

University of Essex Hardship Fund

2023-24 January Starter's

The University is offering financial support to students who have had an unexpected, exceptional change in their financial circumstances that has resulted in short-term, financial difficulty. Awards take the form of a non-repayable grant to support emergency short-term living costs allowing students to continue their studies at Essex with reduced financial pressures.

Students will be assessed for financial support with the following living costs:

1. Food - support with food, drink and personal hygiene products
2. Household Bills - support towards energy bills, water, Council Tax, internet
3. Travel to enable you to engage in your studies - bus, rail cards, fuel costs
4. Community and wellbeing - University and Students' Union societies and clubs (sporting activities, gym, study groups, opportunities to build relationships with students on campus etc.)
5. Accommodation – rent or mortgage payments
6. Childcare - childcare costs

The Hardship Fund is to support short-term living costs only, we will not consider an award for students applying for funding to support their course tuition fees.

Terms and conditions

Eligibility

Below is a list of the full eligibility criteria for each element of the Hardship Fund. You must meet all conditions to be considered for an award:

- You are studying a full-time course or substantial part time* course.
- You are a registered undergraduate or postgraduate (including postgraduate research) student (home or overseas fee payer), including provisionally or conditionally registered, at the University of Essex for the current academic year 2023-24.
- International students who hold a student visa are required to have enough money to pay for their course and support themselves while they are studying in the UK. This is a requirement of the student visa. International students can apply to the Hardship Fund for support with one-off costs caused by an unexpected, exceptional change in circumstances that cannot be met from any other source. Examples of exceptional circumstances may include but are not limited to: emergency situations that necessitate flights home; unexpected and unforeseeable application fees for emergency visa extensions; and short-term costs relating to internationally recognised crises. All applications will be considered on a case-by-case.

- You made realistic provision for all course related costs, living costs and tuition fees, before registering for your course and before your course start date but are now in demonstrable need of short-term financial support because of an unexpected, exceptional change in financial circumstances.
- Your unexpected, exceptional change in financial circumstances must occur after registering for your course, after the course start date, and in the same academic year that you are applying for the fund.
- Your financial difficulty is short-term, and you have achievable and realistic plans to pay for all course related costs, tuition fees and living costs for the remainder of the academic year. The Hardship Fund should not be considered as a primary source of funding.
- You have accessed all funding opportunities and other forms of income available, including employment and welfare benefits that you may be entitled to. You have also accessed all personal savings available to you.
- If you are requesting support for childcare, your child/children must be aged 11 years or younger and the Childcare establishment(s) must be OFSTED registered. You may apply for a maximum of three children.

The Hardship Fund closing date is the 13th December 2024, however, please be aware that this date is subject to the availability of funds and the University reserves the right to bring forward these deadlines if necessary.

Can I combine this award with other awards?

The Hardship Fund can be held in conjunction with other University awards that you may receive. However, if applicable, please state in your application the name of any other funding or awards you are receiving, as this will be considered when your application is assessed.

Can I apply for the Hardship Fund more than once?

If you have experienced a different change in your circumstances since your previous application, you find yourself in short-term financial difficulty and you have not exceeded the maximum award limit for the living costs you are eligible for, you may re-apply for the Hardship Fund during the same academic year and your eligibility will be assessed as part of your new application.

If however, you have already received two awards during this academic year, you will be required to meet with a member of the Funding Team before your third application is considered.

Award suspension

The award will be suspended during a period of approved leave of absence, (unless you are intermitting due to medical reasons) where this period covers a whole or part of an academic year. On your return to study, you may reapply for the Hardship Fund if you believe that you meet the eligibility criteria and you have not exceeded the maximum amount awarded per academic year.

Award termination

If you withdraw from your studies, or are required to withdraw, no further scheduled payments will be made. Your award will be terminated if you cease to be registered as a student with the University, or for good cause at the discretion of the Student Services Manager, or their nominee for this purpose.

University of Essex reserves the right to recover funds where a Hardship Fund has been awarded under false pretence.

Appeals

You may appeal if you think you have valid grounds. Appeals will only be upheld if it is deemed that the Hardship Fund assessors' original decision would or should have been different, while taking into consideration the eligibility criteria above. Appeals that don't have valid grounds will be dismissed. The appeal will only consider your circumstances and evidence detailed in your initial application. If at the time of the appeal you find yourself in different circumstances or have new evidence, you will be asked to complete a new application and your change in circumstances and new evidence will be fully assessed.

Before appealing the decision of your Hardship Fund outcome, please read the eligibility criteria above first. If you still believe that you have valid grounds and meet all eligibility criteria, please detail your reasoning in an email to the Funding Team within 2 weeks of your outcome email.

Your appeal will be considered at the discretion of the Funding Manager or their nominee and you will receive an outcome within 2 weeks.

Resolution of disputes

Acceptance of this award constitutes acceptance of these terms and conditions. Registered students should contact the Funding Team in the first instance for guidance regarding this award. In cases not covered by the above terms and conditions, or where a student claims exceptional circumstances or disputes a decision not to make payments due under an award, final appeals on decisions regarding eligibility must be made via the Student Complaints process. The Academic Registrar or their nominee will review the case and their decision will be final.

These terms and conditions apply to the Hardship Fund awarded to students for the academic year 2023-24. The University of Essex reserves the right to update these terms and conditions as necessary.
