Welcome

Welcome to the School of Law and Human Rights Centre. The members of the School and the Centre hope you will enjoy your studies with us, and make the most of your time here. We hope that you will soon settle in and become familiar with how the School and Centre work. The year will make many new demands on you as you take the next steps in your academic development - it should be challenging, but very rewarding as you focus on your own special areas of interest.

This handbook gives you essential information about the School of Law, Human Rights Centre and the University.

Other helpful sources of information are available at www.essex.ac.uk/myessex. Our friendly departmental staff are also here to help and you can find their contact details in this handbook.

Remember that at Essex, we don’t separate our students and academic staff, or our professional services staff from our alumni. Everyone is a member of our community for life. Our three campuses encourage an inter-weaving of people, ideas and disciplines.

We revise the handbook annually and any suggestions you might have to improve this source of information are welcome, please email lawpgradmin@essex.ac.uk. For administrative enquiries and questions about your course – ask one of the administrative staff in the School’s General Office.

Enjoy your time at Essex.

Professor Karen Hulme
Head of School

Introduction

This Handbook is designed to provide you with an overview of all the essential information about the University and the School of Law and Human Rights Centre. Your Student Handbooks provides details of your department, including staff and contact details, facilities and ways to communicate and receive updates, as well as information relating to your course of study at Essex, including Rules of Assessment and the related policies, prizes awarded by the department each year, student feedback and meetings, and University regulations regarding progress, appeals and extenuating circumstances.

At our three uniquely intimate campuses we celebrate diversity and challenge inequality. Whatever your background, race or sexual orientation, you are part of a vibrant community that lives, learns and plays together.

Essex is about more than just getting a degree: we have so much to offer our students! This Student Handbook contains information on your Essex Experience, including the Students’ Union, sports clubs and societies, Essex Sport, Careers Services, campus information, IT support and services and our extensive range of student support and services.

The Student Directory contains a wealth of other helpful sources of information which can be found at https://www.essex.ac.uk/student.
Practicalities and Getting Started

You’ve made it to Essex! We’ve outlined below the most important things you need to make sure you do as soon as possible to get your time at Essex started.

Complete your Registration

Whilst you have accepted your offer and made your way to Essex, you still need to officially register yourself. At the start of each academic year, all new and returning students are required to register at the University. Registration is not only a formal procedure of enrolling you into the University, but it also connects you up to a number of vital systems you will need access to, including your IT account. As part of this process, you will need to complete online pre-arrival, physically attend a registration event on campus, and also activate your IT account.

To begin your registration, use one of the links below:

New students: https://www.essex.ac.uk/welcome/registration

Returning students: https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/registration/returner-registration

Explore your Campus

There is a broad range of facilities across each of our campuses to support your living and learning experience at Essex. We provide study-based services, like the IT helpdesk and group study pods, but also various food and drink venues and leisure facilities. The Students’ Union also runs a wide range of facilities, bars and general stores. Full details on all on-campus facilities feature on our student webpages and in the campus guide you received with your welcome information when you joined us as a student member.

Get connected

Your IT account

You will need to set up your IT account and create a password through the University website www.essex.ac.uk/it/getaccount. You will need to register an external email address and passphrase to set up your account. Once you’re set up, you can access your email, log on to lab computers, connect to campus wi-fi, and much more.

You must change your password within four weeks of your account being created, and then once every four months after that. You should receive email notifications to change your password shortly before it is due to expire. The easiest way to change your password is online at: www.essex.ac.uk/password. If you have forgotten your password, you can also reset it through this link using your external email address and passphrase. If you have forgotten those also, you should either visit the IT Helpdesk or call 01206 872345. Make sure you keep your password safe and do not share it with others!

Campus Wi-fi

Wi-fi is available across all campuses. Simply find the ‘eduroam’ network on your device and use the same log in details as your IT account to connect up!
Essex Apps
The University has a variety of online systems and platforms designed to enhance your learning and help make processes, such as submitting coursework, easier. We have rounded up the top platforms, portals and apps that you need to know about!

MyEssex
MyEssex is your online account. You can use it to keep your personal details up-to-date, request replacement registration cards or supporting documents, such as council tax exemption certificates, contact the Student Services Hub, and much more.

PocketEssex
Pocket Essex is the University's official app for students, giving you access to comprehensive information about living and learning at Essex. The app provides an interface of icons that act as a portal through to a variety of useful links, areas and resources. PocketEssex links to many areas that MyEssex does in a handy app form, but also takes you through to many other key contacts and resources, such as the Students’ Union, FindYourWay and the Library.

Find Your Way
We know that finding your way from one room to another can be challenging to start with. Our Colchester campus in particular can be difficult to navigate with a historically complex room numbering system that leaves even our final year students still baffled! FindYourWay is our interactive campus map that can either be accessed via PocketEssex, downloaded as its own app, or via a web browser. It is designed to help you get from A to B on either the Colchester or Southend campuses with quick and easy directions. http://findyourway.essex.ac.uk/

https://www.essex.ac.uk/myessex/

Your personal belongings
University insurance cover is very limited for the belongings of students using graduate study rooms. Therefore, you are strongly advised to take out personal insurance cover for your possessions. This is especially important for items of particular value, such as personal electronic devices (i.e., laptops, phones and tablets). The University does not cover costs for personal damage or loss of your possessions; only in instances where the University has been negligent would a claim be viable for compensation for personal belongings.

Right to Study
The University must ensure all students have the right to study at the University of Essex for the whole duration of their course(s). If you require immigration permission to study in the UK, this will be checked when you first register on your course and as necessary thereafter.

For Tier 4 sponsored students, you will have conditions attached to your leave restricting study and work; some nationals are required to register with the Police. You are expected to have the finances in place to pay your tuition fees and living costs throughout your course and do not have access to state housing or benefits.

The Tier 4 rules and guidance include restrictions relating to the length of time you can spend studying in the UK and academic progress; this may mean you are unable to take an academic option offered to you or that we can’t continue to sponsor you under Tier 4. The University has many duties as a Tier 4 sponsor and must ensure we remain compliant in order to retain our Tier 4 licence. Find out more on the University’s website: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/immigration/ and https://www.essex.ac.uk/about/governance/regulations
If you would like to get additional support with your English language skills, you can find helpful information and a range of resources here: https://www.essex.ac.uk/welcome/international-students

English classes for the dependants of international students and staff (ECDIS)

The Department of Language and Linguistics offers dependants of international students and staff at the Colchester Campus the chance to improve their English language, through our ECDIS programme, at no extra cost. Classes are taught at three basic levels: Elementary (A1/A2), Intermediate (B1/B2) and Advanced (C1/C2) and will focus on listening, speaking, reading and writing.

Equality, Inclusion and Diversity

The University recognises the value of diversity and is committed to equality of opportunity within the University. It therefore aims to create the conditions whereby students and staff are treated with dignity and respect, and solely on the basis of their merits, abilities and potential, regardless of race, ethnic or national origin, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, age, socio-economic background, family circumstances, religious or political beliefs and affiliations, or any other irrelevant distinction.

The University is committed to a programme of action to ensure that this policy is fully effective. You can find out more information on the University’s policy, and get in touch with any comments or questions, here:

We are different at Essex. We are brave, we are bold, and we embrace challenges and drive change. Our values are underpinned by this very culture. While we full heartedly encourage students to challenge the status quo and explore the unknown, we expect that students do so respectfully, intelligently and act as true ambassadors for the University.

About the School of Law and the Human Rights Centre

The School of Law
At Essex we teach the law that matters. Consistent with our founding ethos, we are ‘freer, more daring and more experimental’ than a traditional law school. Your legal education has to be relevant and responsive to the needs of a changing society, so our approach is global in outlook, based on justice, and engaged with real-world problems.

The Human Rights Centre
The Human Rights Centre is housed within the School of Law and run by core staff supported by other members from across different departments at the University. All members of the Human Rights Centre research and teach in the field of human rights, and many pursue activities linked to human rights-based litigation, international organisations, international and national nongovernmental organisations, research networks and other academics courses.

Your Supervisor

You will have had a supervisor appointed to you at the admissions process. You are expected to have regular contact with your supervisor during your studies and they should be the first port of call for any concerns/problems.
Supervision of Research Students during periods of leave

Academic Staff serving as supervisors of postgraduate research students will, on occasion, take periods of research leave for research purposes. During some periods of research leave, supervisors may not be in residence at the University. It is incumbent upon supervisor, with the approval of the Graduate Director of Research, to develop a plan for the continuing supervision of students during periods of research leave. In making such arrangements, it is the policy of the department that:

a) Members of staff are expected to continue to carry out their role as Supervisor during periods of research leave.
b) Members of staff on research leave are not expected to attend Supervisory Panels, but are expected to provide a written assessment of progress.
c) Members of staff on research leave should make arrangements for continuing contact with their supervisees, whether through face-to-face meetings, or through some form of remote communication.
d) In cases where a member of staff plans to be out-of-residence for an extended periods during their research leave, an alternate member of staff should be named (by the Graduate Director of Research, in consultation with the Supervisor) as a local contact for the supervisee student. The local contact is not meant to act as a substitute supervisor (see point (A) above) but to serve as a designated point of contact in the Department during the period when the Supervisor is out-of-residence.

Research Students’ Progress Committee (RSPB)

The RSPB is made up of senior members of academic staff and is chaired by the Graduate Director, PGR. It “reviews the progress of every student through to the award of a degree, withdrawal or failure, on the basis of the reports from the supervisory board, including the written report from the student. Where no supervisory board has taken place, for instance because a student is carrying out research abroad, the supervisor and the student must each submit a progress report. A decision/recommendation for discontinuation, downgrading or upgrading or to confirm PhD status or change to MPhil, to permit entry into completion, or to extend the minimum period can only be made by the RSPB.”

Staff research interests

Our staff have a wide range of research interests which go beyond the clusters of commercial law, human rights and public law. See our individual academic staff profiles for full lists of research interests in the School.

The Law Common Room
The Law Common Room (5S.6.17) is located on level 6 of the Law department and is for the use of all students and staff in the Law and Human Rights department. This is a quiet study and social space, which cannot be booked out for meetings and is therefore an open space. Please be considerate to other people using the space.

Postgraduate (Research) Study Room / Lab
The Postgraduate Study room is available for all research students in 5S.4.9. These desks are currently allocated to individual students, and desk space is allocated on a first-come, first-served basis. There is a very limited amount of space available, so please consider whether you will be regularly using this space before you request it, and notify the PGR administrator if you no longer wish to use it so that it can be reallocated.

If you are allocated one of these desks, you will need a key to enter the room for which you will need to give a £5 deposit to the Finance Administrator, located in the Law General Office. This will be refunded upon return of the key when you no longer require the space. If you are not able to obtain a space in the PhD room, there are PC Labs available across campus and a Postgraduate Study room located on the ground floor of the library.

The School of Law and Human Rights Centre asks all Postgraduate Researches to keep the room in a good order. A desk in the PhD study room is not a store room for your personal belongings, and please consider the other students who share the room with you (not disturbing other students with unnecessary talk or music).

Printing, photocopying and scanning
All students can print, copy and scan for free at Essex! There are over 100+ multi-function devices that can be used at various locations across our three Campuses, including in the following areas:

- All IT labs
- Silberrad Student Centre
- Albert Sloman Library
- Orangery
- Limehouse
- Roding House and Unit 4 (Loughton)
- Gateway Building (Southend)
- The Forum (Southend)

Simply log in to the devices using your Essex login and password, or tap with your student card. These devices can also scan to email and feature mobile printing. Whilst printing is free for all students, please think of your carbon footprint and only print if necessary.

Premium services (chargeable) for printing and finishing, including binding your documents for presentational purposes are available at The Copy Centre (Square 4).
Please note that there are strict laws about infringement of copyright; more information can be found on the library website which explains what and how much you are permitted to copy. Usage is monitored and subject to a fair use policy.

Noticeboards

Every department and school has their own noticeboard(s) providing information on staff, courses and classes, updates, careers, events and opportunities. The School of Law noticeboards are located throughout the corridor on level 5.

HEROES: Helping Each other with Research On Empirical Subjects

HEROES is a group of empirical minded PhD students. HEROES stands for Helping Each other with Research On Empirical Subjects.

Communication

It is important to keep up to date with information relating to your department and course. This section also summarises how the department will communicate updates with you and provides some guidance on communicating with University staff.

Email

The University’s policy is to use e-mail for routine communication between staff and students. Your Essex e-mail address will have been added to the relevant e-mail groups specific to your department or school, course and modules to ensure that you receive the essential information, updates and general communication related to your study and issues that may affect you. It is therefore vital that you check your Essex email regularly. It is recommended that you check your Essex email each day to ensure you do not miss any important updates to classes and assessment.

If you are elected to a Student Representative position, work as a Graduate Teaching Assistant, or volunteer in another form or means, it is even more important to regularly check your Essex email as should other students and staff need to get in touch, they will do so via your Essex email.

You will also automatically be subscribed to a small number of opt-out lists, again, based on your course. These will be used to send useful information and, while some of this may be about events, marketing or other opportunities, we try to avoid sending too much. To opt in or out of such lists, please visit:

While email can be a quick and easy means of communicating, you should still consider how you structure and write each email to ensure it is appropriate when contacting members of staff at the University.

Our website and Moodle

Each department and school has its own section of the University website. This is an important source of information and news about all aspects of your studies. You can find the School of Law and Human Rights Centre websites here:

https://www.essex.ac.uk/departments/law

MyEssex
Your MyEssex student portal will alert you to updates about modules and other aspects of your course and studies. It is important that you check your MyEssex regularly, as well as email, to ensure you have the most up to date information.

By telephone
You will only be contacted via phone in emergencies, or when it is otherwise necessary to receive an immediate response, but you should ensure that you provide the University with a contact number with your personal details.

By text message
In instances where a last minute change has been made, and the department or school need to communicate this with short notice, you may receive a text message to communicate the change, such as a lecture or class cancellation. You should ensure that you provide the University with a contact number with your personal details.

By letter
Letters may be attached to your Essex email or posted to your term-time address, so please make sure the University has got your current contact details. Your address and contact details can be updated via the MyEssex portal.

Learning and Teaching

The University is committed to providing equal opportunities for all our students regardless of where or how you study. Our diverse student population is taken into account when developing the resources, services and facilities on and off campus, when we create our courses, write publications and course materials, and set our policies and regulations.

Student Staff Partnership

It is important from the outset to be pro-active in the management of your project. The work is, after all, your responsibility and not that of your supervisor, and ultimately both you and your supervisor have to certify that the thesis is entirely your own work. Supervisors will try their best to give you advice and support you as your work develops.

As a Postgraduate Research student, you have a responsibility to:

- Read the documentation provided, including the regulations for your degree, the Code of Practice and details of the departmental supervisory arrangements.
- Attend meetings with your supervisors and Supervisory Panels as arranged, and prepare adequately for them, notifying your supervisor in the event of unavoidable absence.
- Keep in regular contact with your supervisor. Students and supervisors are required to communicate, whether face-to-face or by electronic means, to engage in discussion/review of the student's work and progress at least once a month (and bi-monthly for part-time students).
- Provide updates on progress as outlined in the Progress and Appeals Procedures for Research Degree Students.
- Carry out, as far as possible, the work agreed with your supervisor and submit written work as agreed so that you meet the required milestones.
- Familiarise yourself with the departmental milestones for your degree and the requirements for your chosen thesis format. The milestones are designed to help you submit your thesis by the deadline and are used to assess your progress during your period of study. The milestones will be considered at your RSPB which takes place twice a year (or equivalent for part-time students). It’s important you review your milestones regularly to ensure you’ll be ready to submit your thesis by the required date.
- Familiarise yourself with University and subject-specific guidelines on ethical research, including data protection matters, and with health and safety and intellectual property regulations and obtain ethical approval as appropriate.
- Familiarise yourself with the expectations and conventions regarding academic referencing other people’s work.
- Attend any research training and generic skills courses as agreed with your supervisor.
- As requested, submit reports on progress to professional practice and research supervisors, Supervisory Panels, or the departmental Research Students’ Progress Board.
- Keep a record of your personal progress, including a copy of agreed training needs, courses that need to be attended and when they are attended. This may take the form of a log book or research portfolio to be signed off by your supervisor.
- Inform the relevant supervisor promptly if there are any specific needs or circumstances likely to affect your work. Notify the Supervisory Panel/Research Students’ Progress Board in writing of any extenuating circumstances that you believe have significantly affected your performance.
- Discuss any supervisory problems with your supervisor or the Head of Department. Alternatively, if you feel unable to talk to a member of the departmental staff, please contact the Postgraduate Research Education Team to discuss the concerns. Any discussions will remain confidential if requested. Students may request a change of supervisor but should note that it may not always be possible for suitable alternative arrangements to be made.
- You must present your thesis for examination by the end of the final term of your standard period, or by the end of the prescribed completion period.
  - A request for an extension of up to two weeks to the submission deadline may be made. Requests must be made to the Postgraduate Research Education Team in advance of the deadline. If granted an extension, you will not be expected to register or pay the prescribed fee for that two-week period.
If you fail to present your thesis for examination by the deadline, you will be deemed to have withdrawn permanently from the University and from your research degree, unless you are permitted an exceptional further period of completion.

- Extenuating circumstances that affect your ability to submit your thesis by the agreed deadline will be considered by the Dean on a case-by-case basis.
- Familiarise yourself with the guidelines on thesis submission and with the examination process, and ensure that you are prepared for your viva.

The academic year

The academic year uses a week numbering system that covers the 52 weeks of a calendar year, but corresponds to typical term dates. So, the start of the academic year is week 1, which is Welcome week.

You can view the University’s week numbers with the equivalent dates in the week by week calendar. The University’s key dates include an overview of the start and end of each term and exam periods. Some courses within departments have slightly different term dates. However, you will find that all campus activities and events make reference to the standard academic year terms and schedule noted above.

The official University teaching day runs from 9am to 6pm, Monday to Friday and you are expected to be available during these times in term time to attend teaching events.

Teaching timetable

Most PGR students won’t be required to undertake taught modules, and so a teaching timetable isn’t applicable. For those students who do undertake taught modules as part of their course, you’ll have a personal timetable, this shows you when your teaching is taking place, as well as who is teaching you. Check your personal online timetable regularly for up to date teaching information.

Information about teaching timetables, including requesting a class change, reporting a timetable issue and accessing your individual timetable can be found here.

https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/timetables/your-timetable

You can find the location of your teaching rooms using the interactive campus map, Find Your Way, you can get directions quickly and easily.

Course structure

Each course at the University has its own syllabus, full details of which can be found in the University’s Programme Specifications Catalogue at:

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/programmespecs/

Programme specifications provide key information, including the aims and learning outcomes of your course. Your own course structure, including your specific programme specification, can be found in the MyStudy section of your MyEssex homepage.

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/myessex/

Changes to study

You should discuss any proposed change of degree title with your supervisor. Once you have decided you want to change your degree title, you will need to make a formal request using the online Change of Course/Degree title form (available here: www.essex.ac.uk/esf/)

Until your final term, you may request a transfer from one mode of study to another, for example from full time to part time, including distance learning, or vice-versa. You should discuss any proposed change with your supervisor.

If you are a sponsored student, you should discuss any proposed change with your funding body and/or check its terms and conditions. If you are a Research Council funded student, you should contact the Postgraduate Research Education team to discuss your request to change your mode of study.

Once you have decided you want to change your mode of study, you will need to make a formal request, using the online Change of Mode of Study form, which will need to be approved by your department and the Dean. You can find the form at: www.essex.ac.uk/esf/

If your request is approved your period of study will be adjusted pro-rata

Thinking of leaving or taking a break from your studies?
You may experience doubts at some point during your studies, if you’re thinking about leaving Essex, we’re here to support you and give you the advice you need to help you make an informed choice.

Intermission is a temporary withdrawal or leave of absence from the University and provides you with the opportunity to take a break from your studies. Normally, this is for reasons beyond your control (e.g. health or personal problems) although other reasons are permitted. Intermission must be approved by the University first, so if you are thinking about intermitting, we strongly advise you to contact your department and your Student Services Hub to talk to one of our advisers.

You should also read our guidance on intermitting very carefully at www.essex.ac.uk/see/intermit. If your intermission is agreed to, we will also give you the advice and support you need to help you carry on with your studies.

Withdrawing is the formal process for permanently leaving your programme of study and the University. If you are thinking of withdrawing, you should seek advice from your Department or the Student Services Hub at the earliest opportunity. It is very important that you discuss your circumstances with the University and follow the formal procedure for withdrawing. If the university is not formally notified, then you may risk continuing to incur further tuition or accommodation fees. More advice and information is available at www.essex.ac.uk/see/withdraw.

Library Services

At our Colchester Campus, the Albert Sloman Library on Square 5 is open 24/7 and has a variety of study spaces over six floors, including individual and group work areas. The Library offers a wide range of learning resources, online and in print, with a dedicated Helpdesk, live chat and the opportunity to book appointments with your Subject Librarian to help you through your studies and beyond.

library.essex.ac.uk

The library has a team of Subject Librarians who can help you to find appropriate resources for your assignments and show you how to search effectively. They can also provide advice on referencing and academic integrity, using reference management software, and evaluating sources. Find out who your subject Librarian is and get help with your subject area at library.essex.ac.uk/studyres
Skills for Success
We are committed to ensuring that every student is able to get the most out of their academic study and achieve their potential on their course. Whether you need support with researching, assignment writing, mathematics and statistics, digital skills, or English language for academic purposes, support is available to help you succeed during your time at University. Reach your potential and enhance your chances of success with classes, workshops, drop-in clinics and on-line resources. Find out more at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/study-resources/tdc/

The use of proofreading services
Many students seek ‘proofreading’ services at some point during their studies, but different editing practices at times go on in this name that may not be appropriate in an academic context, and could potentially qualify as an academic offence. In a context where work is to be assessed, the University is keen to ensure as far as possible that students understand what proofreading work should entail and the acceptable boundaries to which any proofreading or editing must adhere to.

The University maintain a list of local freelance proofreaders who offer services to students and staff at Essex that have read and agreed to abide by the University’s policy and guidance on proofreading. The University’s full policy and guidance can be found along with the list of local freelance proofreaders on the website:

https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/academic-skills/proofreading

Before considering the use of proofreading services, all students should first discuss their work with their personal tutors.

Learning a Language
Learn a language at Essex to increase your global and cultural awareness. Language learning can give you the confidence to work and travel internationally, expand your options for studying abroad, and get a competitive edge when you’re looking for a job. There are a number of ways to do it, so look online to discover the best option for you.

www.essex.ac.uk/study/why/languages

Departmental Policy on the Use of Mobile Phones, Laptops and Tablets
A student may not make a personal recording of a teaching event, supervisory meeting, oral examination or other formal meeting or committee which considers the student’s academic progress or performance without the permission of all other individuals present. If this permission is granted, the recording may be made for the personal use of the student only, in support of their studies and learning. The recording must not be made publicly available or shared for other purposes without the consent of those present. Disabled students who have difficulty with note-taking are encouraged to contact Student Support for further information on when recording is permissible and other access strategies.
Research Skills Development

Proficio
Proficio is our innovative professional development scheme for doctoral students, and it’s unique to Essex. We believe that your academic and professional development is vital to your growth as a postgraduate research student and so we credit your Proficio account with funds that can be spent on a variety of courses and for conference attendance. You can find out more information via: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/study-resources/research.aspx

You can contact the Proficio team at:
proficio@essex.ac.uk

University and departmental training events

PhD Research Training Seminar Series
A series of seminars are offered to PhD students over a period of two or three days each year. Students are strongly encouraged to attend. Further information about the training and dates will be provided at the start of the academic year.

Attending Modules in the School of Law
A supervisor may recommend that you attend a module to help you with your research. You will not usually be expected to comply with the assessment rules of such a module. Even where attendance of a module was not recommended by the supervisor, you may sit in on any modules offered by the School, so long as you receive the module director’s permission. Details of modules can be obtained from the postgraduate students’ handbook or the undergraduate handbook. Both can be viewed on: https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/resources/student-handbooks. It is not advisable to audit so many modules that this becomes a distraction from working on your thesis.

School of Law research events
Research activities in the School of Law are largely organised around our three research clusters. We have a research cluster in commercial law, one in human rights law and one in public law. All of these areas are defined very broadly. During term time, each cluster usually meets about once every 3 weeks, Wednesday 1-2pm. Research students are encouraged to join the research cluster most closely linked to their area of research and invitations for cluster events will be sent to research students whenever relevant. If you have any questions about which cluster would be most suitable for you, please discuss this with your supervisor or the cluster coordinators.

PGR Conference
In your first year you will be required to give a presentation on your proposed research at the Post-Graduate Research Conference, provisionally scheduled for the Summer term. All research students are encouraged to attend and present their research at this conference every year throughout their studies.
Details of any Departmental support or funding for attending conferences/other events

£350 Fund Allocation
In addition to Proficio funding, full-time students may apply to the School for additional support up to £350 per financial year, £175 for part-time students. The financial year runs from 1st August to 31st July the following year.

Support may be provided for the costs of attending events which enhance the student's research and development such as conferences, seminars and workshops. This funding is discretionary and applications will be considered on a case by case basis.

To apply, the student should e-mail their supervisor asking for their agreement that the event is relevant to their PhD and beneficial to their research. The student should then forward their supervisor's confirmation to lawfinance@essex.ac.uk with a request for reimbursement of the costs. Copies of receipts/booking confirmations should be attached to the e-mail and bank details should also be provided.
Assessment and Good Practice

All schools and departments at the University should employ a variety of assessment methods designed to ensure that the learning outcomes of each module, and course, have been successfully met by the student.

The Principal Regulations and the Codes of Practice are extremely important documents that set out both your responsibilities and the responsibilities of the University to you; take time to familiarise yourself with them. They outline the roles and responsibilities of you, your supervisor, your Supervisory Panel and the Research Students’ Progress Board.

www.essex.ac.uk/governance/regulations

Rules of Assessment

The Rules of Assessment are used to calculate your results. There is a main set of rules for 3 year and 4 year courses, but some departments also have additional variations which can be found in the Variation to the Rules of Assessment.

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ppg/pgr/assess-rules.aspx

In the School of Law and Human Rights Centre we do not have a variation to the Rules of Assessment.

Ethics in research

All research involving human participants, whether undertaken by the University’s staff or students, must undergo an ethics review by an appropriate body and ethical approval must be obtained before it commences. You can find our Guidelines for Ethical Approval of Research Involving Human Participants here - https://www.essex.ac.uk/staff/research-governance/ethical-approval-resources-for-applicants - along with a link to the online Ethical Approval application form in ERAMS (https://erams.essex.ac.uk/do/essex-login/login).

‘Human participants’ are defined as including living human beings, human beings who have recently died (cadavers, human remains and body parts), embryos and foetuses, human tissue and bodily fluids, and personal data and records (such as, but not restricted to medical, genetic, financial, personnel, criminal or administrative records and test results including scholastic achievements). Research involving the NHS may require and research involving human tissue or adults lacking capacity to consent will require Health Research Authority approval.

Indeed any research involving human subjects (particularly vulnerable subjects) must have ethical approval. This must be approved BEFORE any research field work or interviews take place. Applying for approval must be in at least twelve weeks before your starting date, as the application may need to be seen by more than one ethics committee. Also be aware that if this is submitted during a university vacation period, it may take longer, as the staff involved may not be available. Further guidance and information is available from Moodle in your Phd Portfolio.

Please contact the PGR administrator with any further queries relating to Ethics.

Risk assessments in research

If the research you are undertaking could potentially harm participants, researchers or the university (e.g. risks to physical or mental health, safeguarding or reputational, legal or financial risks) you will need to carry out a risk assessment, which you may be asked to provide as part of the ethics approval process. Your academic supervisor will be able to advise you on this.
You will also find information about risk assessment and managing health and safety risks on the student directory. Or email our health and safety team (safety@essex.ac.uk) for advice or to book onto Research Risk Assessment training: https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/health-and-safety

If you are planning to carry out research abroad it is important that you research your destination, so that you are aware of security, safety or culture issues that may affect you or your research.

If you are planning to carry out research away from the University it is also important that you complete a Study Away Request, which can be found here: https://edrm.essex.ac.uk/esf

The University has comprehensive travel insurance, which you will be able to arrange by completing the online Travel Insurance Application Form.

You will find information about overseas travel and travel insurance on the Student Directory: https://www.essex.ac.uk/student/health-and-safety/overseas-travel

Academic Integrity and Academic Offences

The University expects students to complete all assessment with honesty and integrity and to follow our conventions for academic writing (including appropriate referencing of sources) and ethical considerations. If you don’t meet these expectations, then you may be charged with having committed an academic offence, a matter the University takes very seriously.

It is your responsibility to make yourself aware of the regulations governing examinations and how to correctly prepare your coursework. An academic offence can take place even if you didn’t mean to commit one, and examples include plagiarism, falsifying data or evidence, and communicating with another candidate in an examination.

If you aren’t sure what the conventions are, particularly in relation to referencing, you should ask your department and contact Skills for Success via the Student Services Hub.

More information about academic offences and getting support can be found at: www.essex.ac.uk/about/governance/policies/academic-offences.aspx.

Submission of Thesis

Thesis Submission Pre-Examination

All candidates for Masters by Dissertation (MA or MSc), Master of Philosophy (MPhil), and Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) must submit two copies of their thesis for examination.

The two copies of your thesis should be submitted for examination in an unbound format.

They must be adequately secured (for example in spring-back binders or comb binding and not in ring binders or lever arch box files). They must not be overfilled and to avoid all risks of coming open and jeopardising examination, two binders must be used, if required.

All registration fees and debts must be paid before the thesis can be accepted for submission.

You should submit to the Silberrad Student Centre:

a) Two copies of the thesis or dissertation.

b) A submission form (RD1) completed and signed by yourself.

You are strongly advised to retain one good copy of the thesis or dissertation yourself.
Please note that you must provide an electronic copy of your submitted thesis to the Postgraduate Research Education Team if your examiner requests an electronic version.

All submitted copies of the thesis belong to the University and shall be returned to the candidate following the viva.

Thesis Submission for Award

Following the completion of the examination process, the candidate will be notified via email that in order to gain their award they must submit one electronic version of their thesis to the online Research Repository. Following the receipt of this deposit, the candidate will be awarded their postgraduate research degree.

Thesis Deposit

Detailed thesis deposit instructions to the Repository can be found here: http://www.essex.ac.uk/reo/repository/research-thesis.aspx

Students wishing to place a restriction on their thesis must do so in writing prior to submission of their thesis to repository@essex.ac.uk. Further information regarding restrictions can be found here:

https://www.essex.ac.uk/reo/repository/research-thesis.aspx

When depositing your thesis in the online Repository you will be required to read and accept the conditions stipulated in the Thesis Deposit Agreement.

Retention

Your thesis will be made open access when deposited in the online Research Repository. The Thesis Deposit Agreement outlines the availability of the thesis and how it will be stored in the Repository. You may request for an embargo to your thesis, details of which can be found on the intention to submit form.

https://www.essex.ac.uk/-/media/documents/about/governance/thesis-submission-deposit.pdf

Late submission

If you are unable to submit your thesis by the deadline, you may be able to request an extension of up to 4 weeks, subject to approval by the Deputy Dean. Please email the Postgraduate Research Education team: pgresearch@essex.ac.uk to make this request. This request should be made in good time, ideally at least 2 weeks before your deadline. Very late requests may not be able to be approved.

This is separate from an extension to your standard or completion period, which would be discussed by your supervisory team at your Supervisory Panel, and is usually considered only when there are extenuating circumstances for which other options such as Intermission were not possible.

Examiners and the Viva

Your supervisor will not normally be present during your viva and will not normally have any contact with your examiners other than to arrange their appointment.

You can find out more about the Viva process and what to expect by attending the Moodle course ‘Surviving the Viva’, which is usually run termly.

If you have any questions or concerns about your Viva, please do contact the PGR administrator: lawpgradmin@essex.ac.uk
Referencing
Respecting authorship through good academic practice is one of the key values of higher education in the UK.

The University takes academic offences very seriously. You should read the sections of this handbook which refer to referencing, coursework and examinations very carefully.

Referencing is a key academic/scientific skill. It is how you will acknowledge all sources used within a piece of work. You must reference all works used directly (quotes) and indirectly (paraphrasing and summarising).

Referencing allows you to give credit to authors'/researchers' concepts and ideas and results, demonstrate your breadth of reading and knowledge on a subject, direct readers to your sources, and avoid plagiarism.

You should always use the best available sources of evidence, such as peer reviewed journals and recognised books.

Your departmental referencing style is OSCOLA. To find out about your departmental referencing style and for help with referencing, visit the library website: library.essex.ac.uk/referencing, or take the Academic Integrity Moodle course: https://moodle.essex.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=5844

Appeals
Appeals on academic grounds can be made following the outcome of the Progress Committee or your Viva. There are limited grounds available to appeal on and strict deadlines to adhere to. As such, we strongly advise all students thinking about making an appeal to contact the SU Advice Centre.

More information about appeals, including the deadlines and forms to complete, can be found online at: www.essex.ac.uk/see/appeals

Extemporizing Circumstances
Extemporizing circumstances are circumstances beyond your control which cause you to perform to less of a standard on your thesis than you might have expected, or in some instances, may prevent you from submitting thesis work or attending a supervisory panel entirely. In general, valid extemporizing circumstances will be of medical or personal natures that affect you for any significant period of time and/or during assessment.

Your department will review your claim at a Progress Committee and determine whether it will be accepted or rejected. The Progress Committee will determine an appropriate course of action and the corresponding methods to take into account your extemporizing circumstances, if appropriate.

If you do need to make an extemporizing circumstances claim, you should first read the guidance very carefully and seek advice from SU Advice (www.essex.su/advice) or the Student Services Hub (www.essex.ac.uk/students/contact/default.aspx). Please be prepared that you may need to include supporting evidence with your claim. Extemporizing circumstance claims should be included in the appropriate field in your Supervisory Report.

Further information and the full Extemporizing Circumstances Policy can be found on the website: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ext-circ.aspx

The Board of Examiners
Assessment for progress in the research thesis will be considered by an annual Supervisory Panel meeting that determine whether a student can progress to the next year.
The outcome of the Supervisory Panel is reported to the Research Student Progress Committee (RSPC). The RSPC then makes a recommendation for final approval by the Dean of whether the student can progress to the next year.

Students may be able to move into a completion period when the entire thesis is in draft. This would include completion of all data collection and analysis.

The research thesis is assessed in accordance with the normal arrangements for research degrees, as outlined in the Principal regulations for research degrees and Codes of practice relating to higher degrees.
Computers, Learning Technologies and your Information

Computers
Using a campus computer

If you need to use a computer on campus our computer labs are the perfect place to study or work. We also have group study pods which are ideal for group projects. You can find a full list of computers available to use on our website: https://www1.essex.ac.uk/it/labs/usage/. Many labs stay open until late and some are open 24/7. Labs may be booked for teaching, and so it is best to check availability first.

As part of your IT account at Essex, all students have full access to:

- Office 365
  Office 365 is an online version of the Microsoft Office suite of programmes. You can access these by logging into your account from anywhere, which means you can use Microsoft programmes from at home too.

- 1TB of OneDrive cloud storage space
  OneDrive lets you create, edit, and share documents online so you can access them from anywhere in the world and from any device.

- 1 GB of local storage
  This is known as your M: drive. You can only access this when logged onto a lab computer on campus. Go to ‘This PC’ and select the M: drive network. If you want to access documents saved here from your personal laptop, you will need to either save them in your OneDrive or transfer the documents in another secure method, such as via USB.

Learning Technologies and Systems

eNROL
The eNROL system is an online tool to review and select available modules specific to a particular course and year of study. The majority of Postgraduate Research students will not need to use eNROL.
Learner Engagement Activity Portal (LEAP)

Please note that LEAP is not currently being used to monitor engagement of PGR students. However, the following information may be useful if you are going to be working as a GTA.

LEAP is our student centered, personalised engagement tool. LEAP displays your engagement with university resources (Moodle, FASER, Listen Again, the Library and university computers usage as well as attendance).

An algorithm within LEAP combines your engagement with university resources and activities to produce an overall engagement indicator. There are 5 engagement indicators (high, good, partial, low and very low) which will help you map and better understand your engagement pattern over time.

By providing you with a more holistic view of your studying experience, LEAP offers you the opportunity to take control of your own learning and make more informed choices about your studies, enabling you to:

- Reflect on your academic activates and overall engagement to make informed decisions about your academic studies
- Discover who your Personal Tutor is
- Review the notes created in LEAP from meetings with Tutors or other university staff
- Check your attendance and ensure the information is correct

Tutors and other university staff may use the information in LEAP to:

- Suggest ways you could achieve better outcomes
- Check that all is well and offer information, advice and guidance
- Help you in areas of their studies that you are finding a challenge

Moodle

We use Moodle as our online learning environment, to enhance face-to-face teaching. It lets you get to course materials, and has built-in features to enhance learning such as discussion forums, chat facilities, quizzes, surveys, glossaries and wikis.

Student Voice

At the University of Essex, the views, ideas and feedback of our students are at the heart of what the University does. The time students take to offer feedback is hugely appreciated. This feedback, both positive and developmental, is used to help make short and longer term improvements, both to the experience of current students, but also for Essex students of the future. You can do this in a number of ways.

Student Representatives

You can contact (or volunteer to be) a student representative who represent the voice of fellow students in departmental Student Voice Groups (SVG) and other University level committees.

https://www.essexstudent.com/representation/

http://www.essex.ac.uk/quality/student_representation/student_rep.asp

Student Voice Groups

Student Voice Groups (SVGs), formerly known as Student Staff Liaison Committees (SSLCs), are made up of elected student representatives and members of staff. SVGs typically meet once per term and provide an accessible arena for students to discuss with staff issues connected to teaching, learning and student support. They also provide an opportunity for the academic department/school/centre to consult with students and receive feedback on new proposals.

https://www1.essex.ac.uk/quality/student_representation/SVGs.asp

Student Surveys

Student satisfaction surveys enable the University to gauge overall satisfaction amongst students. When the results have been reviewed and analysed, the University can then enhance your experience of learning at Essex.

There are many satisfaction surveys taking place, to ensure students are happy with the services the University of Essex provides. From time to time you will be invited to participate via an email.

If you have some feedback but don’t know who to tell, email studentexperience@essex.ac.uk

GradIntel
Postgraduate students do not currently have access to the Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR); this is only available for undergraduate students. However, you can use GradIntel to record any extra-curricular activities you may be involved in through the Big Essex Awards but not full access to your academic achievements.

Graduation
The culmination of all your hard work, Graduation ceremonies take place at our Colchester Campus each July in the Ivor Crewe Lecture Hall. All eligible students studying at our Colchester, Loughton and Southend Campuses will be invited to attend. For more information visit our graduation pages: www.essex.ac.uk/students/graduation/default.aspx

Please be aware that you will not be able to graduate until your award has been officially conferred to you. This is not the same as a pass at your Viva; you must also have completed any corrections, had these approved by the Deputy Dean, and have uploaded your corrected thesis to the Research Repository. More information about this can be found under ‘Submission of Thesis’.

Requesting References

Requesting references from members of staff
If you require a personal reference, always ask permission from a member of staff before giving their name as a referee. You should consider from whom it is most appropriate to request a reference and who will be best equipped to evidence your character and performance in the subject.

Every reasonable effort will be made to meet a request for reference for a student who has undertaken study within our Department. Requests received from students who have graduated from the University within the last three years will be prioritised. Requests received outside of this period may, of course, be met if a member of staff is equipped with the necessary information and is willing to provide a reference.

It is always helpful if you can provide the member of staff with details about the course or job you have applied for and, if relevant, a CV or other summary of your qualifications and experience. Please try to ask for references in good time – it is not always possible for a member of staff to write a reference immediately.

Copies of references
A copy of any reference provided will be retained within our department for no longer than three years for taught students.

Alumni
Essex is forever and although your time here will fly by, you’ll be part of the Essex family for life. When you graduate, you’ll get an alumni card and join a community of over 100,000 fellow graduates around the world. We’d love to keep in touch and invite you to our alumni events, networking and volunteering opportunities, as well as offer you special alumni benefits. Want to know more?
