Citing films
The first mention of all films in an essay should immediately be followed by a parenthetical reference to the year in which it was released. For example, “In Alfred Hitchcock’s The Birds (1963), Tippi Hedren plays Melanie Daniels .” Any direct quotation from a film does not usually need to be cited, but a complete filmography can be included in the essay.

Citing images
Basic requirements:
1. Creator’s first and last name, Title of Work, date, medium, dimensions, location, or collection (publication details in brackets for footnotes), date accessed and URL.
   - Images do not usually appear in the bibliography, only the notes.
   - If there is no creator or organization information then begin the citation with the title. If there is no title provided then create a descriptive title and place it within square brackets. If there is no date available use the acronym “n.d.”
   - If you are citing a work in its original context you should include the medium (e.g. oil on canvas).

Standard entry for a work of art:
1. Jessie Oonark, Baker Lake, Hunting with Bow and Spear, 1975, stencil print on paper, 55.2 x 75.4 cm, Carleton University Art Gallery, Ottawa.

Filmography
Model one: After the first direct reference to a film in an essay, a footnote should appear which includes the following information: the film title, director’s name, two or three of the principal players, the studio or production company that released it, and the year. Further citations are not necessary.
For example:

OR

Model two: Rather than a footnote, the essay can simply quote directly from the film without any references. It should, however, present a filmography at the end of the document, which includes: the film title, director, principal players, the studio or production company, and the year of release. For example:

Referencing in Creative Writing commentaries

Referencing for creative writing commentaries should be done in the same way as for essays. Creative work itself does not usually require referencing. If references are used, students are advised to follow the departmental style guide or, where this interferes with the aesthetic of the writing, to consult their tutor.
